LABOR TRIBUNAL RULES JOHNSON VIOLATED NRA

Orders Him to Hire Donovan Again.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, head of the NRA, stood convicted tonight of having violated his own recovery laws.

The New Deal's labor tribunal, the national labor relations board, in a decision handed down tonight, declared that by discharging John L. Donovan, head of the NRA workers' union, on June 18, Gen. Johnson had acted contrary to section 7A of the NIRA.

Donovan's discharge was "a blow at legitimate union activity," and therefore was in violation of section 7A, the board declared. It ordered Johnson to reëmploy Donovan immediately as technical adviser to NRA's labor advisory board.

General Gets Lecture.

In sharp, stern language the board read the blustering general a lecture in living up to his own rules.

"When the NRA is engaged in compelling employers to observe strictly the provisions of section 7A it should, in dealing with its own employés, carry out the purposes of that section with even more scrupulous care than might be expected of ordinary employers," the board reminded its fellow New Dealer.

The board's decision was hailed here as of major importance. It was one of the first public spankings which the high handed general has received from an official body. Furthermore, it sent Johnson down in humilating defeat on what he had chosen to make a test case of his own actions and of his recovery laws.

Morally Bound to Accept.

Whether Johnson will abide by the board's decision and rehire Donovan was uncertain tonight. The general, however, had agreed to accept the board's findings and is morally bound to take back the man he has bitterly denounced.

Couched in measured language, the board's long decision traced the history of the Donovan case from the day that Donovan, as head of the union, went to Johnson's office to seek the reëmployment of a union worker who had been dropped by the NRA. When Donovan was told he could not see the general just then, there followed an uproar culminating in Donovan's dismissal.

The board swept aside Johnson's explanation that Donovan was fired for "insubordination and inefficiency." It summed up all evidence and found that Johnson's discharge of Donovan had been "an unjustified interference with his employés' right of self-organization."

Takes Section 7A as Base.

"In deciding this case we can adopt no other standard than that of Section 7A of the recovery act," the board said, measuring Johnson by his own law. "And we must consider the case as though we were dealing with an employer to whom section 7A applied."

"The board is confident," the decision added, with a twist of irony, "that, in any event, the NRA would not wish to be guided by any standard less exacting than that which applies to industry under the codes."

"If this case had involved an employer subject to section 7A," the decision said, once more stacking Johnson up against his own rules, "the board would have held, upon the facts submitted, that, whether intentionally or not, he had violated the provisions of section 7A and that by way of restitution the discharged employé should be reinstated."

Brushes Aside Charges.

The board brushed aside as unproved charges made by Johnson that after being discharged Donovan sought to interfere with the general's mediation in the Chicago stock yards strike and the San Francisco general strike.

One by one the board knocked over the defenses which the general had offered for his action in firing Donovan after the union protest meeting in Johnson's office on June 18.

"We are satisfied that, had it not been for the occurrences of June 18 Donovan would not have been discharged at that time and might never have been discharged," the board wrote. "If, then, the controling reason for Donovan's discharge was his conduct on June 18, did that conduct justify his discharge? We do not think so."

"It is clear that Gen. Johnson's action on the 18th," the board said, summing up the general's actions, "following upon his previous refusal to deal with Donovan except as an employé, must be considered in its effects, whatever the subjective intent, as a blow to legitimate union activities."

SPREAD GIANT NET FOR 12 WHO STOLE $427,000

Rob a Money Truck; Flee by Boat.

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Air and watercraft bearing the insignia of the police and coast guard services roared above and about New New York and New Jersey tonight in search of the speedboat in which the dozen machine gun bandits who executed the $427,000 holdup in Brooklyn today are believed to have made their escape.

Ashore squads of heavily armed police guarded all main highways leading out of the city, bridgeheads, ferry stations, and trafic tunnel entrances. Police radio cars scoured the city and state troopers the suburban highways. Telegraph and telephone alarms carried the search into nearby states. It was one of the greatest manhunts in criminal history, a fitting sequel to the holdup which rated as the largest cash robbery on record.

The daring "job" occurred shortly after noon when a gang of from seven to twelve bandits held up an armored truck in front of a Brooklyn ice plant, cowed 22 witnesses with submachine guns and made their escape with $427,000 in bills and silver.

Near a Police Station.

The spectacular and daring holdup occurred just three and a half blocks from a police station. The bandits waylaid the crew of three armed men in the armored truck as the machine drew up to pick up $450 for transfer to a bank.

Covering all in the vicinity with machine guns and revolvers, the bandits scooped the money bags out of the truck and sped off, leaving behind them $29,000 in cash and one of their own machine guns.

The armored truck dashed in pursuit, following one of the bandit cars for a short distance down Cropsey avenue. The disarmed crew sprayed a burst of bullets from the bandit machine gun after it, but apparently none of the shots took effect and the bandits easily made their escape.

The car into which the stolen money was loaded was abandoned at the water front just 19 blocks away; three of the bandits transferred to two speed boats which had been waiting there and headed at high speed out into Gravesend bay.

Blamed for Other Big "Jobs."

The crime, police believed, apparently was planned and executed by the same gang who earlier this year robbed a Penns Grove, N. J., bank of $130,000, and a Prudential Savings bank branch in the Flatlands district of Brooklyn of $23,084.

The sangfroid and brazenness which characterized the actions of the bandits, and the evidence of careful planning and organization, made police believe that the head of the gang must be another criminal leader of the caliber of Gerald Chapman or Richard Reese Whittemore.

The bandits moved on to the somewhat drab stage of the robbery as if they were taking cues in a theater. The first one, according to testimony given by police, appeared as early as 9 o'clock in the morning.

Dressed in character—shabby clothes, a white apron, and a stubble of beard—the man trundled a three wheeled pushcart down Bay 19th street. In the cart were some burlap bags; the man vaguely resembled an itinerant ice cream vendor or possibly a "cellar man," a retail ice dealer. But he did not stop to sell anything to the children playing in front of the block of six houses which adjoins the Rubel plant; he passed the big structure of the Reliable Fireproof warehouse, diagonally across the street, and parked his pushcart by an unused corner of the wooden loading bridge outside the plant.

Child Tries to Buy Ice Cream.

It was a pleasant morning. Just a block and half away the waters of Gravesend bay at the foot of Bay 19th street shimmered in the sunlight. The man in the white apron left his pushcart, after rudely repelling with a "dirty look" a neighborhood child who tried to buy some ice cream from him, and walked across the street to the edge of the Bay 19th street tennis courts.

There are five courts there, under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn Bannister, tennis professional. Mrs. Bannister saw the man; he lay down on the grass strip outside the wire fence bounding the courts shortly after 9 o'clock and lolled there for more than two hours while Mrs. Bannister gave a tennis lesson. She took it for granted, as did others in the neighborhood, that the man in the white apron was a

U. S. Agents Confer with Bus Strikers

Federal labor conciliators continued their investigation yesterday of the strike against the Chicago Motor Coach company without, however, getting to the point where a solution of the controversy seemed probable.

In the meantime, on the sixth day of the strike, the company continued to maintain its regular bus schedules. Nothing further was done in the direction of a sympathetic strike by surface lines and elevated employés, who, with the striking bus employés, are affiliated with the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employés of America.

The two department of labor conciliators assigned to the strike, Hugh D. Friel and Harry E. Scheck, held their second conference yesterday with Ralph Stoltzmann, president of local 1022, the bus organization; William Levine, attorney for the union, and William Taber, international secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated.

Would See Ritchie Today.

After a three hour discussion the federal representatives said that they would seek another conference today with John A. Ritchie, president of the coach company. After their first conference with Mr. Ritchie on Monday they left commenting that the two parties to the strike were "as far apart as the poles."

The union, whose principal demands are recognition by the company and reinstatement of 24 of its members who charge that they were fired by the coach company because of their union activities, claims to represent more than half of the company's employés.

Mr. Ritchie contends, however, that the maximum membership of the union is 67 men out of 1,260 company employés, and that 95 per cent of the company's help wishes to be represented by the Chicago Motor Coach fraternity, a company union, and not by local No. 1022, an American Federation of Labor organization.

Delay Action in Detroit.

The company denies that the 24 union members were discharged for union activities, asserting that they were fired for inefficiency and violation of safety regulations, and that some of them did not join the union until after their discharge. In line with this stand, Mr. Ritchie holds that there is nothing for the federal conciliators to arbitrate.

The executive board of the Amalgamated association continued its semiannual meeting at Detroit yesterday without taking action on a sympathetic strike of surface lines and "L" employés. John Bruce, president of the "L" men's union, asked the board Monday to authorize such strike.

If the street car union makes a similar request it will probably be made through Mr. Taber. He was engaged most of yesterday with the federal conciliators here, but he left last night for Detroit.

Sympathy Strike Doubtful.

William D. Mahon, international president, said at Detroit yesterday that no action would be taken on the matter before today. This was interpreted to mean that the executive board was waiting to hear from Mr. Taber.

Even if it should authorize the sympathetic strike, it was pointed out yesterday, the action would not mean an immediate walkout and paralysis of the city's local transportation system. Under their usual procedure both the "L" and surface lines union officials would assemble their local membership and put the proposal to a vote before calling any strike.

No word came from Washington yesterday regarding President Roosevelt's action relative to recall of the bus company's Blue Eagle. The national labor relations board recommended several weeks ago to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, that the Eagle be revoked because of the company's refusal to reinstate the discharged unionists.

PEASANT MOTHER OF 21 WINS HUNGARY'S LARGE FAMILY PRIZE

BUDAPEST, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Antal Krammer, a peasant living near Budapest, today was awarded the government's prize for having more children than any other mother in Hungary.

Mrs. Krammer, who is only 48 years old, now has 21 children. She was married at 16. For her championship, Mrs. Krammer received a state prize of approximately $21. In addition, the city of Budapest conferred a gold medal upon her, and various associations and individuals gave her presents.

Gold medals were awarded 6,000 other Hungarian mothers, who, combined, have a total of 80,000 children—an average of 13 1-3 children each. This is proof, said Hungarian authorities, that Hungarian parents are the most prolific in the world.

Nazis to Give Doomed Gun or Poison Cup

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 21. — The death penalty is an absolute necessity to keep up law and order, but in certain cases criminals may be allowed to commit suicide by shooting themselves or swallowing the poison cup, H. Rietsch, a high official of the Prussian ministry of justice, declared today.

He was reporting on the work of a committee preparing the Nazification of the German penal code for the "elimination of those parts which are not German, being influenced by Roman law."

Execution by Ax.

Most of the death sentences will be carried out with an ax, the executioner chopping off the head of the criminal, while execution by firing squads is "reserved only for times of emergency and courts martial."

Dueling will be permitted in principle, by the new German code, as a "dignified way to settle a dispute between men."

Prisoners will be made to feel the full severity of their punishment under the new code.

"The short termers often regard imprisonment as recreation rather than punishment," Rietsch asserts.

Harder Cots, Less Food.

The new code provides for solitary confinement without light, with harder cots, reduced food rations, reduced pay for prison work and harder work.

The committee rejected the proposed corporal punishment. It recommended forced labor in the open air for those sentenced to penal servitude. These convicts automatically lose their civic rights and in serious cases the criminal may be outlawed for life because "his honor is dead."

1 Drowned, 30 Hurt When Atlantic Gale Hits Liner

GLASGOW, Scotland, Aug. 21.—(AP)—More than thirty passengers were injured and one seaman was washed overboard and drowned when a terrific gale struck the liner Cameronia in mid-Atlantic, it was learned on the ship's arrival at Clyde today. Passengers said waves sixty feet high broke against the Anchor liner, which sailed from Boston Aug. 12 and from New York the previous day. Penn State football team members who were aboard escaped injury.

Truck Drivers' Strike Ends in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The strike of Minneapolis truck drivers ended tonight. At the same time martial law was ordered lifted from the city. The drivers will return to work at 7 a. m. tomorrow as martial law ends.

The settlement came just five weeks after the truck strike began. Announcement of the ending of the long controversy was made near midnight as the rank and file of the drivers' union voted to accept proposals drawn up by P. A. Donoghue, representative of the national labor relations board.

These terms had been acted upon earlier in the evening by more than 200 representatives of the 166 establishments involved in the strike. They represented compromises by both sides.

Strike Costs Four Lives.

Cheers of union men leaving the massmeeting which began at 8 p. m. first signalled the end of the strike, which cost four lives and made Minneapolis a militia guarded city.

The two groups ended the strike by agreeing to the terms of a consent order to be issued at once by the Minneapolis-St. Paul regional labor board. The board has been called to meet at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow by Neil M. Cronin, chairman, to issue the order as authorized by employers and employés and to confer with the federal mediators regarding elections to be held later to determine employé representation.

Citizens of the city, roused from their beds as newsboys cried the news from the streets, were equally joyful as they read the first brief bulletins in extras.

Basis of Settlement.

The basis on which the drivers will return to their jobs this morning are:

1. Immediate termination of all strike activities.

2. Reinstatement of all employés on the basis of seniority and without discrimination.

3. Within 10 days an election shall be held in each of the 166 firms to determine representation of employés. The elections shall be by secret ballot and be under the supervision of the regional labor board.

4. Representatives chosen by the majority shall bargain for all employés eligible to vote. Each employer shall deal with such representatives for purposes of collective bargaining.

Includes Inside Workers.

The terms to which both sides agreed included the concession of employers that the settlement apply to so-called inside workers in the 22 markets firms, which have been the center of the major dispute. For the other 144 firms the provisions cover only drivers, helpers, and platform workers directly engaged in the loading or unloading of trucks. The "inside" workers include men working in such occupations as elevator operators and chicken pickers.

Other parts of the peace terms included that no employer shall discriminate against any employé because he is a member of the drivers' union. Each of the 166 concerns pledges itself to pay for at least one year not less than 50 cents an hour to drivers and 40 cents to helpers, platform men, and inside workers, these wages to remain in effect unless changed by agreement or arbitration.

The cost of the strike to Minneapolis, estimated at a million or more dollars a week in direct and indirect losses, temporarily was forgotten as the end came.

ATTENDS RITES FOR SPEAKER IN ILLINOIS TODAY

Carrollton Ready for Ceremonies.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Flags above the White House, the capitol and all other public buildings waved at half staf today under an executive order issued by President Roosevelt before he left at 6 p. m. for Carrollton, Ill., to attend the funeral of Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

Thousands of messages of condolence were sent to the Rainey home, Walnut Hall, and hundreds of others were received at the speaker's chambers in the house office building. Foreign governments expressed their condolences in a series of messages to Secretary of State Hull. Many colleagues of the veteran house leader called in person and left their cards at the offices, where Maj. William T. Roy, assistant house parliamentarian, was in charge. The office force placed a floral wreath on the speaker's dais in the house of representatives and laid the dead leader's favorite gavel beside it.

Trip Is Solemn One.

The President's trip to Carrollton was to be a solemn one, with no stops en route going or returning. No delegations were to be received and the President was to make no appearances, in marked contrast to his recent trip across the country from Portland, Ore.

The President had planned to proceed directly to Hyde Park, N. Y., for a vacation after the Rainey funeral, but decided today to return to Washington immediately after the services, arriving here late Thursday. He will go to Hyde Park for the establishment of the summer White House Saturday. In making this trip and paying his respects to Speaker Rainey President Roosevelt is following a precedent set by former President Hoover, who attended the funeral services for the late Nicholas Longworth in Cincinnati in 1931. The only other speaker who died in office was M. C. Kerr of Indiana in 1876.

The death of Speaker Rainey, who had served in the house since 1902 with the exception of two years following the Harding landslide in 1920, leaves Representative Adolph J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.] as dean of the house. Sabath has been in congress continuously since 1907, fourteen consecutive terms, 28 years.

McDuffie Out of Race.

One of the strong contenders for the succession to the speakership was removed today with the announcement of John McDuffie of Alabama that he would not be a candidate. McDuffie said he would throw his support to Representative William B. Bankhead, also of Alabama, who once withdrew in support of McDuffie in a race for the speakership.

"Bankhead supported me when I sought the position and I now throw all my support to him," McDuffie announced.

However, Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, house leader and chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, is still regarded as the most likely choice of the membership.

Prepare for Funeral.

Carrollton, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—In deep mourning over the death of its most illustrious son, Carrollton today awaited the arrival from St. Louis of the body of Speaker Henry T. Rainey and prepared to receive President Roosevelt and other dignitaries at the funeral tomorrow afternoon.

Flags were flown at half staf throughout the city and similar respect will be shown tomorrow by the lowering of flags on all federal buildings in the state in accordance with an executive order of President Roosevelt.

The Greene county courthouse was draped with flags and bunting. The speaker's body will lie in state there upon his arrival in the morning from St. Louis, where he died Sunday night.

All the business houses around the courthouse square will be closed for the funeral. The mayors of other municipalities in the county issued a joint proclamation for the cessation of business activities during the funeral hours.

Town Expects Crowd.

This rural county seat of 2,000 population, which has been the home of several Democratic politicians, will be crowded tomorrow when scores of state and national figures assemble at Mr. Rainey's bier along with the voters from the Twentieth Illinois district who affectionately knew him as "Henry T."

Included among those who have signified their intention of attending the rites are the presidential party, the Illinois congressmen, an honorary committee from the national house of representatives, Gov. Horner, and other officials from Springfield.

One of the mourners already on the scene today was Chief Justice Norman L. Jones of the Illinois Supreme court, former law partner of the speaker and Democratic nominee for governor ten years ago. His name and that of Jones will be on highway signs at the city limits tomorrow to remind the crowds that Carrollton is the home of those two personages.

Body Will Lie in State.

The body of the late speaker, who missed only one term in congress since 1903 and rose to the speakership with the Roosevelt administration, will lie in state in the courthouse from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. tomorrow. American Legionnaires will stand solemn guard.

The funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. at the Walnut Hall estate just east of Carrollton which the speaker loved so well and where he spent many of his 74 years. The presidential train is expected to arrive only shortly before the services begin. The Episcopal funeral ritual will be read by Bishop John Chandler White of Springfield.

Active pallbearers will be old friends and neighbors. They include Stuart E. Pierson, former director of agriculture under Gov. Emmerson; Sid Simpson, auto dealer; L. A. Mehrhoff, attorney; William Hubbard, federal land bank appraiser; Brace Fain, a neighbor, and John A. Eldred, bank president.

Democratic officials had hoped they could prevail upon President Roosevelt to go to Springfield Thursday to speak at their Governor's day rally at the Illinois state fair. However, it was not deemed likely that the President would stop over.

View Body at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—After being on view here from 5 to 11 o'clock tonight, the body of Speaker Henry T. Rainey will be taken to Carrollton, Ill., tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Rainey, who was at home in Carrollton when her husband died here Sunday night, is expected to come here and accompany the body home. The cortege will have a police escort for the trip to Carrollton.

FUSION TICKET FOR TENNESSEE PLEDGES FIGHT

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 21—(AP)—The losing faction of the Tennessee Democrats in the bitterly fought August gubernatorial primary clasped hands with the state Republican organization today. They joined a fusion movement against the Democratic nominees for governor and full term United States senator.

Lewis S. Pope, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was selected by acclamation as the nominee of the "straight Democratic convention," an organization of his supporters, and will oppose Gov. Hill McAlister, the regular Democratic nominee, in the November election.

The convention, attended by several thousand persons, indorsed the senatorial candidacy of "that great Tennesseean and matchless and progressive leader." Ben W. Hooper, a Republican, who in 1910 and again in 1912 was elected governor of the state with the support of one wing of the Democratic party. Hooper will run against the veteran Senator K. D. McKellar.

CARTER IN LEAD IN U. S. SENATOR RACE IN WYOMING

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Strength for Congressman Vincent Carter, seeking the Republican nomination for United States senator, for A. M. Clark, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in a four way race, and for Gov. Leslie A. Miller, seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, was shown in early sacttered and inconclusive returns tonight in the Wyoming primary.

From 21 precincts out of 660 in the state Carter had garnered 376 votes for the long senatorial term, compared to 178 for J. Elmer Brock, Kaycee stockman; 63 for Judge Harry P. Ilsley, and 17 for M. A. Underwood of Rochelle.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the long term in the United States senate, had 141 votes in 20 precincts.

ROB COFFEE FIRM OF $365.

Three employés and two customers of E. B. Miller and company, 426 West Grand avenue, wholesale tea and coffee firm, were compelled to lie on the floor when three armed men entered the second floor office yesterday and took $365 from them.

DICKINSON LAYS LABOR DISORDERS TO NEW DEALERS

Blames Trade Stagnancy on Lack of Confidence.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

SEN. DICKINSON.

Brain Trust experiments are stifling business recovery and NRA has proved one of the greatest breeding grounds of strikes and labor unrest in history, Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa declared last night, in a radio address from Chicago. He is western chairman of the Republican senatorial committee.

In an indictment of the New Deal, he set forth that all the billions so far spent on the schemes of the professoriat have not served to "prime the pump," that business is still stalled because of lack of confidence, that the AAA has sent agriculture into a tailspin and that the much vaunted price parity for the farmer has not been restored.

In place of analyzing shortcomings of the New Deal he remarked that the government has been tossing a "ballyhoo" of promises of bigger and more costly Christmas gifts to be knocked off the easy money tree by Santa Claus, and the time is ripe for the people to demand an accounting.

Raps Power Dream in Maine.

Senator Dickinson, who is western chairman of the Republican senatorial committee, returned during the day from Maine, where, he said, a hydro-electric power dream of harnessing the tidal waters of Passamaquoddy bay, Maine, financed by PWA money, is being dangled by the New Dealers as "bait for the voters" in the Maine elections Sept. 10.

With Maine rapidly drifting away from the New Deal, the Iowa senator said, political opinion is that the Passamaquoddy bay plan for generating electrical power by holding back the 25 foot tidal waters and forcing the flow through turbines is now being inspected with the view of how it might affect vote power as well as horse-power. The project was proposed long ago and found to be unsound, he said, and more recently again has been termed an impractical venture by engineers.

"If the Passamaquoddy project should be knocked off the Christmas tree just before election day, the feeling in Maine is that it would be a last minute effort of the Brain Trust to help the Democrats," he said.

The people are discerning that the theories of the New Deal have been tried centuries ago and failed, and the traditional barometer state, he feels certain, will reëlect Senator Frederick Hale, a staunch Republican, and return Republicans to the house to fill the two seats lost to Democrats two years ago.

Blames New Deal for Disorders.

The general strike in San Francisco, the Chicago stockyards strike, the troubles at the Kohler plant in Wisconsin and in the copper mines of Montana, were laid on the doorstep of the New Deal and the NRA by Dickinson in his night radio address.

"Since July 1, 1933," he said, "there have been about 5,000 serious labor disputes and more than 1,500 strikes, many of them resulting in bloodshed. Within the last six months the military forces of the states have been called out more frequently than during the last 15 years.

"Verily, the NRA has worked magic in creating labor unrest.

"You recall the old quip that along about April the Christmas jewelry begins to turn green. The New Deal Christmas gifts of a year ago are beginning to turn green. It is eminently proper that the American people demand an accounting of this administration and assure those in authority we are no longer satisfied with the ballyhoo about bigger and better Christmas gifts in the future; that the demand for explanation cannot be stilled by the Democratic slogan that people do not shoot Santa Claus.

"Santa Gives, but Papa Pays."

"Santa Clause may appear to give, but in the end father pays the bill."

The retarding of recovery by the Brain Trust "isms" was taken up by Mr. Dickinson.

"The workman," he said, "who says the New Deal has helped him seems to have little thought of whether or not his job is a permanent job, or whether the government will have to assure him substance on account of a closed factory.

"To date the government has not been able to prime the pump and put industry into motion. This is due to fear and lack of confidence in the present-day program.

"No explanation has been given the farmer as to how you can reconcile crop curtailment with the possibility of drouth, or with added irrigated acreage to produce more crops.

"Before the NRA and the AAA we had every promise of a revival of normal economic conditions. The advance from March 4, 1933, to July of that year was marked. It equaled the economic improvement in any other country in the world.

"Upon the passage of the relief legislation, including the NRA to hobble industry and the AAA to regiment the farmer, and the debasement of the dollar according to the theory of the brain trust, we find a disappearance of confidence and a continual decline in economic conditions from that day to this.

Farmer's Price Parity Missing.

"The prediction is freely made that this will be the most serious winter the country has ever known. Yet we find no explanation as to why parity price for the farmer has not been restored. As a matter of fact, there has been no improvement in his price parity.

"As long as the theory is adopted that you can settle all disputes by conference and that the government is going to act as the sole referee conditions will continue to be chaotic and normalcy cannot be restored.

"The further failure of the New Deal can be suggested by reason of the activities under the new laws providing for financial assistance. Regardless of the amended provisions of the federal reserve act no material amount of money has been loaned to industry. Industry is not taking the bait. Under the provisions of the RFC no large amount of loans have been made to business. Business does not want to expand under existing conditions.

"There can be but one conclusion—that is that America, by reason of these untried experiments, is being retarded in its recovery, while England and Canada and other nations without New Deal legislation are proceeding to work themselves back to normalcy."

Senator Dickinson reviewed the trip of President Roosevelt from Portland, Ore., to Washington, D. C., and spoke of the "failure to discuss conditions."

Democratic county candidates at a meeting yesterday announced plans for a Democratic county convention, aimed to fill the Stadium, Sept. 28. Postmaster General James A. Farley is to be guest and principal speaker.

ROOSEVELT CHIDED BY DU PONT FOR HIS TOOTH-CLAW SPEECH

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt was chided today by Lammot du Pont, president or the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., for suggesting that the withdrawal of governmental supervision over business would mean that the "old law of the tooth and the claw would reign once more."

In a letter to the Wilmington Evening Journal Mr. du Pont said the President in his comment must have referred to the days before enactment of the Sherman anti-trust law, when immigration of laboring classes from Europe was at its height. In view of the President's statement Mr. du Pont suggested that the workers came over here "because they liked the 'tooth and claw' business."

He advocated the treatment of business just as an individual is treated, "no better, no worse."

G. O. P. ORATORS PREACH CRUSADE FOR OLD RIGHTS

Brooks Cites Lincoln Against New Deal.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

MILTON E. JONES.

Fairfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Challenging citizens of Illinois to join them in a crusade to return constitutional government to the United States, C. Wayland Brooks and Milton E. Jones, Republican candidates for congressmen-at-large, carried the Republican state campaign into southern counties today, speaking at Flora, Fairfield, McLeansboro, and Harrisburg.

This is a new kind of campaign in Illinois. There is no ringing denunciation of opposing candidates, but an appeal to sentiments and reason that might be an echo of words uttered at the foundation of the republic. It is the appeal of a young ex-soldier and former prosecutor in Chicago and that of an expert in soil and cattle and farm problems, to send them to congress to help stop the destruction of constitutional government.

Asks People's Desires.

The question turns on what kind of government the people want, what they have had, and how this came about. Attendance at the meetings the first of the fall campaign show a rising interest in the situation. The word "freedom" is heard again in the old circuit where Lincoln rode, years before the star of his destiny was seen. It is a new kind of human problem, with another moon shining down upon new scenes, the same old elms and shrill locusts, by the lazy waters of the same old Illinois rivers.

At the Flora meeting, which filled the theater, Mr. Brooks paid a tribute to the memory of Speaker Henry T. Rainey, whose body lies under the Carrollton elms not far away.

Calls Rainey Loyal Citizen.

"He was a loyal son of Illinois," said Mr. Brooks. "His passing has focused the attention of the nation on Illinois. Our President is coming tomorrow to pay tribute to this son of Illinois. We can well afford to pause a moment and appreciate the kind of government that allows a humble man to rise to preside over the greatest legislative body on earth.

"There is no divine right to rule in this country as yet," said Mr. Brooks to his audience. "There is nothing holy about the Republican party either. That storm that swept men into office two years ago, added to the spending of billions, added to the creation of 90,000 federal employés outside civil service, is going to take a terrific force to meet, if it is met at all.

Preaches New Crusade.

"It will take almost a crusade. It is a vital concern that you send Republicans to congress who will take off gag rule.

"We are taking the American way of meeting and considering the future of our government. We are still free to do these things, while in Europe political differences are punished by death.

"What would Lincoln think of all these foolish New Deal policies if he were here? His problem was that of giving freedom to men sold in chattel slavery and in cementing the Union. Now the United States are united; the fundamental problem is how it shall proceed tomorrow. It is not a Republican or Democratic problem, but a question of fundamental principle of government. Many will break the bonds of partisanship at the coming election.

Doubt Clouds Future.

"We face the most stupendous public spending the world has ever seen. We see changes in the rules of our government fast coming on. Hearts are heavy and the future is uncertain. This is the course we must decide.

"Our country and government were no accident, but a culmination of the struggle of centuries.

"It has three principles. The first is the guarantee of the rights of the citizen against the oppression of the state. The second is dual control, making the states sovereign in their field and limiting the power of the federal government. The third is the division of the federal power into three groups.

Attacks Subservient Congress.

"We have seen a subservient congress under gag rule pass a three billion dollar spending bill that one-half of the members never saw. The Republican leader had to beg for time to read the bill. We have seen that money turned over to one man to be spent under a new theory of social reform. That is the thing that must be slowed up.

"A debt of $100 for every man, woman and child in Illinois was appropriated by the last congress. In Illinois you people pay in the processing tax for cotton $7,800,000 this year. That comes out of the poor man who can't afford silks and woolens.

President Taxes People.

"The last congress turned over to the President and the secretary of agriculture the power to levy taxes. Centralized power of that kind will destroy the freedom and the rights of the common man. This is not the true way of happiness. We can provide jobs, free the poor and help the farmer without destroying the constitution of the United States. Let us cling to that now while there is still time."

Although in territory where all officeholders are Democrats, the Republican rally drew a good crowd at Effingham last evening. They remained to the last. Ben Sumner of Lawrenceville, candidate for congress from the 23d district, a seat held for six terms by William W. Arnold, was one of the speakers. He said he was opposed to taking the money of Illinois farmers for great irrigation projects in the west which would bring more land into cultivation and more crops when land was lying idle in Illinois.

ICKES' PWA FUND SNUB IS ISSUE IN CONGRESS RACE

Discrimination Blamed on Politics by De Priest.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

An issue over the New Deal's attitude toward the distribution of federal "easy money" as it affects Chicago is looming up in the fight over the election of a congressman to represent the First district on the south side. The issue centers around Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, head of the government's huge spending agency the Public Works Administration.

The two candidates are Congressman Oscar De Priest, an avowed "rock-ribbed Republican" completing his third term, and Arthur W. Mitchell, Democrat, who declares that he is "a New Dealer all the way." The district, stretching along the lake shore from the Chicago river to 43d street has 140,000 voters, 65 per cent of whom are colored. Both candidates are colored.

De Priest Pledges Fight.

Congressman De Priest asserted that, if reëlected, he would aid in a fight on the floor of the house of representatives for an explanation of why Chicago was not obtaining its "just share" of PWA funds. He said that Chicago projects had been "consigned to limbo in Washington while people are crying for employment."

Examples of this discrimination, the congressman declared, were the proposed loans of $7,000,000 for the outer drive bridge, which would provide employment for an estimated 3,000 men; $22,400,000 for a water filtration plant, providing jobs for 4,500, and $8,600,000 for the lake front airport, with an unestimated employment figure.

Funds for the bridge originally were set aside, but were withdrawn by Ickes on July 19. The PWA chief maintained that the bonds offered as security did not warant an advance of federal cash.

Blames Politics Alone.

"There's only one reason for this discrimination against Chicago and that's politics," said De Priest. "You would think that Ickes would have a more sympathetic attitude toward Chicago since he once was a Chicagoan.

"I know why Ickes said he was recalling funds for the outer drive bridge, but I don't know the real reason for it. If the reports are true that Ickes and the present city administration are going to have a fight then that might be the reason.

"I'm for anything that will help Chicago. I'm against any deal, new or old that 'monkeys' with the constitution written by our forefathers."

Mitchell Backs New Deal.

Candidate Mitchell, on the other hand, said that he was "strictly" a New Dealer and had known and believed in the President since the latter was assistant secretary of the navy.

"So far as I know there has been no discrimination against our city in the allotment of federal funds," said Mitchell. "I think that any little faults that have cropped up in the national administration have been magnified many times over for political purposes."

Backed by the regular Democratic organization, Mitchell said that he had heard the report that Ickes was unfriendly toward the local administration but did not believe it to be true.

CATHOLICS FEAR RESULT OF NEW NAZI ATTACKS

Christianity a Crime, Says Youths' Paper.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—(AP)—An outbreak of anti-Christian propaganda from Nazi sources today stirred deeper the troubled church situation in Germany, causing apprehension on the part of Catholics and some Protestant groups. Despite Chancellor Hitler's acknowledgment of "positive Christianity" in Hamburg recently, there were indications of a greater tension.

The anti-Christian movement was stressed in a pronouncement of August Hoppe, of the Hitler youth press department, published in the periodical Nordland.

"The time has come," he wrote, "to take up the fight against Christianity. Germans must and shall realize that their conversion to Christianity was a crime against the race and the people which put them completely at the mercy of powers outside the state."

Conflicts with Promise.

The Catholic publication Kirchenblatt asked "the responsible authorities of the state how these utterances of Hitler youth authorities can possibly be reconciled with assurances of positive Christianity recently emphasized by an authoritative voice."

The Vatican has not yet ratified the new interpretation of the concordat between Germany and the church, indicating a state of strife.

Some felt that the death of President Paul von Hindenburg had removed a check on the church policies of the ruling party. The late president, it was recalled, admonished Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller to "see to it that Christ is preached."

The reichsbishop, now in complete control of the state churches, has announced a drive to "cover every city and county from autumn to spring." The Protestant opposition, which has adopted a policy of "watchful waiting" nevertheless expects to win out in the long run.

Local Votes on Concordat.

The Catholics, meanwhile, are continuing their fight to keep Catholic youth under the church, and bishops have been given permission, it was learned, to ratify locally provisions of the concordat.

Some of the opposition religious groups fear that Dr. Mueller's final objective may be an all-inclusive national church, and significance is seen that both Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Paganist leader, and the German Christian reichsbishop enjoy Hitler's confidence.

Hoppe's plea called upon Germans to "liberate yourselves from the cultures of alien priests who want to make you the booty of the Jews.

"Discard the last messages of Christian training," he urged, "abandon the Jewish-Christian conception of sin, pity, and loving the enemy."

He called upon youth to be hard, saying, "Pity and mercy be damned. Praise that which steels. Christianity's totality claim is a thing of the past."

Another cause of some apprehension was the suggestion of the newspaper owned by Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels that the Nazi party "will now pay increased attention" to the Catholic regions where there was a comparatively heavy "no" vote in Sunday's plebiscite.

Campaign to Annex Saar.

Nazi athletes were running about all over Germany today in an effort to help the government propaganda steam roller smooth out the road for a return of the Saar region to Germany. The residents of the Saar will vote Jan. 13, 1935, as to whether they wish to remain under the control of the league of nations or become citizens of either France or Germany.

The athletes, numbering 170,000, raced from various parts of Germany carrying messages of fidelity to Coblenz where a monster Saar meeting is scheduled for Sunday. The first group reached the late President Von Hindenburg's shrine at Tannenberg last night and held a memorial service. Then the runners ran on all through the night to Danzig where they boarded sailboats for Pomerania, avoiding Pomorze, that section of Poland which reaches up to the Baltic sea.

Nine other races are starting today and tomorrow, including one from Chancellor Hitler's mountain home of Obersalzburg and others from the Danish border. Hitler himself is expected to go to Coblenz.

Cardinal Defends Jews.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic agency says a speech by Michael Cardinal Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich, in which he denounced the Nazi policy of opposition to Jews, has been disclosed.

"No Catholic ever agreed to the persecution of the Jews in Germany," the agency reported Cardinal Faulhaber as saying, and "God always punishes the persecutors of the Jews."

The speech, the agency said, was suppressed by Nazis and the propaganda ministry forbade German papers to quote it.

"Persecution will never eradicate the ancient Jewish people," Cardinal Faulhaber was reported as saying, "which has been suffering and which always suffers because of its deep devotion to religion.

"Let us Catholics take an example from the Jews and honor them because they gave the world the best gift, which is the Bible. Catholics, educate your brothers that racial hatred is the wildest poison in our life."

PRINCE OF WALES AND U. S. WOMAN STIR BIARRITZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 21.—The fashionable crowd at Biarritz is talking of nothing but the prince of Wales and the mysterious American woman who is his constant companion, but so far no one has been able to get close enough to learn the identity of the woman, who is known only as Mrs. Simpson.

So determined is the heir to the British throne and his small circle to avoid contact with the rest of the gay society of Biarritz that a special gangway leading to the swimming pool has been built for them. At the golf course, where the prince and Mrs. Simpson play daily, great precautions are taken to keep away the curious. At the famous Bar Basque, where they have a daily aperitif, their table in a secluded corner is always reserved.

RESTORE TARA AS IRISH CAPITAL, BLUE SHIRT PLEA

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 21.—(AP)—A recommendation that the Irish Free State turn the clock back hundreds of years in restoring, at least symbolically, the city of Tara, county Meath, to its ancient position as capital of the Irish nation, was passed at the recent conference here of Gen. Owen O'Duffy's blue shirts. This was revealed today with formal publication of the United Ireland parleys resolutions. Tara, revered city of Irish history, is the site of the famous "hill of Tara," and also the reputed location of Ireland's "stone of destiny."

Pursuing its recommendation to farmers that they refuse to pay land tax annuities, for which refusal the government has been seizing their cattle, the conference invited the government to establish a tribunal of inquiry into farmers' grievances, failing which the latter is called upon to cease demanding annuities.

TONY SELLS CANDY STORE, BUT, ALAS, IT COMES RIGHT BACK

Tony Gattuso sold his candy store. That's what he thought.

Tony said he would dispose of the store, which stands at 1609 Grand avenue, for $250, and an affable stranger gave him a check for $125 as a down payment.

That called for a trip around the corner as celebration, and Tony took it, leaving the new boss to meet his customers, and be introduced by the clerk, Miss Agnes Hubziak.

Eventually, Tony returned. He found that the new boss was gone. So was $29 in cash. So were two pounds of the best candy. Tony conceived the idea of calling the Farmers Exchange Bank of Union City, Tenn., on which the $125 check was drawn.

The check, he learned, was fraudulent.

Tony was grief-stricken, but concluded nothing more could happen.

Then the telephone rang.

"That phone call to Union City," the operator said, "will be $2.70."

Former Mrs. Rachel Munger Plans to Remain in Reno

Reno, Nev., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Rachel Lynch Clews Munger, wealthy New York society heiress who obtained a divorce from John Elliott Munger, youthful explorer, at a private trial here yesterday, plans to remain in Reno "indefinitly," her attorneys said today. Mrs. Munger, a descendant of the founder of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, won the decree on grounds of mental cruelty.

The couple was attended by Al St. John, stage comedian and Mrs. St. John.

TWO GIRLS PLAN TO BEGIN RECORD FLIGHT TODAY

Jean La Rene and Mary Owens, both Texas flyers, are scheduled to take off from Curtiss-Reynolds airpart near Glenview at noon today in an attempt to set a new world's and women's records for refueling endurance flight. The attempt will be made in the Lone Star, a specially equipped Curtiss Thrush high wing cabin monoplane powered with a 225 Wright J-67 motor.

The refueling ship will be flown by Kenneth Hunter, one of the quartet of brothers from Sparta, Ill., who set a world's record in 1930 over the same airport. The flight has been delayed until special tanks and pumps could be installed in the refueling ship, which is a Stinson Jr. cabin monoplane powered with a 225 Lycoming motor.

The attempt is a private venture financed solely by the two girls, Hunter, and Leo Sauerborn, who will be in charge of ground operations for the flight. Sauerborn said yesterday that the weather bureau forecasters had predicted that they will have nearly a month of fine weather in which to set new records if the motor of the Lone Star functions properly.

German Waiters Give Up Frock Coat Plan; No Cloth

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—Because of the shortage of cloth caused by a lack of exchange for the purchase of cotton and wool, an order issued by the waiters' league providing that every waiter should obtain a frock coat has been rescinded. The idea was evolved to increase employment in the textile industry. Berlin's tailors complain that they are receiving only a third of the cloth which they need for the winter trade.

JEWS URGED TO DOUBLE BOYCOTT ON NAZI GOODS

Reject All Peace Offers, Rabbi Wise Advises.

GENEVA, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Bolstered by the advice of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York to reject all peace offers from Nazi Germany, the boycott commission of the third world Jewish conference issued a communique tonight declaring the boycott will be redoubled until German Jews get back all their rights of citizenship.

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE.

The communique asked for the formation of an international center which would direct all action of world Jewry against discrimination and the creation of a central office of propaganda to encourage a boycott against German merchandise.

Must Cease Persecution.

Rabbi Wise told the Jewish conference that the boycott will not be abandoned until the régime of Adolf Hitler cancels every law or practice "violating human freedom, political equality, and the ideals of civilization."

After steering committee representatives of the United States, England, Poland, and Egypt had reported upon the status of the Jewish boycott a proposal was introduced that the conference should appoint a world committee to supervise the boycott in a world-wide sense and assure its coordination.

There was a subsidiary proposal that Jews in all countries should strive to secure the manufactured production at home of all commodities which previously have been imported from Germany. The proposal will be examined tomorrow at private meetings.

Answer of Leaderless Masses.

Urging Jews throughout the world to stand together in the present crisis, Rabbi Wise asserted that the boycott, which he insisted could not be halted "by supercautious bodies in London or New York," was the spontaneous answer of the leaderless Jewish masses to the actions of Hitlerism.

"I cannot believe," he said, "in the seriousness of the warning or threat" that the Jews of Palestine will not support the projected Jewish world conference if the present conference fails to approve their negotiations with the Nazi government.

"To die at the hands of Nazism is cruel; to survive by its grace would be ten thousand times worse."

Regarding the Palestine negotiations with the Nazis, he said, "this trafficking of Jewish Palestine with Nazi Germany must cease at once. There is something worse than entering Zion with bowed heads and that is with unclean hands!"

70,000 Leave Germany.

Earlier in the day an exiled economist and newspaper man, Jacob Lestchinsky, described in somber terms the economic position of the Jewish people. Asserting that 60,000 Jews left Germany in 1933 and another 10,000 in the first six months of this year, he said the position of those remaining "is becoming desperate since there is no hope of finding shelter abroad."

NAZI PROPAGANDA QUIZ IS LAUNCHED BY U. S. IN CHICAGO

Opening an investigation into the sources of Nazi and other subversive propaganda in Chicago, Representative Carl M. Weideman [Dem., Mich.] yesterday heard eight witnesses at an executive session in the United States courthouse. The inquiry is being conducted throughout the country by a subcommittee of the Dickstein congressional committee, but Representative Weideman was the only member who appeared at the session here yesterday.

The public and newspapermen were barred from the hearing and Representative Weideman declined to give the names of the witnesses or the nature of their testimony. One of the witnesses was recognized as Countess Lisi Cipriani, who describes herself a the descendant of a noble Italian family.

"We are holding secret sessions so that we can sift rumors and determine just what are the strength and scope of subversive propagandists," Representative Weideman said afterward, "and if we obtain enough facts and conclude that the public should be informed we will hold an open hearing.

"Our information indicates that Chicago, as every other large city, is a center of Nazi activity. We also heard one witness on Fascist propaganda. Twenty more people have been subpenaed to testify; one of them is a very prominent Chicagoan."

The executive session was adjourned until tomorrow.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—Communist activity in connection with certain American strikes has called attention here to the presence in New York of Wilhelm Muenzenberg, former communist propagandist. The Berliner Tageblatt issues a warning to America today designating Muenzenberg as "one of the most brilliant propagandists on earth."

Summing up the typical reaction of the German press to the present labor difficulties in America, the paper asserts that former German communist leaders are finding in the present wave of strikes a perfect opportunity to sow seeds of communism.

Today's editorials explain that strikes generally originated in connection with section 7A of the law creating industrial codes, but goes on to assert that the background is political—the struggle of American workers for a voice in management. The attitude of the German press in regard to American strikes is that of the German people. The conviction is almost universal here that the present labor difficulties in the United States represent the beginning of a huge radical labor movement on the order of communist and Socialist political movements in pre-Hitler Germany.

ITALY'S BURNING PEAK, STROMBOLI, POURS OUT LAVA

Volcano's Eruption Seen 35 Miles Away.

TROPEA, Italy, Aug. 21.—(AP)—A ruby-red scar of flaming rock seethed and glowed tonight high on the eastern side of the Stromboli volcano on the island of the same name. While anxious mainlanders 35 miles away on the southern Italian coast awaited news of damage from the morning's sudden eruption.

Fishing craft which put forth from this shore to offer succor if needed to to 1,800 people of the little island dominated by the 3,040 foot volcano were bringing back the news.

The eruption came with two gigantic thunder-like claps easily heard on the Italian shore. Molten lava then began to pour through a cleft on the eastern rim of the cone.

Vineyards Around Base.

No further explosions were heard, but mainlanders who have grown up in the shadow of the "Lighthouse of the Mediterranean" said flecks of fire and great blooms of smoke visible tonight betokened exceptional activity within the crater.

It was feared this might cause streams of lava to pour down the slopes from the rim of the crater to the lower vineyard-covered base of the mountain.

One of the few European volcanoes in constant activity, Stromboli roars incessantly and spouts forth a stream of rock and cinders which usually fly harmlessly down the northwest slope.

Only on rare occasions like today does lava bubble over the rim. The last time this happened was in 1930, when farms and vineyards were seriously damaged.

Three villages, Stromboli, Gimostra, and San Bartolo, around the base of the volcano, the only settlements on the island, are not connected by wire communication with the mainland, and the actual extent of the eruption was not yet known.

A BURNING ISLAND.

Stromboli, one of the seven islands of the Lipari or Aeolian group, 30 to 50 miles northwest of the Strait of Messina which separates Italy and Sicily, is in effect a burning island.

Its volcano, which next to Vesuvius is considered the best known in the world's active and semi-active craters, has through the ages built a peak which is almost a perfect cone. Stromboli is on a line with Vesuvius in Italy and Mount Etna in Sicily and is believed to be related to them.

The volcano earned its title "Lighthouse of the Mediterranean," because its plume of smoke is always visible to ships by day and its glow, which intermittently shoots vivid flashes into the sky, not unlike a man made lighthouse, is constantly visible at night.

Stromboli was particularly active in 1907. It sent out a barrage of molten rock again in 1912 and 1915. A few casualties were caused by an eruption in 1919. Two years later, on June 30, 1921, a violent eruption sent practically all the inhabitants of the island to the shores, where they put off for safety in every available craft.

TWO SENTENCED FOR RIFLING CARS OF FAIR VISITORS

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.
Automobiles stolen, 30; recovered, 23; stripped, 3 [from police records for the twenty-four hours ending at midnight Monday].

Municipal Judge Howard Hayes yesterday sentenced George Panick, 22 years old, 5045 South Hoyne avenue, to serve one year in the House of Correction and pay a fine of $100 and costs; and sentenced Samuel Fajnor, 21 years old, 4950 South Hoyne avenue, to thirty days in the House of Correction for rifling automobiles of World's Fair visitors.

The youths were arrested last Thursday evening while they were attempting to break into a car parked near the Jackson Park beach. In Panick's pocket police found a wrist watch which had been taken from the car of John W. Pope, 2917 Mary street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

When the case was called Panick asked for a continuance, but when police explained that the plea was a ruse to delay trial until the complaining witnesses were forced to leave town, the judge denied the plea, and sentenced both the defendants after hearing the evidence.

Give Selves Up

Max Caldwell, business agent for the Chicago Waiters' alliance, and Harold Hawkins, another official of the union, surrendered to police yesterday to be questioned concerning the bombing last week of the Edgewater Beach hotel, where the union waiters have been on strike for several months.

The two men were taken to the state's attorney's office and then returned to the detective bureau. When their attorney, John Johntry, demanded that his clients be booked Lieut. Tom Kelly of the state's attorney's office ordered them charged with disorderly conduct. Lieut. John Treacy of the detective bureau bomb squad, however, refused to book the men and instead sent them out in a squad car to be viewed by all the witnesses who saw the bombers.

Attorney Johntry then filed a writ of habeas corpus before Criminal Judge Michael Feinberg, who announced that he would give the police until 10 o'clock today to conduct the investigation into Caldwell and Hawkins' whereabouts on the night of the bombing. The two men asserted they had been attending a "convention in Minneapolis" for more than a week and had returned to Chicago only yesterday.

LABOR BOARD'S HEARINGS END ON STEEL ROW

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The national steel labor relations board today completed hearings in the dispute at the Wheeling Steel corporation's Portsmouth plant and returned to Washington.

The hearing, a its final brief session today, was marked by the testimony of company witnesses who attempted to refute the charge of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers that the company has "locked out" members of the union here.

As the hearing closed, Judge Walter P. Stacy, chairman of the labor board, said: "We have heard the evidence. Earl F. Reed [the company attorney] wishes to file a memorandum and Charleton Ogburn [Amalgamated attorney] may do likewise.

"After we have gone over the evidence, we shall see what disposal can be made of the case."

GOT AN AILING AQUATIC PLANT? CALL A FIREMAN!

Cleveland, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The City of Cleveland is about to appoint some new firemen. Among those who have asked for the jobs are an embalmer, an architect, a city golf champion, a doorman at a night club, a marine diver, chemists, former bank employés, a metallurgist, a mechanical and industrial engineer, a florist, a bricklayer, accountants, a locomotive fireman, a photostat expert, and a specialist in aquatic plant life.

FACTORY CLOSED SOLELY TO KEEP PEACE—KOHLER

The Kohler company, in Kohler, Wis., was shut down during the strike solely in the interests of preserving peace, and is under no obligation to stay closed, if the company sees fit to reopen, Walter J. Kohler, president of the concern, stated yesterday.

Mr. Kohler was in Chicago to confer with members of the Chicago Regional Labor board, in an attempt to reach an agreement which would end the strike.

"Keeping the plant closed was not a condition of the troops coming to Kohler," he said, "nor has it anything to do with the obligation of individuals to observe the law.

"As we have pointed out, the company cannot remain closed indefinitly. A prolonged shut-down would be unfair to the 1,600 of our employés who have expressed a desire to return to work, and who have a constitutional right to do so, unmolested by anyone.

"The decision as to when and how the plant will reopen rests solely with the company."

Booksellers' Code to Cut Purchases by Library

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Miss Jane Hubbel, Rockford librarian, said today that enforcement of the proposed NRA booksellers' code would reduce the number of new volumes purchased by the local library by 10 per cent. Limited discounts would prevent the purchase of as many books as in the past for the $8,000 it spends annually.

HANGS SELF IN HOME.

TEXTILE STRIKE PERILS FARMER; ROOSEVELT ACTS

Union Chiefs Gather to Map Walkout.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—As union chieftains gathered here for a war council on the threatened strike of 850,000 textile workers, President Roosevelt today sought to protect cotton farmers from the effects of a tieup in the textile industry.

The President announced that the Commodity Credit corporation, a branch of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, will lend money to farmers on their cotton at a rate between 10 and 12 cents a pound. These loans are expected to stabilize the cotton price in that range.

Strike threats were one of the motivating reasons for the President's action, it was learned authoritatively today. Cotton textile mills, faced with a paralyzing strike, have scaled down their purchases. As a result there was danger of the cotton price breaking.

Start Parleys Today.

Discussions, led by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, on the impending strike will begin tomorrow. Officers of the United Textile Workers of America, the union calling the strike, were arriving in town tonight for the crucial session.

President Roosevelt himself may have to take a hand in the talks beginning tomorrow. Union leaders, frankly scorning the NRA and lesser New Dealers, have said that only the President can halt a walkout of between 500,000 and 850,000 textile workers some time before Sept. 1. This is believed to be one reason the President plans to return here from Carrollton, Ill., Thursday.

"Sick and tired" of fruitless conferences with New Deal officials, union leaders were in belligerent mood as they gathered for tomorrow's conferences.

"Want Action," Says Leaders.

"The situation is worse now than it was three months ago, and goodness knows it was bad enough then," Francis J. Gorman, secretary of the textile workers' union said today. "We want action from the industry. If it is not forthcoming we will be forced to strike."

Gorman said the workers were "fed up" with ineffectual conferences with recovery administration officials. For months union officials have been conferring with the NRA "and almost all other available agencies" without avail, he declared.

Gorman, who is in charge of the strike plans, attacked the "stretchout," the system whereby workers are given more machines to watch, thus increasing their work as much or more than their pay is increased under the NRA. The stretchout bids fair to become the heart of the proposed strike.

BARBER SHOP CLOSED, ITS CRIPPLED OWNER BLAMES NEW DEAL

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Richard Ulram, crippled Jersey City barber, who advised Gen. Hugh S. Johnson that he would either have to charge low prices for haircuts and shaves to fit neighborhood customs or close shop, took the latter course today.

Ulram, who has a broken back which does not permit him to work at his trade, announced he cannot run and charge state code prices.

"I can only open with haircuts that will cost 30 cents and shaves 20 cents," he said.

The code fixes a minimum of 50 cents for haircuts, 25 cents for shaves.

Ulram says attempting to obey the code put him out of business after he was warned failure to obey would be to risk a jail sentence. Closing his shop, he says, has taken his only means of getting a living.

NEW COALITION FORMED TO BEAT SOCIALIST OLSON

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Aimed at defeating Gov. Floyd B. Olson and the "coöperative commonwealth" platform of his Farmer-Labor party, a strong movement was launched here today to weld voters of other parties into a unit.

Called the "United Minnesota Voters," the organization is headed by a Democrat and a Republican, Carl W. Cummings and Oliver T. Skellet, both of St. Paul.

Its goal will be to enroll two or three hundred thousand citizens and determine the makeup of a fusion ticket to be supported at the November election. The plan is to have the two parties equally represented in the organization which will carry the battle against state Socialism into every county of Minnesota.

This new group is an attempt to break the deadlock which has thwarted previous efforts to obtain a coalition of the two party organizations against Olson.

Stench Bomb Drives 400 from New York Theater

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—(AP)—Four hundred patrons fled the Criterion theater at Times Square tonight when a stench bomb was released. There was no disorder in the audience, however, and the ventilating systeming speedinly cleared away the odors. Patrons were readmitted after half an hour.

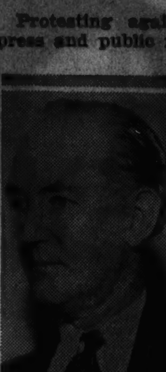
PRINTER DEFIES 'STAR CHAMBER' OF CHICAGO NRA

Refuses to Reveal Facts When Press Is Barred.

Protesting against the barring of press and public from a "star chamber session" to which he was summoned by Illinois NRA officials, T. J. Cullen, president of the United States Printing company, refused to testify yesterday concerning his charge that certain competitors are attacking him through their positions as members of the legal division of the Graphic Arts code authority.



T. J. CULLEN.

Mr. Cullen termed the proceedings "un-American," pointing out that inquisitorial hearings are customarily conducted openly in this country. Reporters were compelled to remain in the anteroom of the Chicago national recovery administration headquarters in the Wrigley building, while state NRA Director John E. Cassidy endeavored to question Mr. Cullen in a private office. Only another NRA official and an NRA stenographer were present to make the printer's remarks a matter of record.

Cassidy Lectures Witness.

Fifty-two minutes after the appointed time of the "conference," Mr. Cassidy emerged, and said that in a few minutes he would release a stenographic report of the proceedings. Three-quarters of an hour later he handed out a four page transcript which he declared contained "every word" that had been said.

The transcript showed that Mr. Cassidy opened the session with a brief lecture on the subject of code authorities under the NRA. He took pains to assure Mr. Cullen, who is six feet four inches tall and weighs about 220 pounds, that "we are not making any threats of any kind that any injury will come to you because you may not be disposed to answer." Excerpts from the transcript follow:

MR. CULLEN: Why not go in with Mr. Beatty? [S. F. Beatty, executive secretary of the zone control board of the code authority for the industry, who was sitting in an adjoining room.] We might each have a different version of what is said and in that way the matter might become distorted.

Prefers Open Declaration.

MR. CASSIDY: All I am interested in today is in determining whether or not you made the statements as quoted in the press. [A. F. Cook, NRA trade practice compliance officer, sitting with Mr. Cassidy, had previously telephoned Mr. Cullen and had been told that he was quoted correctly.]

MR. CULLEN: I want anything I say or do made public and I don't want to be repeated and take a chance that the statements might be garbled. I would prefer to make them right in the open.

MR. CASSIDY: I am not disposed to have a large hearing on this. We are not going to hold any court here. We are not going to have a field day for the press.

MR. CULLEN: I refuse to tell in private. I am willing to tell before the press.

MR. CASSIDY: I am not going to develop a sort of open argument in this. I want to know about the facts.

Found Guilty of Competition.

MR. CULLEN: Then there is nothing more to do about it.

MR. CASSIDY: I will have to report that to Washington—that you refused to give us the information.

Mr. CULLEN: In private.

MR. CASSIDY: I will have to report that you refused to give us the information under those conditions.

Mr. Cullen, whose printing shop is at 2817 North Halsted street, has been "found guilty" by his competitors of selling legal printing at 30 cents a page. The charge against him is that this is "below cost," despite his repeated statements that he has been making a fair profit at that price, and pays his employés 27 per cent more than the minimum wage requirements of the code.

In Service 31 Years; Made Assistant Customs Chief

Philip O'Connell, 7324 South Park avenue, who has been a federal civil service employé for 31 years, was inducted into office yesterday as assistant controler of customs in Chicago. The oath was administered by Controler of Customs Thomas Temple Hoyne in his office in the United States courthouse. Mr. O'Connell, who is 50 years old, has been employed in the customs office for 25 years and succeeds Fred Palmer, who was retired recently on a pension.

WHITE OWL
WHITE OWL BRAND
Made with our Grade A VINTAGE Filler
VINTAGE

Tobaccos—like Wines have "Vintage" years

Look for the Grade A Vintage Mark on every White Owl box... it takes the guesswork out of choosing a cigar

EACH of the great vineyard regions has Vintage years . . . years when its wine is richer, better flavored . . . years when nature particularly favored its crops.

Unknown to most smokers—tobaccos, too, have Vintage years . . . years when the leaf is voluptuous, milder. Naturally, such tobaccos make better cigars.

The filler tobaccos used in White Owls are always of Vintage quality . . . we buy only those tobaccos which nature favors. Through a vast Crop Inspection System, we keep a record of districts growing tobacco in Pennsylvania and Ohio . . . the two states which grow nearly all American filler tobacco. Thus we know in advance of every Vintage crop in these states—and we buy only our Grade A tobaccos from such quality crops. We use only this quality tobacco.

Look for the Grade A Vintage Mark

Every White Owl box now carries a Grade A Vintage mark. It's your assurance of good tobacco . . . of a mild, fragrant smoke. Now, for the first time, you can know what you're getting in a 5¢ cigar.

White Owls are now being made from famous Vintage Crops . . . the 1931 Pennsylvania and the 1930 and 1931 Ohio.

How White Owl Smokers are Protected

THE General Cigar Company maintains a comprehensive Crop Inspection System built up over the last ten years. By this means, we learn the condition of nearly every tobacco district in Pennsylvania and Ohio—the two states which produce practically all the cigar filler tobacco grown in the United States.

So accurate is this inspection system that every vintage crop can be forecast, and our buyers are on the spot to purchase the best of it for White Owls.

But vintage tobaccos alone are not enough. Even in Vintage years we classify all filler tobacco into seven grades. And only tobacco of the quality of the top three grades passes White Owl's strict requirements for its Grade A filler tobacco. No other filler tobacco is ever used in White Owls. That's what we mean when we say Grade A Vintage tobacco.

At the present moment, we have sufficient Grade A Vintage filler tobacco mellowing in our warehouses to make nearly 1 billion White Owls—more than a two-year supply. With this tremendous reserve, we can assure every White Owl smoker of a continued supply of the mild, fragrant cigars which Vintage tobaccos yield.

NEW DEAL HEADS DEBATE FATE OF PERMANENT NRA

Johnson, Miss Perkins in Disagreement.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

SECRETARY PERKINS.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Two of the proconsuls of the New Deal have entered into a somewhat classic and also very earnest debate over the manner in which the NRA shall be permanently set up.

The dispute rages about the place of organized labor in the final NRA program, and the manner by which strikes and other labor disputes may be settled.

One of the contestants is the bluff, bellicose boss of the NRA, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, who insists, it is reported, that control over labor disputes shall lie either with the NRA organization, or with a group entirely free of any partisanship or prejudice.

Miss Perkins Wants Control.

Opposing the general is Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, who with sharp, cultivated eastern accent has been striving to crush her adversary by the superiority of her coldly polite diction. She, it is said, proposes firmly that settlement of labor disputes shall be under the jurisdiction of her own department of labor.

Today the debate rang out, it was reported, in the President's own office, while the élite among all the New Dealers looked on. The problem is the most important one remaining for immediate decision before the President leaves at the end of this week for his stay at the "summer White House," his mother's estate at Hyde Park, N. Y.

The subject was thoroughly discussed today at the specially called joint meeting of the President's national Emergency council and his National Economic council, in which all members of the cabinet and most of the leading lieutenants of the New Deal hold membership.

Back on Job Friday.

Then the President was forced to interrupt his consideration of the matter to entrain for Carrollton, Ill., where tomorrow he will attend the funeral of the late Speaker Rainey. On Friday he is expected to get back to the NRA problem.

In addition to the dispute on the labor angles of the setup, it is reported that argument developed among the President's advisers on the manner of enforcing compliance to the NRA codes. One suggestion has been that this function be taken entirely away from the NRA, where at present it is administered by a compliance division created by Gen. Johnson, and turned over to the department of justice. Thus direct court action could be taken against any violators who refused to obey the orders of NRA administrators and code authorities.

See Difficulties Ahead.

But untold difficulties and complications seem to others to make this course impossible. Violations run into the many thousands and an elaborate system has been created at the NRA whereby first steps are taken by local code authorities, or national authorities, then state directors of NRA, and finally the compliance division.

If the department of justice should attempt to take over all this machinery, which functions in many other duties of NRA as well, it is believed that indescribable confusion would result. Under the present system, which Gen. Johnson is said to indorse for the permanent solution, the department of justice is given the job of prosecuting any violators who refuse to comply upon demand of the compliance division.

Blames Section 7A.

The most stringent disagreement, however, is said to be over the labor situation. Gen. Johnson is known to have blamed section 7A of the recovery act, under which labor rights are established, for a great deal of the violence and industrial feudalism which has cropped up to hinder and obstruct the recovery program.

He is reported to have declared bluntly that Miss Perkins and the labor department were not fitted to supervise settlements of labor disputes, because they were not impartial and leaned in their policies and decisions toward labor and against industry. This is indignantly denied by Miss Perkins.

FALL INJURY PROVES FATAL.

John Munson, 60 years old, 2464 Lincoln avenue, died in the Belmont hospital yesterday from injuries incurred when he slipped and fell on an icy street last January.

SEE SETTLEMENT OF KNIT GOODS STRIKE NEARER

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Raymond V. Ingersoll, borough president of Brooklyn and Mayor La Guardia's mediator in the knit goods strike, said today he hoped a final agreement between employers and strikers would be reached by Thursday.

It was said that 10,000 of the 14,000 knit goods strikers returned to work yesterday under agreements reached through Mr. Ingersoll's efforts. The workers won a 36 hour week and after Jan. 1 are to work only 35 hours under the agreement, details of which Mr. Ingersoll is expected to announce Thursday.

Mayor La Guardia expressed satisfaction over the partial settlement. He said 150 shops had reopened and he expected other shops would sign the peace agreement.

"Here and there," he added, "you will find individual firms which will not pay the prevailing wage. These employers not only are exploiting the workers but they are also jeopardizing the whole industry through unfair competition. Their action is contrary to the whole theory and plan of the NRA."

The mayor denied his order to the police to permit peaceful mass picketing interpreted the law. His order, he said, was based on court rulings.

The Star Sportswear corporation, 568 Broadway, remained closed today. David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union, ridiculed the statement of company officials it was forced to close because of lack of police protection against the massed pickets.

REVEAL COMMUNIST PARTY IN U. S. NOW NUMBERS 26,000

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The communist party in this country consists now of some 26,000 members, from 60 to 70 per cent of whom are unemployed. There are perhaps half a million sympathizers and members of rival left wing groups whose aims are similar. Twenty-five per cent of the members and half the sympathizers live in New York, but the important leaders of the party are now of 100 per cent American stock.

These facts, accumulated by its research staf, are incorporated by the magazine Fortune in a survey of communism which will be published in the September issue.

The magazine finds that "now that Russia has been recognized by the United States, Stalin's interest in the American party would appear to be rather apathetic. All this is not to imply that Moscow doesn't still call the tunes to which the American party dances. But the soft pedal is definitly on the American revolution as far as Moscow is concerned."

But Moscow control, even if Moscow is not greatly interested, is one of the factors which confuse the minds of American communists. "For the serious communist task of influencing American labor, Russia's influence has been anything but helpful," the author of the article says.

WOMAN DIES OF FALL.

Mrs. Walter Thompson, 49 years old, 4619 Kenmore avenue, died yesterday in the county hospital from injuries incurred when she fell from the second floor porch of her home.

NRA SINGLES OUT OIL STATION MAN FOR PROSECUTION

Charges Premiums Break Petroleum Code.

A. C. Mickelson, owner of a motor service station at Marquette road and Eberhart avenue, was notified yesterday that he had been singled out for prosecution under provisions of the petroleum code to afford an example to filling station owners offering premiums, rebates, and discounts in defiance of the code.

The notification came from the Chicago city petroleum committee, local code authority, after Mickelson refused to discontinue giving premiums. The committee informed him that his action had been referred to the division of oil enforcement of the department of the interior with a request for prompt prosecution.

Mickelson said he had tried to comply with the code, but was forced to meet competitors with their own tactics. He also said that compliance with the code will result in the loss of his business.

Order Practice Stopped.

Mickelson began giving premiums, a table lamp or an emergency auto lantern, two weeks ago. The articles were given to motorists who make purchases totaling $10, which were recorded on a card punched at each purchase. One of these cards came to the attention of the committee last week.

The committee notified Mickelson to abandon the practice or face prosecution. Mickelson in a reply said his service station, valued at $40,000, is now in receivership due to losses in his efforts to comply with the code. Before the adoption of the code, he said, his sales totaled 18,000 gallons of gasoline a month, and afterward they fell to 8,000 gallons a month.

"My method of merchandising is similar to that adopted by various chains in various industries," Mickelson wrote.

Charges Competitors with Tactics.

"There are 11 stations within three blocks of my establishment. Investigation will reveal that almost every one of these stations will give a rebate or discount upon demand.

Printer May Lose Blue Eagle for Low Bidding

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—C. W. Ludtke, proprietor of a printing firm here, has been found guilty of violation of the NRA code and faces the loss of his Blue Eagle. His bid of $255 won the contract to print 750 copies of the 1933 Scott county financial report. Five other bids received by the board were for $354.80.

AUTO LABOR BOARD TO HEAR NASH HEAD ON WORKMEN'S PLEA

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A joint hearing for E. H. McCarty, president of the Nash Motor company, and a committee representing 1,500 workmen at the Nash plant at Racine, Wis., was being arranged today by the automobile labor board.

The board received word today from McCarty that he would arrive in Detroit tomorrow to answer the protest of the employers' committee against a plan to move the Nash factory from Racine to Kenosha, Wis. The employés believe the company plans to discharge its Racine men and hire new workers at Kenosha.

THREAT TO DROP PLANS FOR PLANT FOLLOWS STRIKE

Officials of the Carbide and Carbon Chemical company have threatened to abandon their plans for a $10,000,000 chemical plant in Whiting, construction of which was halted a month ago by a building trades strike. They may use the partly erected buildings for storage unless the strike is settled, it was learned yesterday.

The threat was made public by Waldo B. Jennings, president of the Whiting-Robertsdale chamber of commerce. He said he had been assured by company heads in the east that plans for the plant, in which 500 men were to have been employed to make chemicals from the byproducts of the Standard Oil company whose refinery it adjoins, will be abandoned unless the company is assured that construction work can be resumed and completed without further delay.

About 950 men were working on the building when the strike was called July 24. The company hiring its own construction workers, was paying 88 cents an hour for skilled building labor as required by the NRA chemical code. The Lake County [Ind.] Building Trades council, whose members struck, demanded $1.25 an hour as required in the construction workers' code, recognition of the union and a closed shop policy.

SMALL BUSINESS WINS FIRST CODE RELIEF APPEAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Small business today won its first appeal to NRA for relief from code hour limitations.

Reversing a decision of a deputy administrator, the recovery administration approved a recommendation of its industrial appeals board allowing the Acme Finishing company of Pawtucket, R. I., and others in the finishing division of the cotton textile industry to work two shifts of forty machine hours each a week instead of thirty.

Other companies which apply for exemption will receive the same treatment, NRA said. Only the Clearwater Manufacturing company of Clearwater, S. C., and the Arkwright Finishing company of Fall River, Mass., have applied thus far in addition to Acme.

SCHALL ATTACKS NEW DEAL AS FARMERS' FOE

Says It Broke Rise of Wheat.

SENATOR T. D. SCHALL.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.] — Senator Thomas D. Schall [Rep., Minn.] today accused the New Dealers of crying "food profiteers" to save their own faces, now that the drouth has outstripped their crop reduction schemes by more than a billion bushels and price rises are inevitable.

The senator recalled that in July, 1933, before the agricultural adjustment administration had begun operations, the natural laws of supply and demand sent the price of wheat up to $1.17 a bushel on the strength of an estimated 200,000,000 bushel shortage. The government then stepped in and "pounced down" on the grain exchanges "because the natural laws were about to make the brain trust boys look ridiculous," according to Senator Schall.

"The farmer had the prospect of getting for the carryover in his grainary a price approximating cost of production plus a possible margin to pay his delinquent taxes," Schall's statement continued. "The grain and milling centers of the country had hopes of a small degree of returning prosperity. But that was before the AAA went into effect on grain. That had to be stopped. Chicago and Minneapolis were stealing the show from Washington.

"It was at once assumed in Washing that the increase of July wheat—though precipitated by the government report of crop shortage—was the criminal act of 'profiteers.' The Chicago grain boom was smashed."

Senator Schall asserted that between July, 1933, and April, 1934, when the drouth began to take effect, the price of wheat on the farms of the middle west fell off 30 cents a bushel.

HOW CHRYSLER MOTORS PROTECTS THE TIME PAYMENT BUYER

WHEN you buy a car on "time payments" you want a finance service that assures you courtesy, consideration and adequate insurance protection at the lowest possible cost. Such a service is offered to you in the Official Chrysler Motors-Commercial Credit Plan of automobile financing.

But how are you going to know when you are getting low cost financing with adequate insurance protection?

If you will apply the rule in the box at the right, you can tell to a penny, how much financing costs you under any plan. It is then a simple matter to see which car has the fairest and most reasonable financing charges.

When you buy a car on the Official Chrysler Motors-Commercial Credit Plan your finance arrangements are backed by the experience and resources of the $40,000,000 Commercial Credit Company. This Company is one of the pioneers in installment financing. It employs more than 1800 trained people and has 142 offices and subsidiaries in the United States and Canada. It has financed nearly $3,500,000,000 of various receivables.

Every car bought on our Official Plan is adequately insured against the hazards of fire, theft and collision. You receive an insurance policy written by one of the largest and soundest old line companies—giving you the necessary protection that you should have.

Compare financing charges and you will find that you can finance the purchase of a Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler car as reasonably as you can any car. Investigate the finance company and you will find that none is more secure or more considerate of the buyer than Commercial Credit Company.

We urge you to find out what financing costs before you buy any car. Use the rule in the box. It is printed for your convenience and in keeping with the Chrysler Motors policy of open-and-above-board dealing on this important matter.

PAY NO MORE

Check Cost This Way:

1. Write here the amount your dealer asks as down payment (this may include trade-in value of an old car). $..........
2. Write here the total of all monthly payments required. $______
3. Add the two figures above. Their sum is the total cost of car including financing and insurance. $..........
4. Write here the cash delivered price of the car. $______
5. Subtract amount No. 4 from amount No. 3 above. The result is the total cost of financing, including insurance*. $..........

Then—compare this cost with the finance cost under the Official Chrysler Motors-Commercial Credit Plan, and pay no more for the financing of your car purchase.

His cue was a long time in coming. Not until 12:25 did the armored truck of the United States Trucking corporation roll slowly down the street. The car had made the rounds of seven Brooklyn branches of the bank of the Manhattan company, and had also picked up currency from a number of small industrial firms and from other Rubel ice plants. Joseph Allen of Brooklyn was driving the bulletproof vehicle, peering through the nonshatterable glass of his windshield. In the back in the compartment behind the driver's seat were John Wilson, who gave his address as that of the trucking corporation, and William Lilienthal of Brooklyn. All three men wore the customary uniforms of the armored trucking service and were armed with heavy revolvers.

See Only a Peddler.

Allen saw nothing unusual as he looked through the bulletproof glass. His companions, peering through the slits, saw only a white aproned peddler walking across the street toward his pushcart. On the tennis courts Mrs. Bannister was giving another lesson. Two courts were occupied by men and women. Up the street the neighborhood children were playing. A few feet away on their front stoops housewives were sitting. Parked across the way William McGee sat in the cab of a moving truck. On the loading bridge eight men, Negroes and whites, were waiting for ice to come down the chutes from the plant inside.

Four trucks were backed up to the platform waiting for ice; Charlie, the bridgeman, who refused to give his last name, saw the armored truck drawing to a stop, and left his little office on the "bridge" to go inside to the safe for the money.

He had just opened the safe, and was taking out the $450 which was to be taken by the truck to a bank, when an assistant came running into the interior of the plant.

"Close It; There's a Holdup."

"Close it, Charlie; close it quick; there's a holdup outside," the man gasped, pointing to the safe.

"Charlie" closed the safe door, ran to an inside telephone and called the police.

Meanwhile, outside, the drama had started.

The armored car pulled to a stop next to the three-wheeled peddler's pushcart parked at the loading bridge.

Wilson, in accordance with the ritual of the truckmen, pushed from the rear compartment where the money was kept into the driver's compartment, opened the door towards the Rubel plant and stepped out, his hand dangling lightly on the butt of his gun. Wilson was mounting the "bridge" steps towards the little office, and Lilienthal was stepping out of the open car door when the man in the white apron took his cue. He threw back the flour sacks and picked up a sub-machine gun, lying in the bottom of the cart.

At the same moment men—none of the witnesses agreed as to how many—popped out of three cars that had followed the armored truck down the street and slowed to a halt behind it. Two or three of these men were carrying machine guns; the rest were armed with pistols.

Two Machine Guns in Action.

The man in the white apron leveled his "Tommy gun" towards the open door of the armored truck; another machine gun covered Wilson and swept the frightened line of loaders on the bridge.

"Get out of there, you ———," a bandit ordered, as Wilson, Lilienthal, and Allen, surprised without the benefit of armor protection, raised their hands in the air.

Spouting curses, the bandits disarmed the three guards and forced them together with McGee, who had been routed from the seat of his moving van, to crawl under the loading platform.

One of the bandits, the one who had "covered" Wilson, stepped into the brigeman's office, and jerked a telephone from its connections; another lined up the loaders on the bridge; still another loitered across the street, his eye cocked on the occupants of the tennis courts, who were unaware of the drama happening at their side. Three of the men, under the direction of the leader, climbed into the armored truck and commenced to pass out the money bags.

As the canvas bags were passed out, they were loaded by others into a big Lincoln sedan, from which a seat was taken, to make room for the money. Twenty-two of the bags still remained in the car, when a sudden sharp command from the leader ended the "job."

"Scram," he yelled.

One in Too Big a Hurry.

The bandits did: One of the three in the car was in so much haste that he left a loaded submachine gun behind him.

About that time—not much before in this drama of minutes—the players on the tennis courts got their cue. William Kelly, employed by Mrs. Bannister about the courts, had been working on Mrs. Bannister's car parked near the warehouse. He saw the holdup and the glints of the machine guns. Quietly—Kelly is a war veteran—he slipped into the courts, and warned the shouting players to "get down—get down—lie down; there's a holdup going on!"

It took him some time to convince them that he was in earnest; just as the players were getting down on their stomachs, the bandits scrambled for three waiting cars, and with a final flourish of guns and warning oaths, sped west towards Cropsey avenue and Gravesend bay.

Within an hour the search had revealed a clue. At the foot of Bay 35th street, in the opposite direction from that which the Lincoln car had taken in its flight, the Lincoln was found abandoned. The money was gone; the guns were gone, the men were gone.

From a yard man for the Bansonhurst Fuel Distributing corporation, whose plant is at the foot of Bay 35th street, from a Negro who tried to warn the bandits that they were parking on private property, and from Capt. Thomas Mateland, of the Ben Bachree Yacht club about 60 feet away, the police got good descriptions of the boats.

HOODED BANDIT ROBS 4 ON GOLF COURSE AT RESORT

French Lick, Ind., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A hooded bandit strode across the fairways of the lower golf course here this afternoon, held up a foursome of widely known attorneys, and escaped with $260.

Victims were John G. [Jack] McKay, formerly widely known in Indianapolis tennis circles, but at present a resident of Miami, Fla.; George W. Yancey, Birmingham, Ala., president of the International Association of Insurance Counsels; John Luhn, Baltimore, vice president of the Fidelity and Deposit company, and William O. Reed, St. Louis attorney.

The caddies were told to search the four men and obtained $250 from Yancey and $10 from Luhn. By this time the bandit became nervous and fled.

TWO BANK ROBBER SUSPECTS SHOT IN EAST ST. LOUIS

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Two Illinois bank robbery suspects were shot, one critically, when they pulled guns on deputy sherifs who sought to question them and two companions shortly before midnight tonight.

Deputies said the critically wounded man was Leroy Carter, 32. He was shot in the chest, the other, giving the name of Charles McDonald, was shot in the arm.

Hitch-Hiker Robs His Sick Benefactor of $230 Roll

Herman Bock, an insurance salesman of 3553 North Kedvale avenue, was robbed of $230 in cash and $300 in checks by a hitch-hiker he picked up in Lake Forest, he reported to police last night. According to Bock, he became ill while driving through Libertyville and his guest, while pretending to help him, took the opportunity to empty his pockets, then disappear on foot.

TRIBUNE SAFETY LANE OPERATING WITH NO WAITING

With its attraction as a novelty to motorists lessened somewhat after long lines of cars passed through the lane during its first few days of congested operation, free automobile inspection service at THE TRIBUNE'S safety lane, 401 East Ontario street, is now available with little or no waiting. Fill out the coupon published herewith and you will be entitled to learn whether or not your car is fit to meet the emergency that might be encountered in trafic today or tomorrow.

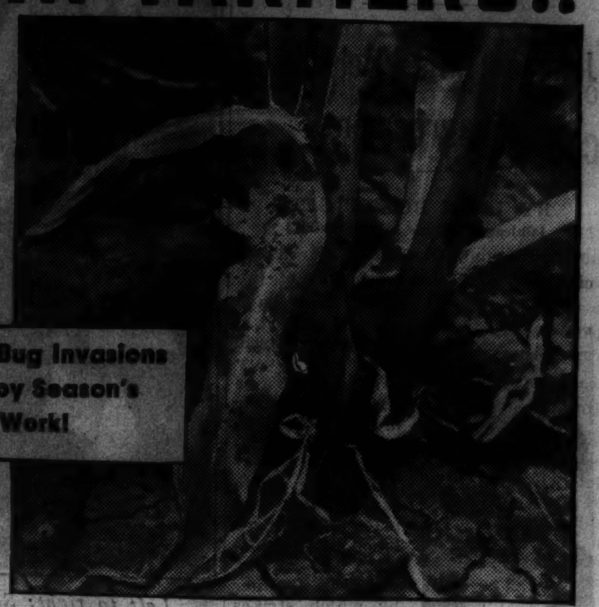
The slack hours are between 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. In this period, an inspection should not require more than three or four minutes. At other times, the wait is brief, even with five or six cars in the line, because the automobiles leave the inspection lanes at a rate of one every fifty-five seconds.

The service is open daily from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m., except on Saturday, when the hours are 1 p. m. to 6 p. m., and on Sunday, when the mechanics enjoy a holiday.

TWO POUND BABY CLINGS TO LIFE; CHANCES BETTER

He showed his first gain in weight yesterday in an improvised incubator, where oxygen twice saved his life after he stopped breathing. He is fed mother's milk with an eye dropper. Dr. Leon S. Eisenman, 1502 South Ridgway avenue, physician in the case, said it was unusual for a child so small to live more than a few hours.

BUGS
RUIN FARMERS!!



Chinch Bug Invasions Destroy Season's Work!

One day a field of flourishing corn, the result of an investment of weeks of labor, seed and fertilizer. Next morning—millions of hungry chinch bugs are swarming over the field and the corn crop is hopelessly lost. Thus, another season's crop is ruined over night by something beyond the farmer's control.

Chinch bugs are not an imaginary plague. The photograph above shows them at work in a cornfield on a dairy farm near Chicago. Creosote-lined bulwarks and trenches are built feverishly to stop the relentless insect invaders. Still they come in countless billions. For three years straight they have ruined the feed and grain crops of Chicago's dairy farmers. Nothing to do but grit your teeth and wait for the next season. It has taken plenty of real COURAGE to carry on under such conditions!

The Pure Milk Association is the co-operative of 18,000 dairy farmers with a $288,000,000 plant and farm investment who supply Chicagoans daily with 2,000,000 quarts of pure fresh milk! This organization maintains its own laboratories and staff of university trained field men. They help co-operating milk dealers and health authorities to give Chicago the best milk supply of any large city in the world.

NOTE: This advertisement is one of a series published by Pure Milk Assoc., 608 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, to acquaint the public with the dairy farmer's side of the milk problem.

WHEN YOU USE NEW AND IMPROVED CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL!

NOT a claim, but a statement of fact—proved beyond all doubt by the famous Destruction Test at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, under AAA Contest Board supervision (Sanction No. 3001).

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil was tested against five nationally-known motor oils. The oils were assigned by lot to six identical new stock cars. Each car was filled with five quarts of its assigned oil—no more oil was added—and driven at 50 miles an hour until the motor was destroyed.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil protected its car for 4,729 miles—3,015.8 miles farther than the first oil to fail, and 1,410.2 miles farther than the best of the other oils!

Low oil consumption was not the only thing proved by this test. More than anything, it was proved that the Continental Oil Company has developed the finest motor oil ever offered to the public in its experience of 59 years.

HUEY HOLDS UP HIS QUIZ AS U. S. RENEWS INQUIRY

Long Keeps Personnel of Committee Under Cover.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Suffering from an acute case of political jitters, Louisiana today anxiously awaited the termination of one investigation and the start of another.

For reasons which were not made clear, the Huey P. Long political dictatorship marked time on the proposed legislative inquiry into his political enemies' management of the New Orleans city government, and the names of the nine legislators who will conduct the inquiry were withheld.

Meantime the federal grand jury here resumed its investigation, started several weeks ago, into income tax returns of Senator Long and the leaders of his organization. There were indications that this inquiry was drawing to a close.

Witnesses Heard.

Witnesses heard today included James Thomas, official of a road material company doing business with the state highway commission, and Carl Fisher, son of State Senator Jules Fisher of Jefferson parish, one of Long's legislative leaders. Mrs. Carl Fisher, until recently a vice president of the women's division of the Long political machine, appeared before the jury two weeks ago, emerging to exclaim:

"I was never asked so many questions in my life."

Senator Long conferred with state officials and legislators in his hotel suite in the Capital, Baton Rouge. His sworn enemy, Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, caucused with advisers here.

The general public remained in the gap, waiting to see how the feud would affect their franchise and other civil liberties in the approaching September elections for congress and other district offices.

Force to Meet Force.

The recent special legislature voted to Dictator Long unlimited military authority to carry on his war with the mayor, and the mayor and his following replied that force would be met with force. Their rival armed camps of militiamen and special police remained encamped in the city.

When he reappeared in Baton Rouge after a two days' absence, Long claimed he had spent "a vacation" at a fishing camp near the capital, "chopping wood."

Parrying all questions about the approaching New Orleans investigation, which he has described as "necessary to clean up that cesspool of inquity," he answered inquiries about it by announcing:

"I've been in the country chopping wood. We—two other men and myself—chopped three ricks yesterday and cut it up into kindling."

Allen J. Ellender, speaker of the house, spent some time in New Orleans today conferring with Long legislators, afterward indicating that the legislative investigators might be named within the next few hours.

NEGRO PAGEANT MAKES JOBS FOR MULTITUDE HERE

Hundreds of Chicagoans have obtained employment through the production of scenery and costumes for the massive musical spectacle, "O, Sing a New Song," depicting dramatically the history of the Negro race, which will be given at Soldiers' field Saturday night, the management of the pageant announced yesterday.

The making of 5,000 green and brown robes to be worn by that many singers in the gigantic living cotton field, the effect of which will be formed by their holding aloft stalks of cotton, occupied more than 100 women. The setting for this episode, the plantation scene, called for the construction of a southern plantation, including the master's mansion, log huts for slaves, artificial trees and streams.

Costumes to be worn in a revue directed by Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin and 3,000 additional costumes for a "mechanistic ballet" to precede the finale occupied more seamstresses. In the latter the dark bodies of the dancers will be clad only in silver helmets, gloves and shorts. The dancers will form wheels and revolve in a way to produce the effect of a living machine.

OPEN VERDICT IN DEATH.

A coroner's jury investigating the death of George M. Hilger, 62 years old, found shot to death Monday in his office at 1834 West 59th street, returned an "unknown" verdict yesterday. Detectives expressed the opinion that the death was a suicide, but members of the family said there was no motive.

JAIL EX-INMATES OF PONTIAC FOR CARRYING GUNS

Two young former inmates of the Pontiac reformatory pleaded guilty yesterday in the Boys' court to carrying concealed weapons, and were sentenced by Judge J. William Brooks to serve one year in the Bridewell and pay fines of $100 each.

They are George Riley, alias Joseph Murphy, 4716 Princeton avenue, paroled after serving a year of a one to fourteen year term for automobile theft, and John Turner, alias Cronin, 502 West 45th street, who served a term on a similar charge.

Both were arrested a week ago while quarreling at Monroe and Halsted streets, in company with Miss Helen McMullen, 20 years old, 4008 South California avenue. The Des Plaines street police searched the boys and found loaded revolvers. The girl, charged with disorderly conduct after admitting she was a friend of the two, was discharged yesterday.

Riley will be returned to Pontiac for violation of his parole after completing his Bridewell term.

MORE ILLINOIS STUDENTS WILL GET U. S. HELP

Federal relief funds, of which $200,945 went to 3,476 students in Illinois colleges in the last school year, will be available to an increased number of undergraduates in the fall, the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, which distributes the money, announced yesterday. Some 4,200 students may share in the 1934-'35 program.

The aid will be given in return for work covering the range of jobs customarily performed by students who earn their way through college. All institutions of a collegiate character may participate, providing they are organized not for profit, as attested by their exemption from state and local property taxes.

Van Buren Street Bridge Time Limit Is Extended

The war department granted to the city yesterday an extension of time to Nov. 12, 1935, and Nov. 12, 1937, respectively, for commencing and completing construction of a new bridge in Van Buren street across the south branch of the Chicago river.

STRESS MODERN METHODS AT NEW JUNIOR COLLEGES

Experts to Help Pupils Choose Courses.

Modern educational methods, which direct students toward useful citizenship and encourage independent work in the classroom, library and laboratory, will be utilized on a large scale for the first time when three new City Junior colleges of Chicago open on Sept. 17.

Such is the broad purpose and scope of the new colleges, designed to replace Crane Junior college, closed last year, as outlined yesterday by William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, as he was completing final touches on the curricula they will offer.

"The courses will embrace liberal arts, sciences and humanities," said Supt. Bogan, "but the subjects will be presented in survey courses followed by a single comprehensive examination at the end of each year. In addition, students entering the schools will have the advice of an expert personnel staf to guide them to fruitful endeavor in all of their work.

Want Balanced Citizens.

"This means simply that students will be advised concerning the fields in which they can best work and they will be permitted to pursue their studies as rapidly as they desire, with a maximum of encouragement toward independent, constructive effort. We do not want one sided experts, but balanced citizens.

Installation of nearly $52,000 of equipment is progressing rapidly at the colleges, situated in the Chicago Normal college, 6800 Stewart avenue; the Medill High school, 1326 West 14th place, and the Wright school, 3400 North Austin avenue, according to Frank Sullivan, school purchasing agent. The renovation of classrooms and the installation of laboratory equipment is provided in the $52,000 program.

Operation Costs Cut.

In addition, the board of education, which created the junior colleges last March, has provided $209,000 for instruction at the colleges. The total junior college operating cost will be $261,000, less than half the $535,000 amount appropriated for Crane college for 1932-'33.

The advance enrollment for the three junior colleges, situated to be easily available to students in any part of the city, yesterday totaled 3,750, as compared with the peak enrollment of 4,492 at Crane in 1932-'33.

It is expected that the registration for the schools will pass the 5,000 mark before Sept. 17, Supt. Bogan said. Applications are received at Supt. Bogan's offices, 228 North La Salle street.

COMPLETE 14,000 TEACHERS' PAY RECEIPTS TODAY

Board of education employés will complete late today the preparation of 14,000 receipts which Chicago school teachers must sign to receive seven months' back pay, totaling $22,300,000 early next week. The money, to be lent to the school district by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is expected to arrive Monday, Aug. 27, and checks will be released immediately at the temporary pay offices in the City State Bank building, 130 North Wells street.

The receipts are required by the RFC to insure that only teachers be paid from the loan funds, as provided in the law authorizing the loan. To obviate the need for 14 signatures by each teacher, one for each semimonthly check covering the back pay period, the board ordered special receipt forms, listing the 14 checks, and requiring one signature. The preparation of the forms, which will speed the actual disbursement, kept all school nployés at work through the week-end and will occupy them until tonight.

The receipts and checks will be transferred to the Wells street offices as soon as word of the transfer of RFC funds to Chicago has been received.

HOTEL MAN HELD AFTER ROBBERY IS FREED OF CHARGE

Municipal Judge Francis Borelli yesterday dismissed charges of disorderly conduct against Frank Verego, 45 years old, owner of the Crown hotel, 1639 West Division street. Verego was held by police as an accomplice of three men who were charged with the robbery of the currency exchange at 79th and State streets several months ago, but because no witnesses were found to identify him as one of the robbers the only charge placed against him was that of disorderly conduct.

Verego was seized after William Hanley and Harold Edwards had named him as their companion in the currency exchange robbery. The third member of the gang, John Sinegelas, refused to talk. The three men were seized near the Chicago City Bank and Trust company at 815 West 63d street several weeks ago, and all three have already been held to the grand jury on charges of robbery.

TRIBUNE FARM DAY BY DAY

Pyrethrum and Initiative

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

August 21, 1934.

AFTER a world-wide search, which has been conducted over a period of several months, the Tribune experimental farm has obtained at last a small sample of rare pyrethrum seed. With the coöperation of THE TRIBUNE's cable editor and Kimpei Sheba, foreign correspondent, the pyrethrum seed was found in Japan.

The packet of less than two ounces of seed, costing more than $100, has just been placed in Clarence Thurow's hands for safekeeping until planting time this fall at the Tribune farm near Yorkville, Ill. Mr. Sheba learned that Japanese pyrethrum growers do not follow the practice of keeping seed after the planting season is over, making it difficult to find even a small sample at this time of the year.

H. Basil, THE TRIBUNE's correspondent at Teheran, Persia, is having even more difficulty in his search for seed. He discovered that pyrethrum grows wild in certain regions of Persia and that, so far, no one there has thought of cultivating it. The search took Mr. Basil on a long ride in a cart to Karaj and then on horseback to Philistan. Finally he learned where some of the wild plants were growing and is now having a few pounds of seed collected. The seed is expected to arrive at least in time for planting next spring.

If necessary, Clarence Thurow will do the Robinson Crusoe and strive to get a start of pyrethrum from his tiny sample of seed. From this small beginning it is the hope of men at the experimental farm that their tests will be successful and that within a few years they will be able to introduce a rare and valuable cash crop in the United States.

In Japan pyrethrum is known as one of the commonest variety of garden chrysanthemum. There are two varieties, white and red, grown there. The white flowers are used principally for insecticides.

If pyrethrum can be satisfactorily grown in this country farmers eventually may be able to supply domestic needs and displace imports from foreign countries. Approximately 11,000,0000 pounds of this insecticide material is imported into this country annually at a cost of $2,500,000. According to the University of Illinois the cost of bringing pyrethrum into this country each year is greater than any other unprocessed imported farm crop.

ONLY 15 OF FIRST 28 PUBLIC FOES LEFT AT LARGE

HENRY BARRETT CHAMBERLIN.

The results of a four year fight against organized crime in Chicago by federal, state, and county law enforcing agencies were reviewed yesterday in a survey of the present day status of the original 28 "public enemies" listed in 1930 by the Chicago Crime commission. The review was made by Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, managing director of the commission.

Today four of the gangland chieftains, including Alphonse Capone, the first "Public Enemy No. 1," are now in state or federal penitentiaries and three others only recently were released after having served sentences imposed by the federal courts. Two others are free under bond awaiting appeals from jail sentences meted out by the Cook county courts.

Four others on the list are dead, slain by underworld enemies, and two others died from natural causes during the four year period. One man is awaiting deportation as an undesirable alien.

Destroy Ragweed; Check Hay Fever, Urges Mayor

Mayor Kelly yesterday proclaimed this week as Ragweed Extermination week and urged all Chicagoans to coöperate with the board of health in destroying ragweed to the fullest possible extent. Ragweed, the proclamation stated, is one of the principal causes of hay fever, and with the eradication of the weed the hay fever plague would be lessened.

DUFFY MURDER QUIZ CLOSED.

When police said they were unable to find a trace of the slayer of Clark Duffy, 23 years old, messenger for a poultry company, shot to death Aug. 7 at Halsted and Madison streets, a coroner's jury closed the inquest yesterday, returning a verdict of murder by an unknown person.

NEW MILK PRICE BOOST DENIED BY CHICAGO DEALERS

AAA May Grant Raise, Says Spokesman.

Rumors of a proposed increase in the price paid to farmers for milk which might mean a boost of one or two cents a quart in the retail cost to Chicago consumers were both denied and affirmed yesterday.

Members of the Agricultural Adjustment administration in Washington, through an official spokesman, indicated that a price boost under the Chicago milk license of 50 cents a hundred pounds might be allowed.

This would mean that milk dealers would pay farmers $2.75 a hundred pounds [5.9 cents a quart] instead of the present $2.25 a hundred pounds [4.8 cents a quart.]

Milk Council Reassured.

On the other hand, members of the Milk Council Inc., representing 25 dealers handling 90 per cent of the city's milk supply, declared that they had been assured by A. H. Lauterbach, chief of the dairy division of the AAA, that the farmers had not requested a price increase.

Don N. Geyer, president of the Pure Milk association, and a committee of association members are in Washington, supposedly to ask an increased price for milk because of heightened production costs occasioned by the drouth.

It appeared that milk officials were not in agreement on the drouth's effect on milk production. M. O. Maughan, secretary of the Milk council, saw prospects of increased rather than decreased milk production.

Discuss "Reallocation Only."

Mr. Maughan said his council had been told in a phone conversation with Lauterbach that Geyer, in conference with AAA officials, had discussed only a reallocation of the present base prices of milk. It was indicated that the farmers were endeavoring to obtain larger individual quotas to which the higher base price would apply.

In some quarters it was believed that rumors of the price increase were started to test the reaction of the consumers and dealers.

If the higher price is allowed it would be the second 50 cent increase since June 1. Two increases of 25 cents a hundred pounds granted in the base price under the Chicago license have boosted the retail cost of milk 2 cents. The present price is 10 cents a quart.

FAIR WILL ADMIT EIGHT MILLIONTH SIGHTSEER TODAY

Attendance Soars for 6th Consecutive Day.

BY EARL MULLIN.

The World's Fair will welcome its eighth million visitor today. One million visitors will have entered within seven days, a record for the Fair.

With visitors passing through the gates yesterday in a steady stream to roll up an attendance figure not even approached by any other Tuesday, the prospects continued to brighten for A Century of Progress being the only American international fair to pay off all indebtedness.

Early in the afternoon admissions were far ahead of the record Tuesday a week ago and continued the upward surge during the night. At midnight 134,583 visitors had entered the grounds. Yesterday was the sixth consecutive record breaking day.

Sure of Record Today.

The total attendance of Fair as of yesterday was 7,780,418, which with yesterday's high figure would leave in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand admissions today to reach the eight million mark.

Not counted in yesterday's admissions were 5,000 boys and girls who wheeled bicycles into the Fair grounds free of charge. The bike riders arrived in such masses that they tied up the 14th street gate. The lineup extended for blocks in the Avenue of Flags, riders four deep in the parade. It was a testimonial to the bicycle's return to popularity.

An elaborate program of bicycle events, featuring the best decorated bike, race for boys and girls, and the appearance of old time racing stars were features of the day.

Hold Elaborate Program.

Miss Loretta Atten, 16, 6220 North Talman avenue, was chosen bicycle queen yesterday. The girls chosen as her maids in waiting were Thelma North, 640 Wrightwood avenue, and Melverne Kittelson, 3845 Altgeld street.

The speed race for girls was won by Mary Hannapel of the Catholic Youth organization. Ruth Grotha was second and Emma Baro was third. George Thelen and Charles Yaccino won the one hour bicycle team race championship of America, traveling 22 miles in the hour.

The Armored Knights of the Black Horse troop led the parade down the Avenue of Flags to the Chrysler motors test tracks, where the competitive events were held.

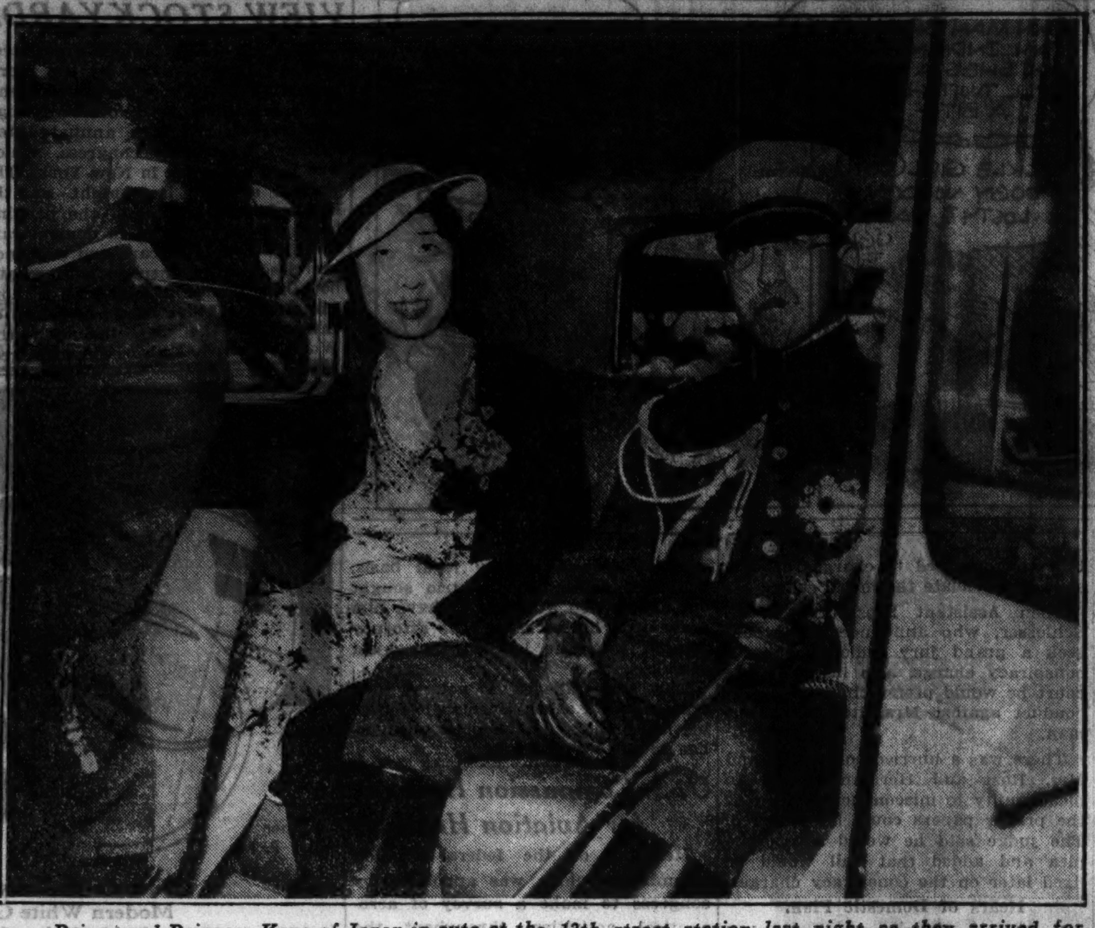
Japanese Prince and Princess Arrive in Chicago



Prince and Princess Kaya of Japan in auto at the 12th street station last night as they arrived for a visit in Chicago while on world tour. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

JAPANESE PRINCE AND PRINCESS ON FIRST VISIT HERE

"Kimigayo" ["Long live the emperor!"] resounded through the Illinois Central station at 6:30 p. m. yesterday as Prince and Princess Kaya, members of the Japanese imperial family, arrived in Chicago for their first visit.

Prince Kaya, wearing the khaki uniform of a major of the Japanese cavalry and the "Daikuni," jeweled chrysanthemum crest of the imperial family, expressed an unqualified love for the "so friendly and frank" American people.

Princess Kaya, 4 feet 6 inches high and dressed in Occidental clothes, expressed her interest in the widespread activities of American women in social work.

Together with their royal entourage of eight persons, they will spend two days in Chicago, stopping at the Drake hotel. They plan to see the Fair today, where the prince wants to ride the sky ride; to be the guests of the Japan American society and the Chicago Army and Navy club at dinner tonight; to tour the parks and north side tomorrow, stopping at Evanston for ceremonial Japanese tea at 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Chandler, 1733 Asbury avenue. They will leave for Kansas City at 10:15 tomorrow night.

Find Woolworth Official's Body 12 Miles Off Shore

A body, identified as that of William H. Fehrman, 46 years old, manager of the Woolworth store at North State and Washington streets, was recovered last night by coast guardsmen from the lake, twelve miles off the Navy pier. Fehrman, who lived at 6939 Crandon avenue, was drowned Aug. 14 when he fell from the yacht Scarab.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

Ace of Spades, the black Aberdeen Angus yearling steer which was the center of attraction at the Armour building beef judging contest during farm week at the World's Fair, weighed 900 pounds alive and produced 570 pounds of beef when dressed, it was announced yesterday.

Col. A. M. Nicol of the Salvation Army, former secretary to Gen. William Booth, visited the Fair yesterday. Despite his 80 years he made the rounds of the exhibits as energetically as any youngster and said the Fair was "undoubtedly the most colorful of any international exposition I have seen."

If Wallie Colbath, former Olympic diving star, appeared to be preoccupied last night in his act at the Streets of Paris, it was because Mrs. Colbath gave birth to an 8 pound 2 ounce boy yesterday. Wallie already is figuring on getting his son into the water.

While bicycle day was being observed yesterday 200 members of the Cycle Trades of America were in convention at the Edgewater Beach hotel. After subscribing a large fund for newspaper advertising to sustain the present popularity of cycling, the delegates offered two bikes as prizes to dancers on the hotel boardwalk last night. Nosh Van Cleef, president, declared more women than men are riding bikes.

Members of the Chicago and Detroit symphony orchestras were guests at a special lecture and demonstration given by Dr. Philip Fox, director of the Adler planetarium, last night. The musicians went to the planetarium following their last performances at the Swift bridge and the Ford bandshell. The subject of the talk was "The Music of the Spheres."

A military reception and salute of 21 guns will be given to Prince and Princess Kaya of Japan, at 11 a. m. today in the Court of Honor, when they make their official visit at A Century of Progress.

Byrdetta Evans, lyric soprano, who returned recently from a year's study in Europe, will be heard in a joint recital with Louis Jacobi Sunday at the Illinois Host house.

Wiley Post, the round the world flyer, will be presented by Gov. Horner with the Harmon trophy for that accomplishment tomorrow in the Science theater at the Fair. The trophy is an annual award made by the League Internationale des Aviateurs for the outstanding feat in aviation.

Competing with professionals, Dr. Ralph C. Pease, practicing physician of Chardon, O., who grows his flowers in a vacant lot near his home, surprised exhibitors at the national gladiolus show at the Horticultural building at the Fair yesterday when he took second place with a giant 40 inch flower spike. The first prize was won by Leonard H. Vaughan of Chicago.

French Film Star Escapes Death; Cameraman Dies

FEDERAL COUPONS GIVEN

FATHER COUGHLIN RAPS RADICALISM STAND OF LEGION

Chooses Opportunity to Praise New Deal.

Although billed as a speaker on Americanism by his sponsors, the American Legion, Father Charles E. Coughlin, radio preacher of Detroit, last night, in an address at A Century of Progress, criticized the legion for its stand on radicalism. He spoke before a throng of 10,000 in the Hall of States until rain cut short his address near the end.

Much of his speech consisted of praise for the New Deal. He attacked the "scribes and pharisees" who oppose or criticize the policies of President Roosevelt, although at one point he departed from his prepared address to criticize the administration's policy of crop reduction and the "slaughter of little pigs." Loud cheers and equally loud boos punctuated his remarks.

Sympathy for Soap Boxer.

Father Coughlin first mentioned the communist in his discussion of radicals, and declared that that individual was not to be condemned for his rebellion but rather for the unreasonable manner in which it was and is being conducted. He then turned his remarks to the "soap box" orator, the man in the street who is complaining against "conditions." With this man, this radical, Father Coughlin said he was in sympathy.

The radicals who gather to make their protests against law and order should not be dealt with roughly, Father Coughlin advised the Legion, but should be treated more gently, with understanding.

"Are you leaving this world a better place than when you found it?" Father Coughlin asked, "or, like Don Quixotes, are you going to battle against senseless windmills of radicalism when the logical way to oppose it is to remove the causes which produce the radical?"

Blames Economic System.

Father Coughlin made plain that in his opinion the causes were those of an iniquitous financial and economic system which "died on the battlefields of France."

At another point the radio pastor held aloft a copy of THE TRIBUNE'S last Sunday rotogravure section which showed the Legion massed behind the figure of a woman upholding a copy of the constitution. Pointing to this, he said:

"THE TRIBUNE talks about upholding the constitution. But I challenge the sincerity as long as they uphold the federal reserve system. The federal reserve system is in the hands of the organized few, making a profit from it. I will have THE TRIBUNE understand that congress and congress alone can govern money under the constitution."

FAIR GUESSES WRONG ON OFFER TO TRADE TICKETS FOR BUGS

Jack Morrison of the Fair's promotion staf thought up the idea of giving admissions for chinch bugs during farm week, believing it would be too much trouble for farmers to pick those little bugs off cornstalks. When gallon after gallon of the dead bugs were presented for admissions inquiries were made.

"We don't bother to pick them," a farmer explained. "They won't cross tar so we put down a line of tar, dig holes at the end and a gallon of bugs can be trapped in a few minutes." The Fair hasn't had the nerve to count up the free admissions, but went through with the idea anyway.

Storm Subsides in Ireland; Debris Blocks Highways

WATERFORD, Irish Free State, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The streets of this seaport today were strewn with debris and the roads were blocked with trees as an aftermath of yesterday's storm, one of the worst in years, which has now subsided. High winds on the Irish sea, however, caused several hours delay to a mail steamer from Fishguard, near where George Pond and Cesare Sabelli, trans-Atlantic flyers, crashed Saturday night. During the height of the storm yesterday three yachts sank off Kingstown, the seaport for Dublin.

Whether the Skin is oily or dry
TESTS PROVE WOODBURY'S WILL HELP TO MAKE IT—

"THE SKIN YOU LOVE TO TOUCH"

USUALLY you can't tell whether a beauty soap will help your complexion or not...until you've tried it!

But that's not so...with Woodbury's! Tests have proved that it's good for any complexion. If the skin has faults...Woodbury's will help to correct them. If the skin is normal, clear and lovely...Woodbury's will help keep it so.

Take "skin-dryness" for instance. In the Beauty Clinics conducted by skin specialists in nine nations, Woodbury's relieved 74% of the cases of dry skin. Yet it was equally effective in correcting oily skin. 76%...was its record in the oiliness tests.

At the new price of 10¢ for a big, generous cake...no one need go without Woodbury's. That's why Woodbury's created this new 10¢ size...in the same identical quality heretofore sold at a quarter.

REPORT REUNION BETWEEN MARY AND FAIRBANKS

Another Meeting Set for Today.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 21.—[Special.] — A reunion between Douglas Fairbanks and his estranged wife, Mary Pickford, was reported late today at a secret rendezvous, within a few hours after the actor had arrived in Hollywood after fourteen months abroad.

That such a meeting had taken place was the assertion of intimate friends of the couple when it was reported on good authority that Fairbanks had hurriedly left United Artists' studio alone late in the afternoon, and that Miss Pickford was absent from her Pickfair home.

Miss Pickford, who recently sued Fairbanks for divorce, previously had said she would see her husband on his arrival here to "talk over business matters." Whether today's meeting was a business conference or whether the couple discussed their tangled marital affairs could not be learned.

Expect Meeting Today.

Another meeting between the couple impends, however. It probably will take place tomorrow within the walls of United Artists' studio, and the reunion will be a business conference in the directors' room.

When and whether they meet to discuss their domestic difficulties remained a secret locked in the heart of the man and woman whose private lives, Fairbanks explained, "will be discussed in private."

"When will you see Mary?" shouted a Fairbanks fan.

"That's hardly a fair question," the actor replied, frowning a trifle.

"Will there be a reconciliation?" asked another fan.

"Let's not talk about that," Fairbanks said, increasing his frown.

"Don't ask me any questions because I can't answer them."

"What About Lady Ashley?"

"Well, what about Lady Ashley?" queried a man way back in the crowd, who apparently had read in the newspapers that Lady Sylvia Ashley's English husband had sued her for divorce, naming Fairbanks as co-respondent.

"I said I couldn't answer any questions," Doug replied, and this time the frown had assumed the proportions of a scowl.

"There's just one thing I'll talk about," he said, "and that's pictures."

It was at the studio that reports of a possible business conference between Fairbanks and Miss Pickford were first heard. It was said that Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists studio, on his arrival here today may call a special meeting of the studio owners, consisting of himself, Fairbanks, Miss Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Samuel Goldwyn.

Admits Shooting Policeman and Is Held to Grand Jury

William J. Powell, 25 years old, of Kades, Tenn., was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $50,000 on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Powell waived examination and, according to police, confessed that he shot Policeman Edward Trucksa of Berwyn on July 26 when he and two companions fled after robbing a Cicero drug store. Policeman Trucksa recovered.

SALE OF A WIFE ON INSTALMENTS DENIED BY TRIO

But Conspiracy Bill Is in the Offing.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Instalment plan wife selling [$200 down, the balance in easy payments] such as allegedly figured in the Hoboken bride bartering triangle, today occupied the attention of Judge R. V. Kinkead as the three sides of the triangle appeared to enter pleas.

Gravely the judicial eye contemplated the defendants: Richard Rost, 40 year old professional stamp collector and alleged wife seller; Mrs. Hildegarde Rost, 30, the "merchandise" of the instalment plan transaction, and Paul Herman, 41, of Union City, a stationary engineer who knew a bargain when he was offered one.

All Plead Not Guilty.

The trio entered indignant "not guiltys" when the judge asked them how they pleaded to charges of conspiracy to violate the moral code.

Then Assistant Prosecutor F. G. Schlosser, who announced he would seek a grand jury indictment on a conspiracy charge, also informed the court he would prefer charges of misconduct against Mrs. Rost and Herman.

There was a hurried conference and Mrs. Rost and Herman offered to plead guilty to misconduct as soon as the proper papers could be prepared. The judge said he would accept the plea and added that bail would be fixed later on the conspiracy charges.

Hears of Domestic Plan.

But before the proceedings reached the plea stage, the judge had heard Prosecutor Schlosser recount the Hoboken version of a design for living with a three character cast. It ran like this:

Rost lived for his stamps. While so living, his wife met Herman in a Hoboken restaurant and it was a case of love at first sight. Husband, wife and prospective customer sat down and talked it over. The deal was agreed to with $700 as the purchase price, instalment payments to be accepted.

Desiring to have the transaction completed on a strictly legal basis, Schlosser continued, the trio sought out a Hoboken attorney to have him draw up a bill of sale. The attorney refused when he learned the object of sale.

The state alleges a notary then drew a bill of sale. Herman left with his merchandise and kept it until police found out about it.

U. S. Commission Here for Aviation Hearings

Members of the federal aviation commission which was appointed by congress to make a survey of aeronautical activities throughout the United States, will reach Chicago tomorrow, to study the airline operations at Chicago airport, and several of the larger flying fields in the vicinity. The group will hear "all interested parties" at an open session to be held in the offices of George W. Vest, supervising aeronautical inspector for the Fifth district, bureau of air commerce.

ENDS LIFE WITH BLADE.

VISITORS FROM 14 NATIONS HERE TO VIEW STOCKYARDS

Chicago's world famous stockyards will be inspected today by the representatives of 14 foreign governments and more than fifty other foreign delegates to the 12th annual International Veterinary congress, which was held last week in New York. The visitors arrived last night at the Drake hotel. Several of the packing houses were prepared to demonstrate the high degree of care and efficiency exercised in the inspection of meats, both for domestic and foreign consumption. A tour of other points of interest in the city, including the World's Fair, has also been arranged.

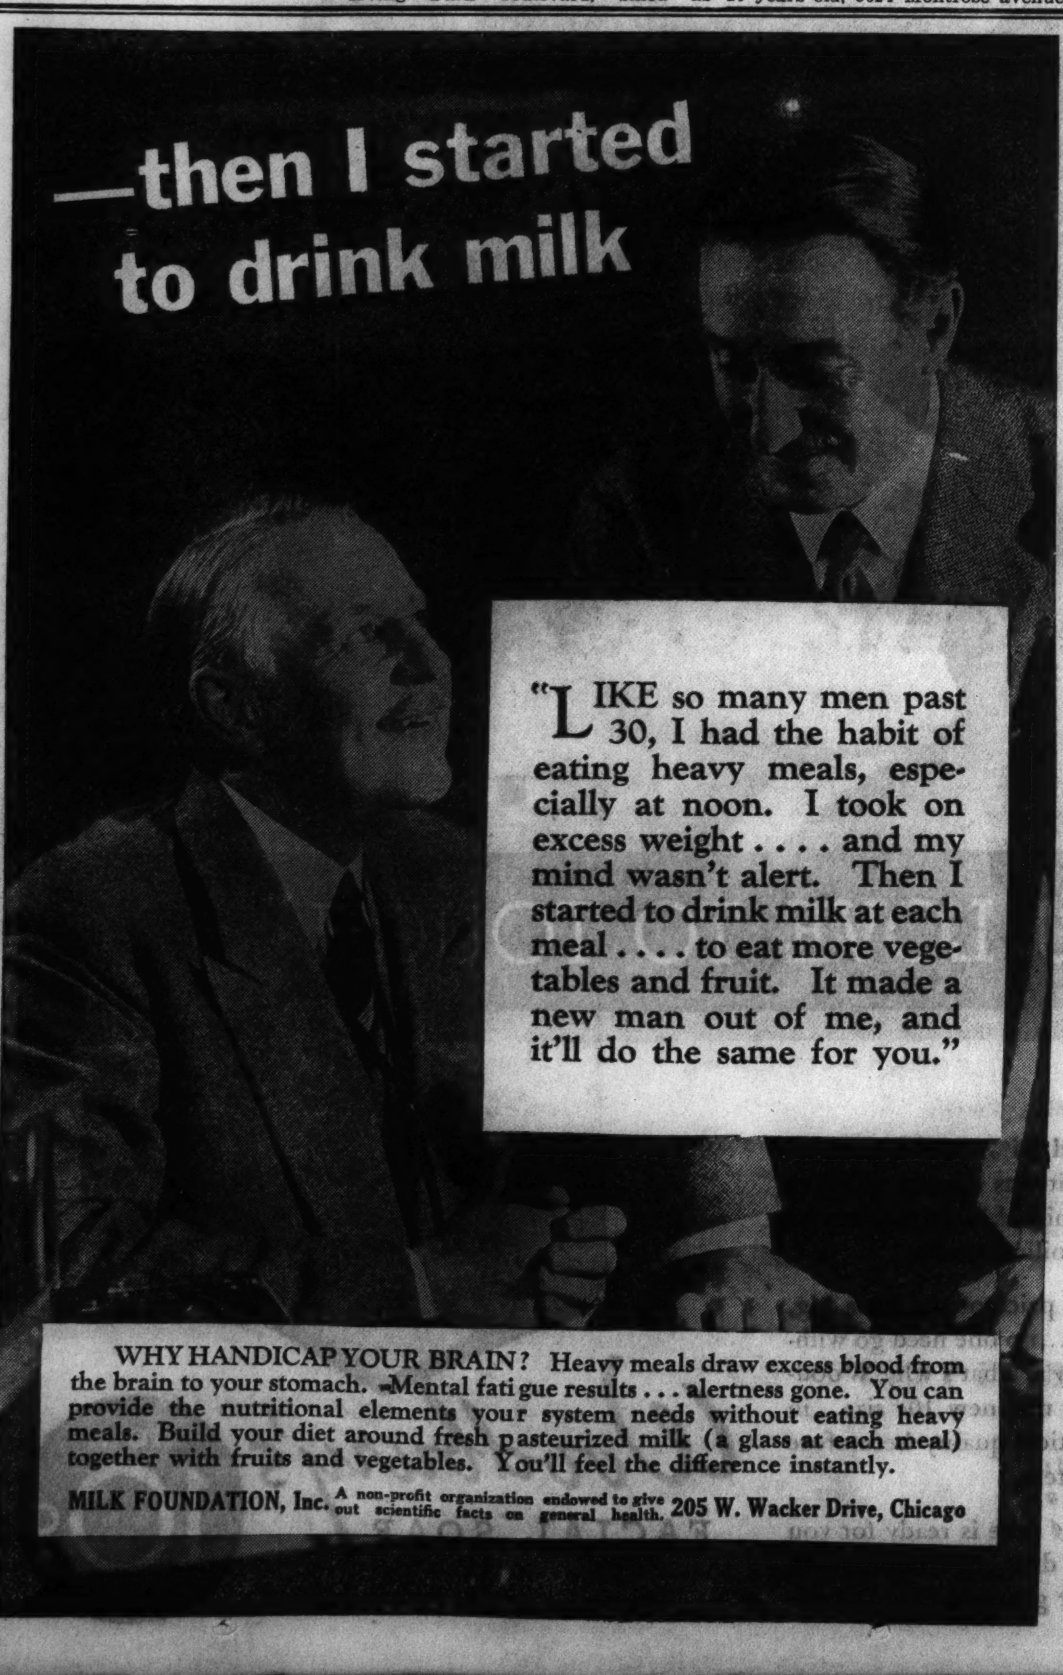
POLICE AT FAIR SEARCH VILLAGE; SEIZE 5 NUDISTS

The World's Fair police surrounded and captured six young nudists and their nudist manager yesterday after a hunt among the shops and streets of the Spanish Village. The young women were bundled off to the detective bureau and booked on a charge of violating south park ordinance No. 70, which prohibits indecent exposure.

The girls first appeared cavorting and capering over the rocks on the shore side of the village. They were led by Zorine Stacy, 21 years old, 7192 Irving Park boulevard, billed as "daughter of the sun" in the Zoro nudist show, a nightly attraction at the village's open square.

The frolic lasted for a half hour. Then Frank Collins of the Fair's public protection office arrived and ordered the performers to a dressing room. He dashed for a telephone and left an assistant on guard. The girls slipped out a back way and disappeared. Four more police arrived and searched the village.

The other prisoners were identified as Lois Stacy, 18 years old, sister of the daughter of the sun; Jackie Page, 22 years old, 2428 Lincoln avenue, and her roommate, Mona Sherry, 22 years old; Terris Mallory, 21 years old, 5257 Irving Park boulevard, and Irma Dean, 20 years old, 5624 Montrose avenue.



—then I started to drink milk
"LIKE so many men past 30, I had the habit of eating heavy meals, especially at noon. I took on excess weight . . . and my mind wasn't alert. Then I started to drink milk at each meal . . . to eat more vegetables and fruit. It made a new man out of me, and it'll do the same for you."
WHY HANDICAP YOUR BRAIN? Heavy meals draw excess blood from the brain to your stomach. Mental fatigue results . . . alertness gone. You can provide the nutritional elements your system needs without eating heavy meals. Build your diet around fresh pasteurized milk (a glass at each meal) together with fruits and vegetables. You'll feel the difference instantly.

A CONSTANT SERVANT IN ALL EMERGENCIES

Sudden emergencies are the supreme test of efficiency.

A member of the household is suddenly taken ill. It is in the dead of night. A doctor is called. He immediately requests boiling water with which to sterilize his instruments. It might be a matter of life or death.

Gas is called on to answer this emergency. It answers with heat—instant heat—one of the most necessary items in the field of medical science.

The gas didn't just happen to be there. A vast organization, with 83 years of experience, has anticipated this and other emergencies and planned to have service always available to take care of them.

Gas is a servant that lives with you constantly, every moment of the day and night. It is always at your command.

Man discovers how to build a fire

Yesterday

Man keeps warm shoveling coal and hauling ashes

Today

Are YOU still a furnace slave?

YOU INVEST NOTHING
To Try Gas Heat

Gas heat can be installed without your investing one cent for equipment. To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense—remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. Accept this startling offer. Phone your nearest gas office TODAY

THOUSANDS of years of progress and men and women shoveling coal and hauling ashes nine or ten months every year. But that was yesterday. Today, modern people have banished furnace drudgery from their homes forever by installing gas heat. 20,000 families in the Chicago area have found a new way to live—a winter season when they never even think about the temperature of their homes.

You, too, can have the many advantages that gas heat brings into any home. Think of it! No coal shoveling, no ash hauling, no getting up at dawn to fix the fire. Walls and curtains that stay fresh and clean for months longer. Automatically controlled temperatures day and night.

All can afford it

Now every home can afford to heat with gas. Drastic reductions in rates—now less than half of what they were a few years ago—have brought the cost within reach of everyone.

But don't take anyone's opinion. Try it yourself. Here's our plan. We'll install a gas burner in your furnace entirely at our expense. You try gas heat one month, two months, a year. If within that time you decide that you don't like it, we'll take it out and replace your former equipment in good workmanlike order. While you are trying it you pay only a small rental during the heating months—only $3 a month in the average home. The rental charge is included with the bill for the gas you use.

But if your experience is like that of 20,000 other families, you'll want to keep gas heat. If so, the rental you have paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment.

That's why you should install gas heat now. Before the rush begins. Also you'll be rid of dirty fuel in your basement.

Get the facts now

Now, before it's too late, get the facts. Call your local gas company for free estimate of the cost of heating your home and full details of our startling offer. Decide now to banish furnace drudgery from your home forever. Call TODAY,

"Give me but the liberty of the press and I will give to the minister a venal house of peers. I will give him a corrupt and servile house of commons. I will give him the full swing of the patronage of office. I will give him the whole host of ministerial influence. I will give him all the power that place can confer upon him, to purchase up submission and overawe resistance; and yet, armed with the liberty of the press, I will go forth to meet him undismayed. I will attack the mighty fabric of that mightier engine. I will shake down from its height corruption and bury it beneath the ruins of the abuses it was meant to shelter."

—Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

FOR AMERICANISM.

Republican candidates are carrying the congressional campaign into a new and more definite and emphatic stage as their speaking tours get under way. In Illinois the lead is being given by the two candidates for congressmen at large, Mr. Brooks and Mr. Jones, both of whom delivered at Taylorville, Monday, forceful appeals for the defense and restoration of American institutions and ideals. The day before in Wisconsin the Republican candidate for governor, James N. Tittemore, took the same line in a notable speech. Thus the vital issue of the campaign is being presented to American voters in this region, always the stronghold of American loyalty.

All three speakers faced our political situation frankly and spoke their convictions without reserve. This is the clear and unavoidable duty of Republicanism in this campaign—to assert the American philosophy of free government, to give fearless expression to our loyalty to American institutions and principles, and to establish a rallying ground for all Americans, regardless of party, who would preserve Americanism against the unjust criticisms and subversive measures of the régime now in power at Washington.

Mr. Tittemore declares truly that "we are living in the most crucial moment in modern times." We are told by the champions of a New Deal that the American experiment in democratic liberty is a failure and must be exchanged for another experiment in superior rule, called by its proponents a New Deal, but in fact the oldest deal in human affairs. In this campaign there should be a fearless clarification of this issue and an unmistakable declaration of American loyalty. We congratulate the speakers named for raising a banner to which all loyalists may repair. The issue they proclaim is above party. It is, as Mr. Brooks asserts, an American question.

ILLEGAL INSOMNIA.

"But Jack has done nothing wrong," protested the fair young thing, as two burly policemen laid hands on her partner in the midst of a fox trot.

"'Zat so?" answered one of the cops. "This guy is a truck driver, and it is ten minutes past his bedtime." Jack was unceremoniously hustled to a waiting patrol wagon.

At a movie palace a second squad of police forced their way into the auditorium despite the protests of the manager to seize a half dozen other scofflaws. In the meantime additional squads were busy enforcing the Delaware law, and a roundup at the police station an hour later showed that a total of ninety miscreants had been collected.

"And now to bed with you," commented the sergeant, "and not another whisper out of you. You're all aware, or should be, that the legislature of the sovereign state of Delaware, duly assembled, has decreed that you, as truck drivers, must have eight hours' sleep, and a checkup has shown that you're all chiselers. No muttering will be permitted, as I will do all the sheep counting necessary."

News item: "Wilmington, Del., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Delaware's law requiring truck drivers to sleep at least eight hours in each twenty-four was invoked by state police against ninety men last night and yesterday. The drivers took their enforced eight hour rests at police stations."

LONG'S REVOLUTION.

The mayor of New Orleans, leading political opponent of Huey Long, says Long declared to him that "there is going to be a revolution in this country and I'm going to lead it." The mayor's report is plausible. We can think of nothing more congenial to the egregious Huey than leading a revolution and he has made a substantial beginning in his own jurisdiction. Nothing like his recent proceedings in Louisiana has occurred in the United States up to this time. No other demagog has gone so far as he has been permitted to go by the people of Louisiana in subverting republican institutions and setting up the tyranny of a lawless individual or group. With revolution a declared objective of the protagonists of the New Deal it is not to be wondered at that Long has been inspired to seize the opportunity which conditions in the former commonwealth of Louisiana seem to have offered him and to show the advocates of revolution in the national capital what a real revolution looks like.

Meanwhile it is worth recalling that the United States senate was offered the means of examining the sources of Long's power in Louisiana and his methods of acquiring and maintaining it. A committee of patriotic women of Louisiana came to Washington with proffers of ample evidence to show that corruption and force dominated the political procedure of the state, but soon found that it was not wanted. A show of investigation was made, but the hearings were the most pitiful exhibition in the history of senate inquests, and that is saying a lot. The result has been that Long escaped without a rebuke and it is no wonder that his immunity encouraged him to trample down lawful processes with ruthless violence. The senate cannot absolve itself from a large share of responsibility for Long's revolution.

When the next senate meets one of its first duties will be to deal with Long and his régime. It is one of the federal government's responsibilities to insure to the people of every state a republican form of government, and Long has abolished it in Louisiana. We do not think the majority of the people of that state want to live under a dictatorship. It has been imposed upon them by violence. But even if they did, the American constitution guarantees a republican form of government to every state and Louisiana has no right to any other form while this Union survives.

RATES BY RAIL AND WATERWAYS.

In its attitude toward waterway expansion THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has maintained consistently that federal construction is justified if market growth is being hampered by lack of cheap transportation, but that the traffic possibilities of each and every project should be examined carefully before federal appropriations are forthcoming. That there is such a thing as cheap water transportation not even the railways will deny—as an outstanding example, the tremendous public benefit accomplished through the union of the Lake Superior ore beds with the coal deposits of eastern states through the construction of the Soo canals and St. Clair connecting channels. This development is isthmian in character, uniting established navigation on the several lakes. It does not necessarily follow that the same economies are available on canalized rivers.

As a user and advocate of water transportation THE TRIBUNE is deluged with waterway stories, many of which are tainted with most unwarranted exaggerations. Two examples of this type of fanaticism crept into the early editions of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of Aug. 5. In one case the claim was made that the completion of the Rock Island dam established 9 foot navigation from St. Louis to Minneapolis, while in the other instance, by an entirely original method of figuring, an enthusiast showed a water transit saving of 10 cents per bushel on grain moving from Morris, Ill., to Chicago, when the rail rate is only slightly greater than five cents per bushel.

As a result THE TRIBUNE will in future closely examine waterway releases even when they have their origin in presumably authentic sources. The incident should draw forcibly to the attention of the exponents of waterway projects that they will defeat their own objectives if they create an impression that all waterway claims are to be taken with a grain of salt.

THE GENIUS OF THE NEGRO IN AMERICA.

The influence of the Negro genius for music has been so important that an event like the music spectacle, "O Sing a New Song," to take place at Soldiers' field Saturday evening, seems overdue. But most enterprises of this sort are slow in crystalizing because they are an unhurried development of the ideas of distinterested men. In this instance, we are told, "O Sing a New Song" is the fruition of five years' planning by men and women especially interested in the Negro expression in music and folk art, and it will present the evolution of the Negroes' contribution from its primitive beginnings to its present stage. This contribution has brought so much that is vivid and colorful to the related arts of music and the dance that it has claimed increasing attention at home and abroad, and the spectacle at Soldiers' field will undoubtedly be memorable. We like to think of American culture as the product of the genius of many peoples, and that of the Negro for song and dance, for laughter and pathos, and an irresistible joy of living is an important contribution and deserves its special recognition.

PRIMING THE PUMP.

A reader of THE TRIBUNE who occasionally sends us his pungent observations on public affairs writes us as follows:

"This 'priming the pump' thing! How many people who swallow this phrase ever primed a pump? Did you? I have. We used one and sometimes two dippers full. If we had gone about—with force—and emptied all the ponds and exhausted all the wells in the neighborhood it could hardly have been called 'priming the pump.' I've a suspicion those whose water was used would have called it stealing. The water thief would have found some phrase to soften his stealing, but it is doubtful if he would have had the nerve to call it 'priming.'"

Our reader suggests an editorial on his text. He has written it. Why paint the lily?

[Rockford Register-Republic.]

Only 122 years ago yesterday, 60 men, women and children were killed or captured by Indians in the Lake Michigan lowlands where Chicago now stands. That was in 1812, when we were forced to fight with England our second war for independence. The ambush was at what is now 18th street and Prairie avenue.

At A Century of Progress exhibition there is a replica of old Fort Dearborn, named after a gallant officer and statesman of that early era. Surely no member of that frontier garrison suspected on that fatal day that a great city was to rise along the lake so soon, or that its one hundredth birthday would be marked by a display of such progress as all previous human history had not shown.

Less than a century and a quarter ago Indians massacred the first Chicagoans. Only slightly more than a century ago northern Illinois drove out the Indian claimants and opened the way for settlement.

The grist mill, the log cabin, the muzzle loading rifle, the ax and the fireplace were the standards of that day, scarcely a lifetime past. Life was simple, but rude and hard, and danger lurked in the unknown. Today we complain about our complexity, forgetting that as individuals we merely have the opportunity for a wider choice.

The best remedy for loss, discouragement, dissatisfaction or fear is to think back upon Fort Dearborn, or even Stillman's run, and realize how far we have come and in how short a time.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

IN A RAILROAD ROUNDHOUSE.

I wonder if they tell each other some time,
Panting from their long runs and glad of rest,
Breathing asthmatically and caked with grime,
Weary and wheel sore, chest to iron chest,
Like meat herds in a byre that have run wild
Across far prairies? I wonder do they speak
Where they are gathered there in droves and mild
As idle behemoths in a jungle creek?
And if they talk, what passes in the steam
Or woolly smoke that hangs about their stack?
Mumbling of a wild open stretch of track,
And the careening, rocking, bolting flight they knew.
True to their maker's pledge, never to falter,
But bear their loads in patience, obey the crew,
Resolute, untiring courses that never alter,
Their lonesome whistles across the wilderness,
Their hearts on fire and eager in their pride
To make their time nor satisfied with less.
One with the flying hours that with them ride,
And sweating oil through every metal pore,
With little streams of the vermilion rust
Where eager water drops had bubbled o'er.
Their headlights, too, are closed like tired eyes.
You tiptoe past them, wishing to let them sleep.
How human they seem, monstrous though in size,
They seem such kindly things, such patience keep,
Responsive to the guiding of a hand,
Yet swift as comets, race across the land.
Clarence Milligan.

CHINQUAPINS—FINIS.

HTW: After reading the Wake-Line I'm not surprised at your confusion over what the quinquapin really is. The variety of interpretations you have received reminds one of the description of an elephant by the seven blind men.

The real chinquapin [of American Indian origin] is the dwarf chestnut of the United States [Castanea pumila]. It is a sweet edible nut, which is usually solitary in the burr. I spent many Sundays when a boy gathering them in the hills of Arkansas.

As W. H. Allen writes, there is a related tree found in California and Oregon [Castanopsis Chroysophylla] that bears nuts which also are edible, but it is not exactly the same as those found here in the middle west. Linnebe G. Kennedy from Minnesota is referring to the "chinquapin oak," a dwarf scrubby oak [Quercus Prinoides] of the eastern and midwestern United States, which has a sweet acorn and is called "dwarf chinquapin oak" and "scrub chestnut oak," but should not be confused with the chinquapin.

Helper Shoemaker from Missouri is again confusing a local plant with the real quinquapin. The lotus, a flowering water plant of the genus Nelumbo, is what is known as the Indian lotus and is sometimes called the water "chinkapin." These may be gathered in the late fall in the Fox lakes region near Chicago.

Lance G. Hooks, Chief Clerk,

U. S. Department of Agriculture.

HIGHLIGHTS IN MY MEMORY.

Ironclad teacher's rule no more chinkipins be brought inside the schoolhouse,

Upturned box with a mighty rattle in the stillness of the room, chinkipins rolling in every direction clear across the room,

CURFEW CODE FOR COWS.

(From Elgin, Ia., Echo, via Helper Mrs. J. H.)

Official Town Notice: Notice is hereby given that cows may be staked on Elgin streets only between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. They are not permitted to be staked out at night and at no time may they be staked where they can reach the gardens. By Order of Town Council.

This Wake-Line Is Conducted by Harvey T. Woodruff. Help! Help!

MANY YEARS AGO, yes, very many years ago, the present Wake-Line survived until next to last in a grammar school spelldown. We missed on absence, which we spelled a-b-s-c-e-n-c-e. To this day we unconsciously spell it abscence unless we happen to think of that spelldown. We have just looked in R. H. L.'s dictionary to be sure it still is absence. There we saw something we had not noticed before—his name rubber stamped on about every tenth page of that dictionary. And we had no thought of taking it with us when we return to the sport pages.

IMPROVED STOP LIGHTS.

Harvey: Such a large percentage of our motorists appearing to be color blind, it is suggested that the city install the new speaking device on all stop and go lights:

"Who-o-a ! ! ! ——? What th' h——??? Can't yer-see——??? Back-up er No-brakes-on-it——????"

I think I heard one of these devices while driving through Old Dubuque last Sunday, although I couldn't tell for sure whether it was on the stop light or on the cop that stopped the car following us. Amos Rusty of Rockford.

LOSS OF POPULATION.

HTW: On account of the drouth we're about to lose two popular National Champions from our village. The corn husking champion claims there is no corn to husk, while the hog calling champ has no corn to call the hogs to. Jack Whitton.

CROWDING THE HERO BENCH.

While busting through one of our alleged neighbor villages, John Law drew up beside us on a motorcycle and yelled, "Hey, where's the fire?" And I didn't lean out of the window and say, "In your eyes, darling, in your eyes," but I wanted to.
W. R. Eberle.

DUMBBELL POMES.

The lowing herd wanders o'er the lea,
As Gray first said, of course;
And that same lowing herd, to me,
Moves like my much-bet horse!
Purdy Granger.

MANAGER CHARLEY GRIMM of the Cubs was temporarily relieved of his duties and sent home to rest because club executives liked him and not because they were critical of his work, according to official pronunciamento. With that as a precedent, we trust R. H. L. will return from this here now Nantucket on Aug. 31 instead of after Labor day so we can attend the all-star football game, not because he is critical but because he likes us. We are this day wiring east to know how he is faring.

X MARKS THE SPOT.

Wake-Line: Al Nelson up at Moen lake, Rhinelander, Wis., says two colored chaps fishing for bass were having unusually good luck and George says, "Ain't we getting 'em?" "We sure is," Sam replied. "Better mark this spot by making a cross on the bottom of the boat," said George. Sam did as requested. Then, after a few minutes' meditation, he exclaimed, "Why, you no account ignoramis, we may not have this same boat next time."

BRAIN TUMORS.

CENTURIES ago physicians thought that the brain, because it was regarded as the seat of the soul, was exempt from tumor formation. Later, when post-mortem examinations became more common, tumors were revealed in the brain substance. We now know that tumors grow in the brain just as they grow in other parts of the body; not quite so frequently, perhaps, but when they do occur they are disabling to an unusual degree. Sometimes these tumors grow from the coverings of the brain, sometimes from the brain substance itself, or they may be cystic in character.

With the great progress in surgical technique and asepsis and as a result of intensive studies of the functions of the brain and its nerve pathways, this region, hitherto considered immune from attack, now yields to the deft skill of the brain surgeon.

There are many signs and symptoms of brain tumor. Among these may be mentioned persistent headache, sometimes momentary loss of memory and speech, paralysis, convulsions, and swelling of the optic nerve as it enters the eye. This latter manifestation is usually associated with blurring of vision. In certain types of tumors the loss of vision may be the first objective sign. These symptoms may be considered as signs of pressure.

If there are signs of pressure within the brain it is frequently difficult to locate the exact area in which it is exerted. X-ray pictures of the brain may supply no information whatsoever, as the tumor substance may not be sufficiently dense to cast a shadow. In other words, tumor tissue may appear on the X-ray plate exactly like brain tissue.

A method of increasing the efficiency of X-ray examinations consists in the injection of air into the spaces within the brain. These spaces are called ventricles. Air in such a situation will cast a shadow, and should such a shadow appear distorted it may indicate the site of pressure. Sometimes symptoms will determine the location of a tumor. For example, a tumor in a given area is usually attended with a definite set of symptoms; in another position the symptoms may be quite different.

Cysts in any region of the brain are just as disabling and symptom producing as true tumors. They are saclike affairs filled with fluid and vary greatly in size. They may be attached to the membranous covering of the brain, or may exist in the brain substance, causing pressure and destroying tissue. As a rule the surgical attack on cysts in the brain substance is attended with spectacular relief of symptoms. Many of these cysts do not recur.

Tumors, if they are deeply imbedded in the brain, or if they involve vital structures, are removed with great difficulty. Sometimes they cannot be removed without destroying life, and hence are considered inoperable. Naturally brain surgery has not as yet reached that degree of safety that attends abdominal surgery in skilled hands. Nevertheless great strides have been made and much help may be given those sufferers from brain disease who but a dozen years ago would have been condemned to hopeless invalidism with slowly progressing brain destruction. For progress in this important field medical science owes much to the work of Victor Horsley and William Macewen in Great Britain, and particularly to Harvey Cushing in America.

NEARSIGHTED.

G. A. C. writes: I am 18 years old and have worn glasses for over four years. I strained my eyes reading when I was very young and am extremely nearsighted. I can read the smallest print without glasses, but everything more than a foot away is blurred. Will such nearsightedness lead to blindness? I have completed high school but do not know whether I could stand the study in college. With my glasses on I can see perfectly.

REPLY.

If you have an ordinary myopia [nearsightedness] there is very little danger of your going blind and no reason why you should not go to college. You should be properly fitted with glasses and wear them. With ordinary hygienic precautions close work does not affect even this type of myopia.

MAY BE IMPETIGO.

D. S. writes: Several months ago sores broke out on the corners of my mouth. The skin eats away, fungus appears and drops off. After this new fungus will appear. The sores will not heal. At times they have a sticky discharge. My nose is always sticky and crusts form. I eat plain, wholesome food and very little sweets.

REPLY.

You probably have a very common but stubborn infection known as impetigo. Ammoniated mercury ointment, if used consistently, will in most cases relieve the infection.

STOCK CERTIFICATES.

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. When action is taken to get judgment on a defunct bank assessment, and said bank has, during its operation, borne three different names, under each of which stock certificates were issued, is it legally required that but one—the final—name be used in taking this action? Or should all three names be given in the judgment action since previous certificates were not replaced by succeeding ones? 2. Does the law require new certificates when the name of a bank is changed? 3. Is it legally required that a new certificate of stock be issued when stock owned by an estate is placed in trust? 4. What are the requirements for the issuance of new bank certificates to replace previous ones? A. M. H.

1. We see little importance to the name that is used if there is in fact no ambiguity or confusion between different corporations. We could advise to better advantage if you had stated the facts on which your question arises.

2. We see no reason why they could not be changed on their face.

3. An indorsed certificate can be placed in the hands of the trustee without any change on the books of the corporation if that is what you mean to ask.

4. Surrender of the indorsed certificate, payment of the transfer tax and satisfying the requirements of the transfer officials.

CERTIFICATE OF TITLE.

Flossmoor, Ill., Aug. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Has a dealer a right to take in used car on trade and sell car without obtaining certificate of title to buyer in state of Illinois [2] or of another state? This trade involved two used cars, [3] dealer refusing to furnish buyer with certificate of title after transaction. 4. Can dealer repossess cars without returning trade-in car? E. M.

1. Section 7 of the new act prohibits the selling of a car for which a certificate is required unless the seller has obtained a certificate. Section 3 requires a certificate at the time of registration if the car is operated in this state. You do not state facts to indicate whether your case is covered by this wording.

2. Depends on the law of that state.

3. We suggest that you take the matter up with the secretary of state.

ORAL AGREEMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise me in the following: A rented out a house to B before three witnesses. B agreed to rent the house but did not move in and did not pay rent. Is A entitled to redress? J. G. F.

If the oral agreement was to be fully performed within the year from its date, then we see no reason why it should not be legally enforceable.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—A Victorian act of parliament foils all the efforts of the customs authorities to stop Great Britain's great smuggling racket. In twelve months 3,000 smugglers have been convicted, $500,000 fines have been imposed, and smuggled goods worth $250,000 have been confiscated. In addition steamships, motorboats, automobiles, and an airplane belonging to the smugglers have been seized.

But all this has not deterred the smugglers. Owing to the customs consolidation act of 1876, which restricts the maximum sentence of imprisonment for smuggling to six months, a conviction merely interrupts a smuggler's career.

Customs officers have captured one big tobacco smuggler three times. On the first occasion he was fined $30,000, on the second $75,000, and the third time $185,000. Each time he offered no defense, smiled and took the alternative of six months in prison. When the act was passed the duty on spirits was a few cents a gallon; now it is about $17 a gallon. The duty on tobacco was negligible, and there was no duty on saccharin, which now has an import duty of nearly one dollar an ounce.

Sixty years ago smuggling was carried on by individuals on a small scale. Today it is carried on by gangs who are out for big money. A recently discovered plan was to bring saccharin into England by airplane, but customs officers and police learned of the plot, seized the airplane and its cargo as soon as it landed, and arrested the smugglers.

A German gang suddenly flooded the British markets with cigaret lighters, on which there is a very heavy duty, recently. They had discovered an ingenious way of smuggling the lighters from the Irish Free State. The gang was tracked down, their automobiles were seized, and the leader was fined a huge sum. He went to prison for six months.

The biggest and most daring scheme for tobacco smuggling was thought out by a group known as the Lesser gang. They smuggled tobacco worth thousands of dollars into England before they were caught. Three leaders of the gang were fined $150,000 each. They all went to prison for six months.

New, energetic young men have just been appointed by the customs commissioners to track down smugglers, but their work is hampered by the old law of six months' maximum imprisonment. The authorities realize that it would be impossible to stamp out smuggling altogether. It would cost $55,000,000 a year and require a force of 70,000 men.

THE MYTH OF PLENTY.

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 15.—Your editorial of Aug. 14, "The Myth of Plenty," is likely to be misleading to a large number of your readers.

Mr. Robert R. Doane reports quite correctly that this country has not the productive capacity to provide every one in it with a reasonable minimum standard of health and comfort.

If every person had a bed and two pairs of sheets, sufficient cotton blankets, a pillow and at least two pillow cases, two towels, and merely a change of cotton clothing, we would probably need to increase our cotton acreage, and all our spindles would run day and night for a long time so to equip them. A similar condition will be found in many other lines.

But we do have excess capacity and overproduction in those same lines for two important reasons. So many of our people do not have the purchasing power to provide those things even if they really wanted them. Second, and perhaps of greater importance, so many of our people do not actually want for or desire much that Mr. Doane includes under his minimum standard of health and comfort simply because they have never developed through personal contact, by observation, or through education an appreciation of and a desire for such things.

Mr. Doane would give us some really new and "explosive" ideas by showing us in a practical way how we may develop among all our people a keen desire for such a minimum standard of health and comfort, and how they might attain—again in a practicable way—the purchasing power to satisfy those desires.

THE UNPAID BONDHOLDER.

Marcellus, Mich., Aug. 14.—In a recent issue you reported that Mayor Kelly insists that there shall be no pay cuts for Chicago teachers. On your picture page you showed a smiling bevy of teachers who looked well fed and smartly dressed. I believe it would be quite a novelty, by way of contrast, if you would show a group of real estate bondholders with pinched faces and shabby clothing. Their stomachs are empty and their clothing threadbare because they have received no interest money since 1930. The buildings which were erected with their savings are buried under an impossible load of back taxes. Is justice blindfolded because she can't look us poor devils in the face? MAX S.

ANOTHER EASTERNER.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 13.—I didn't agree with your old slogan; neither did I agree with your attitude toward the eighteenth amendment. However, as an easterner [seeing a letter from one who calls herself an easterner in today's TRIBUNE] I would congratulate you upon your stand. I read the constitution last Saturday, and guess I must be dumb if some things are constitutional. As an electrical engineer I'm disgusted with the antics of the water boys and as a railroad man I'm peeved at promises made and not kept. More power to you! HOPEFUL.

SCENIC BOX CARS.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Your editorial on "Scenic Box Cars" is certainly misleading to one not familiar with the facts.

Being in the employ of one of the large transcontinental railroads has naturally given me a little insight into the evils of having private line car owners furnish cars to shippers in lieu of using railroad owned cars, a large number of which are now standing idle on sidings throughout the country. The railroads are in a position to furnish the demands of the shipper with as good if not better equipment, in most cases, than the private line company, so that angle may be eliminated from the onset.

Your editorial has eliminated entirely the most salient feature of the entire question, and that is the fact that the railroads are compelled to pay the owners of private line cars 2 cents per mile for every empty and loaded mile these cars are hauled. The shipper pays nothing to the owner of the car, and that being true, who supports these private line companies if it isn't the railroads? The one big sales argument the private line car owner has that the railroads have not is the advertising feature; that is, affording the shipper the privilege of lettering the car with his name and wares. The railroads could not resort to this practice for the very simple reason that it would be but a short time before every shipper would want the privilege extended to his company, which would simply mean that such cars would be in the exclusive service of that shipper and take from the present pooling of cars that many units.

I hope you will be fair enough to present to your readers the railroads' side of the question in so far as I have been able to present it.

RAILROAD EMPLOYE.

LOUD SPEAKERS AT A CHURCH.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—I noticed in today's TRIBUNE where some people called the squad car to the Third Presbyterian church in order to make them stop broadcasting over their loud speaker a series of meetings they are holding.

This sin cursed city of ours today needs more religion and more broadcasting of services via the loud speaker than it ever needed before. We have sin all around us, and if this condition keeps up I pity the future generation. The police refer to city ordinance 4194 covering the field of "noises," but they forget this ordinance when some political grafter is running for office, when they have loud speakers, bands and what not, which is certainly more annoying.

I hope the Third Presbyterian church will continue the loud speaker and that other churches will follow their example. I am in no way connected with the above mentioned church, nor do I know any one in it, but I believe in fair play. They allow loud speakers for political meetings, advertising, etc., so why not allow it for preaching the word of God, which will benefit the public 100 per cent more than the others mentioned?

AUSTRIA MUST BE KEPT FREE, IL DUCE WARNS

Reaches Agreement with Dr. Schuschnigg.

FLORENCE, Italy, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The destiny of Italy and Austria was linked closer than ever today by Premier Benito Mussolini and Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, who sat down and talked together in the ancient Villa de Marinis overlooking Florence.

An official communique issued after their three hour conference contained what amounted to Mussolini's warning to other nations to keep out of Austrian internal affairs. The term "independence," the communique said, includes "complete internal autonomy."

A suggestion that a restoration of the Hapsburg monarchy in Austria was concerned in the meeting of the premiers was seen in the departure of Dr. Schuschnigg tonight for Genoa on a route that took him through Via Reggio, where the former Empress Zita is staying with relatives.

Denies Military Pact.

Dr. Schuschnigg, with one Austrian officer and several Italian carabinieri as bodyguards, entered a large limousine at midnight and was driven rapidly out of Florence escorted by other cars carrying advance and rear guards of carabinieri.

Just before leaving he declared military matters had not been mentioned during his conference with Mussolini, insisting that "only economic matters were discussed."

The question referred to a rumor that the premiers drafted a military clause for the Italo-Austro-Hungarian accord, providing mutual assistance between the three countries and permitting Italy to march into Austria if necessary to aid that nation.

3 O'Clock in the Morning.

Asked if he intended to stop at Via Reggio, he shrugged his shoulders and queried:

"At 3 o'clock in the morning?"

Dr. Schuschnigg said he would board the Conti di Savoia promptly on arriving at Genoa tomorrow, remaining aboard as far as Nice. The liner sails at noon and reaches Nice early in the evening. From Nice Dr. Schuschnigg said he would return immediately by train to Milan, then would go to Venice and Vienna. He said he had not planned to meet representatives of the French government at Nice.

Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Mussolini and head of the Italian press bureau, declared the name of the claimant to the Austrian throne, Archduke Otto, had not even been mentioned in the premiers' conference.

Reach Agreement.

The press communique stated:

"Two colloquies of interest to the two countries were held, during which questions in the political, economic, and cultural fields were minutely examined.

"There resulted an effective community of directives and methods in what concerns the independence and integrity of the Austrian state, an independence and integrity to which appertain also complete internal autonomy and which represent, moreover, the concrete European interest and a favorable element for the maintenance of the tranquility of the Danubian sector.

"The two statesmen confirmed—with regard to the economic situation—the utility of the Rome protocol whose radius of action can be intensified and enlarged and they were in accord in regarding as opportune the activity directed toward developing evermore a spirit of collaboration between the two countries.

"These directives, which were initiated and supported by the lamented Chancellor Dollfuss, will also be the guide in future relations between Italy and Austria."

What "Methods" Means.

To the mention of "methods," Count Ciano contributed some enlightenment. Asked what the term implied in the case of emergencies such as that when former Chancellor Dollfuss was slain, he said:

"Well, we found the method then, when we sent troops to the border. The method must be determined by the need."

Though Mussolini had just come from army maneuvers, he wore civilian clothes, with the trousers jammed into riding boots. His headgear was a worn yachting cap. A company of Florentine guards in the medieval uniform of the Medicis surrounded the railroad station. Achille Starace, Fascist party secretary; Fulvio Suvich, undersecretary of foreign affairs, and Baron Pompeo Aloisi, delegate to the league of nations, were in the welcoming party. Suvich was included for a while in the morning conference.

ROGELL'S WIFE WINS $300 A MONTH TILL TRIAL OF DIVORCE

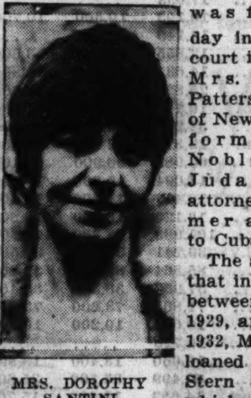
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Questions as to how many bedrooms are in the home of Film Director Albert Rogell and his actress wife, Marian Douglas, and what became of $1,000 cash Rogell believed he had, were settled in a court hearing today.

The hearing was on the blonde, blue eyed actress' application for $750 monthly alimony. She and the director are suing each other for divorce in a case that has developed probably more ramifications than any such in Hollywood.

The judge awarded $300 alimony a month pending trial to Miss Douglas.

As for the $1,000, it seems Rogell had that much in a joint account with his wife, who drew it out Aug. 11, an hour before a court order would have restrained the withdrawal.

ATTORNEY SUED FOR $120,590 BY JUDAH'S EX-WIFE



MRS. DOROTHY SANTINI.

Suit asking $120,590 from Attorney Oscar D. Stern, allegedly for nonpayment of a loan, was filed yesterday in Circuit court in behalf of Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Santini of New York City, former wife of Noble Brandon Judah, Chicago attorney and former ambassador to Cuba.

The suit alleges that in the period between Nov. 13, 1929, and May 24, 1932, Mrs. Santini loaned Attorney Stern $98,790, of which only $2,595 has been paid. According to the suit, Attorney Stern was asked by Mrs. Santini to pay the loan and answered that he was unable to do so. The suit asks that judgment for the loan, plus 5 per cent interest, be accorded Mrs. Santini.

Reached at his office, Stern declared the loan was a personal one. He said he was surprised at the suit, as he expected to repay the money.

Stern is a member of the law firm of Judah, Reichman, Trumbull, Cox & Stern. Mrs. Santini, daughter of John Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, O., was granted a divorce from Col. Judah in August of last year.

JAPAN CHARGES SOVIET WITH BAD FAITH IN DEALS

Says Railway Row May Become 'Really Grave.'

TOKIO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Japanese government today fired the latest salvo in the conflict of propaganda which Tokio and Moscow is waging over the deadlock of negotiations for the purchase by Manchukuo of the Chinese Eastern railway.

Firing back at Moscow's statement of Aug. 18, a foreign office communique protested that Japan is sincere and obliquely charged Russia with bad faith, then hints that the situation may become "really very grave."

Japan declared that if the soviet really intends to transfer the railway to Manchukuo, Moscow "should certainly make a proper demonstration of such purpose. . . . The Japanese government still entertains hope for a suitable and satisfactory solution."

"Efforts Unfruitful."

Asserting that Japan has been a sincere mediator between the soviet and Manchukuo, the communique continues:

"It has been said . . . the soviet is really trying to delay the parley in the hope of seeing Japan involved in an international crises which the soviet presumes to be imminent. . . .

"If such indeed is the real intention of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics it is held that all the sincere and tireless labors of the Japanese government to mediate the issue must necessarily prove unfruitful. The situation then would be really very grave."

The communique summarizes the tortuous negotiations which began in June, 1933, when Russia asked 250,000,000 gold rubles [$125,000,000] or an equivalent of 265,000,000 yen. Manchukuo offered 50,000,000 yen.

Bids Come Nearer.

Koki Hirota, Japanese foreign minister, suggested on July 25 a purchase price of 120,000,000 yen, plus the costs of discharge allowances for the soviet employés of the railway, a cost estimated at 30,000,000 yen. The soviet made a counter demand of 160,000,000 yen, plus the discharge allowance, and a deadlock resulted.

The Japanese statement denied that there was any connection between the deadlock and Manchukuo's recent arrests of soviet employés of the Chinese Eastern railway.

RED CROSS MAN SEES 59 LANDS: VISITS CHICAGO

Louis de Gielgud has crossed the frontiers of 59 countries in his capacity as undersecretary of the League of Red Cross Societies, but until yesterday he had not seen more of Chicago than the interior of two railway stations.

At least, so he confessed to local Red Cross officials when they met the French executive and his party yesterday morning as they arrived on the Pennsylvania Liberty Limited. On this trip, however, he is taking a whole day for sightseeing here before leaving today for the west coast.

A graduate of Oxford and a grandson of Ellen Terry, famous British actress, Mr. De Gielgud is en route to the international Red Cross conference to open on Oct. 16 in Tokio. He is accompanied by his wife and a cousin, Miss Rosa de Gielgud, official of the South African division of the British Red Cross society. They are staying at the Congress hotel.

MERRIAM PLANS STUDY OF MOONEY PLEA IF ELECTED

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 21.—(AP)—If Acting Governor Frank Merriam is elected to succeed himself he will give "serious consideration" to an application for pardon filed by Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of the San Francisco Preparedness day bombing, the executive said today. Mooney is serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for the 1916 bombing in which ten persons were killed and forty injured.

Responsibility for the blast, which spread death and terror through a downtown San Francisco parade, has steadfastly been denied by Mooney.

Gov. Merriam, who as lieutenant governor succeeded the late Gov. James Rolph Jr., made his announcement in acknowledging receipt of Mooney's 300 page brief setting forth the convict's arguments for an unqualified pardon. The governor, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in the Aug. 28 election, said:

"While this (the election) will not prevent me from giving the application consideration when I find time and opportunity, I do not feel that it is necessary for me to give it such consideration and decision unless perhaps I shall be elected for the succeeding term."

WEATHER PILOT AND GIRL KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Craft Making Observation Flight Wrecked.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Johnny Kudrna, local flying weatherman, and his passenger and close friend, Miss Irene Wostrel, 21, were killed today when his cabin plane crashed in an Iowa cornfield while he was making his daily weather observation flight.

The plane was demolished, apparently having struck the ground at terrific speed. Its parts were strewn over an area 400 feet long and the main body of the ship had plowed a deep furrow in the field. The fuselage was a twisted mass of metal and the motor was smashed and battered almost beyond recognition.

Kudrna's body was found near the wreckage of the fuselage and Miss Worstrel's body was found 30 feet away on a bank outside the field in which the ship crashed.

Sight Wreck from Air.

The weather plane had been sought since early forenoon when it failed to return from its usual flight which began at 4:04 a. m. today. Pilot Lawrence Enzminger and Miss Mae Calame, his passenger, sighted the wreckage of the weather ship from the air.

Unable to land because of the rough ground, the searching ship flew back to the airport and reported the tragedy. It was not until some time later that rescue parties reached the scene and extricated the bodies.

Kudrna would have been 28 years old tomorrow. He had 500 flying hours behind him and had been flying the weather plane here since July 1.

Last night he accompanied Miss Wostrel to a party and they planned to remain up all night, friends said, so that the girl could accompany Kudrna on his early morning flight. Miss Wostrel is survived by two brothers and a sister, living here, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Wostrel of Verdigre, Neb.

Cause Remains Mystery.

The cause of the crash remained a mystery, though authorities expressed the opinion that the weather man may have encountered fog in trying to return to the airport. However, the plane, when found, was headed away from the airport, indicating that the accident may have occurred shortly after the takeoff.

"TALK SICKNESS" VICTIM AGAIN IS ABLE TO SLEEP

Mount Gilead, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Natural sleep came to Donald Campbell, "talking sickness" victim, for the first time last night and today his family reported a belief he showed definite improvement.

Brief periods of silence, the first the 30 year old Columbus, O., truck driver voluntarily has lapsed into in sixteen days, indicated that Campbell was responding to treatment.

The improvement, confirming an opinion of Campbell's physician, Dr. C. S. Jackson, that the man will recover, came simultaneously with a request made to all members of the Mount Gilead Baptist church that they join in prayer for the recovery of Campbell.

'WOMAN IN WHITE' SOUGHT IN MYSTERY DEATH OF PRIEST

Dedham, Mass., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Police investigating the death of the Rev. William P. Drennan, pastor of a Chelsea, Mass., Catholic church, today sought a mysterious "woman in white" reported to have been seen bending over the minister's body before it was discovered beneath a tree on the grounds of a school here.

Discovery of a wound on the side of the minister's head and bruises on his face tended to support the police theory of foul play, possibly at the hands of a robber. An opposite theory, however, was that the priest was a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Police reported that footprints had been traced from the street to the spot on the school lawn where the clergyman's body was found. This tended to indicate that the body had been dragged to the lawn. If he had been assaulted, it was said, it was possible that he had been attacked elsewhere and his body brought by automobile to the school grounds.

CONSULS SEEK DANIEL PETRAS' HIDDEN MILLIONS

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Eleven years after his obscure death, Daniel Petras, an immigrant, has become of interest to the consulates of Poland and Germany, though neither is sure to which this interest rightly attaches.

The search by the consulates, revealed today, began last May. Letters were received from abroad which indicated that a story was in circulation that Petras had left a mysterious estate of $20,000,000, through a will that was to be sealed and its bequests thus kept secret for ten years.

Inquiry established that a Daniel Petras had died in Philadelphia in 1923. There no record could be found that he left any will and no indication that he had left an estate. It was believed in Philadelphia that he had resided for several years in Milwaukee. No record was found there that he had made any will and left it in the hands of any lawyers.

The Polish consulate was the first to receive letters from persons claiming to be heirs of Petras who asked about sharing in the $20,000,000. Then the German consulate got similar letters. In several cases each letter writer claimed to be a sole surviving relative.

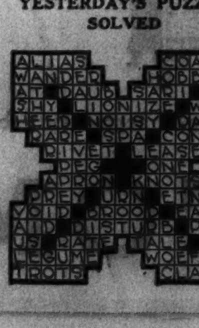
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



STUDY BULLETS FOR CLEWS IN UNION KILLING

Ballistics experts for the police department last evening were comparing bullets taken from the automobile of James Dungan, business agent of local No. 191 of the painters' union, who on Monday evening was attacked by machine gunners, with several bullets which killed Roy Thompson, another official of the painters' union early last Sunday.

JAMES DUNGAN.

The comparisons were being made on the premise that gangsters were attempting to gain control of the union and were using terrorist methods to "muscle in." Dungan was attacked while he was returning from Thompson's wake in the latter's home at 8241 Dorchester avenue. Dungan escaped by driving his cab to the Deering street police station and seeking protection inside.

After the attack on Dungan Monday evening police said they believed Thompson was slain as a sequel to the murder of Michael [Bubs] Quinlan, former south side hoodlum and beer salesman. Quinlan, according to police, was acting as "heavy" man for a group of hoodlums who were attempting to seize the painters' union.

URGES WOMEN BE DENIED BALLOT IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Filipino women may never exercise the right to vote conferred by the legislature last year. Strong opposition was indicated today against inclusion of the clause enfranchising women in the constitution of the commonwealth government now being drawn up. The constitution is expected to become effective early next year, and women cannot vote until after Jan. 1, under the present act.

Delegate Perfecto Baillil from Bosol province, a member of the suffrage committee of the constitution convention, received an ovation when in an address he attacked the enfranchisement of women.

He asserted the suffragists of Manila did not represent the sentiment of the provinces. The women's vote, he declared, "will serve as an open sesame for immorality, vice, divorce, birth control, and idleness."

A contrary view, however, has been taken by Manuel Quezon, president of the senate and outstanding Filipino leader. He went on record in favor of woman suffrage.

MISSING CO-ED'S CALL ENDS HUNT FOR HER IN CITY

Miss Janet Bowen White, 21 year old University of Michigan co-ed, who disappeared from Ann Arbor on Friday, has been located in Coldwater, Mich., it was learned last night by her brother, Lyman, who had come to Chicago in the belief that the girl might be here.

Young White stated that his sister had seen newspaper stories telling of the grief and anxiety she was causing her family, and had called her uncle, F. J. Nash, in Farmington, Mich.

"She said she had hitch-hiked to Coldwater and had gotten a job there," young White said. "She is working as a waitress in a roadside sandwich shop. Mr. Nash is starting for Coldwater to talk to her and to see if she doesn't want to come back."

The girl, daughter of the late Kirby White, vice president of the Ferry Morse Seed company of Detroit, had been despondent because she feared she would be unable to pass the summer quarter examinations at the university, her brother said.

AUGUSTUS KELLY FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for Augustus Kelly, 69 years old, well known attorney and for the last 19 years an assistant in the state's attorney's office, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the chapel at 6959 North Clark street. Burial will be in the Acacia Park cemetery.

Mr. Kelly, who spent 39 years in the practice of law in Chicago, died Monday evening in his home at 1439 Thome avenue following an illness of four months. He is survived by his widow and a son, James Kelly, also an attorney. Mr. Kelly was a member of the American and Chicago Bar associations, the Phi Gamma Delta and Delta Chi fraternities.

A committee from the Chicago Bar association, including State's Attorney Courtney, Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, and Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton, will attend the funeral services.

Veteran Kills Himself; In Poor Health 3 Years

William Brinton, 60 years old, 2218 Washington boulevard, Bellwood, a Spanish-American war veteran, shot and killed himself yesterday in his home. His daughter Helen told police Brinton had recently been released from the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital. His health had been poor three years.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Ed Wynn will stop off this morning for a few minutes to water his horse, and then he will gallop on to Milwaukee to join the International Association of Fire Chiefs in convention there to be made an honorary member. Tomorrow around noon he will return to Chicago. Chicago fire officials will meet him at the Union station and speed him to the Fair in a fire truck, where his familiar So-o-o-o-oh will be back on the air during a special program planned in his honor. Wynn's wisecracks will be aired over KYW-NBC at 3:15 p. m. to a background of sirens and clatter of the fire fighting equipment from the Midget Village.

When Ed returns to his sponsored air series on Tuesday, Oct. 2, he will be shouting "Play that" to Eddy Duchin and his orchestra instead of to Don Voorhees and his bandsmen, as he has for three seasons. Duchin will leave the Congress hotel and return to the Central Park Casino on Labor day. Paul Pendarvis will follow Duchin into the Urban room and on NBC. The Pendarvis orchestra is currently heard from the William Penn hotel over NBC in Pittsburgh.

Edwin C. Hill, CBS news commentator, got into town yesterday to handle details of the 4th annual scholarship award dinner of Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild this evening. He will be master of ceremonies on the program to be broadcast at 8:30 over WBBM-CBS.

A flock of radio celebrities have been engaged to appear at the Chicago theater the forthcoming month. Rudy Vallee and Alice Faye will present a specially written show the week of Sept. 10; the Mills Brothers will headline the bill the week of Sept. 3, and Burns and Allen will be the attraction the week of Sept. 17. Since George and Gracie return to the air Sept. 19 on their new commercial show with Bobbie Dolan's orchestra, this means that the first of the series will originate in Chicago CBS studios. Benny Meroff and his orchestra will open at the theater next Friday. Though negotiations are not completed, many, perhaps all, of these radio entertainers will be heard on the W-G-N Chicago theater hour.

W. C. Handy, composer of "St. Louis Blues," will air his views on Negro music at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow over WLS. . . . Homer Griffith, WLS Friendly Philosopher, through the contributions of listeners, will play host to 200 underprivileged children at the Fair tomorrow. . . . Don Pedro's orchestra will open at the Oriental Gardens and over NBC on Labor day.

A Republican calls attention to the fact that the two big stations in Portland, Ore., are called KOIN and KALE. And why not? Plenty of easy money is traveling the Oregon trail these days. . . . Clem McCarthy has been signed as sports reporter for the new network, the American Broadcasting system. . . . John Herrick, new baritone "find," may get the assignment of singing opposite the Countess Olga Albani on Charles Pravin's Silken Strings program. He will be a guest singer next Sunday evening.

German Admiral, Former Envoy in U. S., Is Dead

BADEN-BADEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Karl von Eisendecher, 93, retired, who played a prominent part in the development of the German navy, died today. For a time Von Eisendecher was naval attaché at Washington, and from 1882 to 1884 was Prussian envoy to the United States. Returning to Germany, he commanded the kaiser's yacht Meteor for a decade. The admiral was for a time minister to Tokio.

Mrs. Harriet M. Etnyre, ClubWoman, Dies at Oregon

Oregon, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Harriet M. Etnyre, Ogle county clubwoman and widow of Edward D. Etnyre, president of the E. D. Etnyre Manufacturing company here, was found dead in bed this morning at her home. She apparently had suffered a heart attack during the night.

E. L. Miller of Detroit Schools Dies at 66 Years

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Edwin L. Miller, assistant superintendent of the Detroit public schools, died of heart disease this morning following a long illness. He was 66. Miller was founder of the National Council of Teachers of English.

ILLINOIS CITIES REGISTER STEADY POPULATION GAIN

Chicago Jumps 114,262 in 3 Years Since 1930.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Fifty-four Illinois municipalities having 10,000 or more inhabitants, were reported by the bureau of census today as showing steady increases in their populations since April 1, 1930.

Chicago was listed as having 114,262 more inhabitants July 1, 1933, than in 1930; while Peoria had 5,000 more; Springfield, 2,000; Decatur, 1,500.

Although listed, census officials said Cairo, Kewanee, La Salle, and Streator city authorities failed to furnish the required data.

YOUTH, WORRIED OVER HAY FEVER, IS FOUND DEAD

William Herschel Fenley Jr., 19 years old, a University of Chicago student, was found dead in an automobile in the garage at the rear of his home, 277 Nuttall road, Riverside, yesterday. Carbon monoxide gas apparently caused death, according to the coroner's physician who made a preliminary examination.

The youth was the son of William H. Fenley, who is western sales manager of the Kerite Insulated Wire and Cable company. According to his parents he had suffered from hay fever for many years and recently had been depressed by his affliction.

Apparently the youth had gone to the garage on Monday evening and started the motor of the machine after closing the garage doors.

ARSON CHARGES FILED AGAINST 4 BY GRAND JURY

Four men, three of them alleged members of an arson ring and the fourth a store owner who allegedly profited from fires set by his fellow conspirators, were reported named by the grand jury yesterday in true bills charging arson and conspiracy. Evidence against the quartet disclosed that they had fired a delicatessen and radio store at 6848 Altgeld street which had been insured for $5,000.

Those named in the bills were Valentine Notari, Chris Vassel, 1513 North Fairfield avenue, owner of the store; Harry Brown, 2311 West Madison street, and the latter's son, Earl. Notari and Vassel are in custody and police are searching for the Browns.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Marshall V. Kearney, Vassel has admitted his part in the plot and confessed filling the delicatessen with worthless goods before having it insured.

50 Debs Bow This Fall; Set Social Record

Most Important Season Starts Sept. 8.

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHEN the 1934-'35 debutante season is officially launched with the first four presentation parties on Sept, 8 one of the most, if not the most, important season in Chicago social history, as far as the number of debutantes is concerned, will be under way. From September through the beginning of the new year fifty young women, some of them college students and others the products of finishing schools, will be presented to society.

Improved economic conditions are pointed out as the reason for the large number by some . . . the cost of a debut may run from a few hundred dollars into the thousands . . . yet, to glance back into the records of predepression years, prosperity has not stood in direct relation to an increased number of debuts.

In 1928 only 33 daughters of Chicago and north shore families made their bows to society. The number was the same in 1921. In 1923 there were 23 young women presented; in 1926 and 1927 there were 27 each year, and in 1931, 47. Last fall and winter 43 coming out parties kept florists, caterers, and engravers busy. The year before there were 45.

The fact that young women attending college have found it possible to combine the gayety and frivolity of a début with their more serious study is perhaps more directly responsible for the increased number of presentations. Among this year's debs, at least half are enrolled or have intentions of enrolling for a college course.

Many Party Plans Are Still Indefinite.

Although many of the party plans are still indefinite, awaiting the return of families from the north woods or the eastern seaboard, they are well enough formulated to make a few interesting deductions. Among the fifty debutantes . . . there is still the possibility that the number may be increased . . . are two sets of sisters. The Ernest S. Ballards of Winnetka will present two of their daughters, Elizabeth and Susan, at a tea at their home on Sept. 18. Virginia and Margery Preston, daughters of the Howard P. Prestons, will be introduced at a dinner-dance at the Saddle and Cycle club the middle of September.

Interesting enough, Winnetka seems to be the community most debut minded. Twenty of this year's buds are the daughters of Winnetka families; 11 live in Lake Forest, and 14 in town. Glencoe, Barrington, Wheaton, Highland Park, and Evanston each have one debutante.

Eight "Bows" Scheduled for Sept. 15.

The last debut date to be announced . . . a tea for Miss Eleanor Kirkland, daughter of the Weymouth Kirklands, the afternoon of Sept. 15 at the Kirkland home in Lake Forest . . . proves further that this is the most popular date this season for presentation parties. Previously seven "bows" had been scheduled for the 15th, including the parties of Miss Deborah Butler, daughter of the Francis P. Butlers; Miss Barbara Bersbach, daughter of Mrs. Frank J. Bersbach; Miss Charlotte Chandler, daughter of the Buckingham Chandlers; Miss Caryl Ely, daughter of Mrs. Jay Morse Ely; Miss Miriam Fetcher, daughter of the Edwin S. Fetchers; Miss Priscilla Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton M. Morse, and Miss Fanny McPherson, whose parents are the Donald F. McPhersons.

On Sept. 8, which is the earliest date for which parties have been planned, Miss Hope Leonard, daughter of Mrs. David R. Forgan Jr., and Clifford M. Leonard will be introduced at a supper dance; Miss Carolyn Barrett, daughter of the Arthur M. Barretts, will make her bow at a tea; Miss Muriel Picher, daughter of Mrs. Oliver S. Picher, will be presented at a tea at home, and so will Miss Durie Malcolm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Malcolm.

Two Parties Planned for Muriel Picher.

Miss Picher is one of two debutantes for whom two parties have been definitly planned by their families. Mrs. Picher with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Knode will give a dinner dance for Miss Picher and Miss Nancy Knode the evening of Dec. 28 at the Blackstone. Miss Frances Whedon will introduce her niece, Miss Frances Jeffrey at a tea Nov. 17, at her near north side apartment and then give a ball for her the evening of Dec. 26, at the Blackstone. Two more who will probably have two parties apiece are

A LETTER signed "Richey Poor" [the name may be a gag, too] tells about the Chicago lawyer who was playing bridge the other night with his wife and two children at their home in Oak Park. He hates bridge, but loves his family, the letter adds, parenthetically. The only light in the room was a bridge lamp placed behind his wife, and the light apparently shone in his face, because he kept squinting at his cards and moving them back and forth in front of his eyes.

"You can't play bridge that way," said his son, getting up to look for another lamp. "What you need is light from behind."

"What I need," said the lawyer, "is light from Above."

JAMES ASHCRAFT, film company representative, was in a state of agitation over a picture, "The Scarlet Empress," not yet released, when encountered by friends.

"And who is the Scarlet Empress?" one of them asked him. "Messalina?"

"O, no," said Jimmie, "Marlene Dietrich."

CHILDREN write in many questions to Frank Buck, the "Bringing 'Em Back Alive Man," and one of the most delightful probably was the one contained in a recent letter:

"Do hoop snakes roll down hills by placing their tails in their mouths?"

AN EVANSTONIAN tells about the youth she saw standing on a corner in Evanston wearing baggy trousers and a voluminous white sweat shirt. Printed in red letters across the front was the confusing inscription:

"HEIL DILLINGER!

THEN there was the Boy Scout Dr. Clarence Bernstein tells about who was being examined for a Merit Badge in Life Saving, with which the Scout hoped to adorn his sleeve.

"If you were walking along a beach, all alone, and had to pull a drowning person out of the water, what would be the first thing you would do when you had him safely ashore?" he was asked.

The reply was immediate.

Cabinet Attends Barkley Nuptial; Mrs. Dall Back

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dall, daughter of the President, has returned to the White House after a trip to New York where she joined her brothers, Elliott and John in meeting their grandmother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, when she arrived from Europe. Mrs. Dall will return to Hyde Park to join her children after her parents arrive.

The members of the cabinet who are in town were the guests of honor at the wedding this afternoon of Miss Laura Barkley, daughter of the senator from Kentucky and Douglas MacArthur, son of the late Capt. Arthur MacArthur, who was a brother of the chief of staf, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A friend who went to a good shop for a permanent, was turned away and got in a high rage about it all complained to us that the operator was just a plain fool, and as evidence offered her statement that the patron's hair was "sunburned." We were invited to consider such stupidity.

We had rather a difficult time convincing the angry young matron that she'd encountered a beautician of great wisdom. It's perfectly true that hair can be sunburned, and before the leaves come tumbling down many a head will be. It's also true that the sun-scarred head of hair is in no condition to take the kind of curls that are born of heat and waving solution.

But it's a cinch to get such hair back in shape. There are professional treatments galore if you'd rather have some one else do the work, but if you're economizing and have the determination to carry out some heartfelt brushing, massaging and treating with oil you can reap rich rewards on your own efforts.

A good permanent wave oil—and there are several on the market—will be a great help. Just recently we saw a much touched up head. another had permanent bet, that responded beautifully to a session of treatment with one. plus a little brushing and some daily scalp massage. In two months the hair that had been brittle and uneven in color had an enviable gloss, and the wise operator who'd decreed some reconditioning before she would wave it made the appointment unafraid.

Such oils are deliciously rich and, if they are used daily as scalp dressing must be applied sparingly. But you really get in the good work with them if you take them on for an oil treatment before shampoos, soaking not only the scalp but the hair shaft and leaving the oil on as long as your social or business engagements will permit you to go around looking a little messy. The simplest way is to let the oil soak in all night. Your hair will be soft, shiny—and un-sunburned—before you know it.

Old and Young Are Thrilled by 'Treasure Isle'

Reviewer Praises Cast of Stevenson Story.

"TREASURE ISLAND."
Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
Directed by Victor Fleming.
Story by Robert Louis Stevenson.
Presented at the Roosevelt theater.
THE CAST.

Long John Silver	Wallace Beery
Jim Hawkins	Jackie Cooper
Billy Bones	Lionel Barrymore
Doctor Livesey	Otto Kruger
Captain Smollett	Lewis Stone
Squire Trelawney	Nigel Bruce
Ben Gunn	Charles "Chic" Sale
Pew	William V. Mong
Black Dog	Charles McNaughton

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Well, praise be, the old world hasn't gone PLUMB sophisticate! You should SEE the strong men and smart women who are trekking to "Treasure Island"! And, of course, taking the children with them. AND getting just exactly as much kick out of the picture as the youngsters do!

Robert Louis Stevenson's beloved adventure story of pirates and hidden treasure has been screened with lusty and humorous appreciation of its possibilities. The cast is a dandy!

Who, for instance, COULD make a more hair-raising Billy Bones than Lionel Barrymore, or a more bloodcurdling Blind Pew than William V. Mong? Who, better than Wallace Beery, could impersonate Long John Silver with the peg leg he is given to using as a weapon; the oily tongue that as readily drips vitriol; the store of ingenuous anecdote, and the mutineer's heart that, nevertheless, beats affectionately for Master Jim Hawkins?

Black Dog is spine-shiveringly impersonated by Charles McNaughton, and Chic Sale is itchy and unique as old Bill Gunn, who, from behind his screen of wild hair and whiskers, shoots "sezzi's" and "sezzyou's" at the bewildered Master Hawkins.

As for that Master Hawkins, who is Jackie Cooper—there is a fine upstanding widow's son for you! Such a daring, resourceful little man—the pride and joy of Mrs. Hawkins' heart, and the delight and standby of those kindly gentlemen with whom he sets sail as cabin boy in search of the treasure on the desert isle, and who would have met a sad fate at the hands of mutineers had it not been for his intervention—he having heard an earful while reposing in an apple barrel.

Said noble gentlemen are picturesquely and impressively portrayed by Messrs. Kruger, Stone, Bruce, etc. Dorothey Peterson is effective in her few brief scenes as the Widow Hawkins.

The action starts in England with the arrival of the ominous Bones at the widow's inn with a map in his seaman's chest that's feverishly desired by various persons of high and low degree. The killing off of Bones is quickly succeeded by adventure on the high seas and thrilling events on the island where the treasure is located.

The picture is picturesquely costumed and staged.

You'll never believe what a good time folks are having at the Roosevelt till you go there yourselves. Then, willy nilly, you'll fall into the spirit of the thing, slough off your years and perplexities and be a kid again for all you're worth.

Trixie Friganza Makes Broadway Comeback at 64

Telegrams poured in today from friends as they did 20 years ago, when the comedienne, now 64, was a star on the silent screen.

Attired in a flaming red dress, Miss Friganza stepped on the Ambassador theater stage last night as "the zippy grandmother" in Wilbur Crane's comedy, "Are You Decent?"

It was 45 years after this trouper made her first New York appearance in "The Pearl of Pekin" but to Miss Friganza it was "just like starting all over again in the theater."

"Gee, it was grand," she said. "And those sweet kids with me—my 'grandchildren'—say, they're swell."

From a Chicago shop: The newest half-and-half beltlines on a clever two piece suit. The dress is of plain dark wool, the long coat of harmonizing striped wool, with the lether belt showing only in front. The full neck scarf is of velveteen, shaped with fin ends, and holds the rather deep collar snugly in place.

Miss Jane Brand Wed to Baron at Lake Geneva Home

Departing from usual custom, Miss Jane Brand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armin William Brand, neither carried nor wore flowers yesterday when she became the Baroness Ruprecht von Boecklin of New York and Rust-Baden, Germany in an informal ceremony at her parents' summer home at Lake Geneva. The service was read at 4:30 o'clock before only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends by Dr. Eugene R. Shannon of St. Chrysostom's church.

Quite as unusual as the lack of a bridal bouquet was the bride's gown. Of filmy silver brocade, it was covered partially by a white velvet coat that swept into a long and graceful train. Over this floated the tulle veil that was fastened with a wreath of tiny seed pearls to her blonde head.

Mrs. Louise Rehm, the former Mrs. Emanuel La Roche was the bride's only attendant. Capt. Egilio Benello of New York and Rome served Baron von Boecklin as best man.

After the ceremony Baron von Boecklin and his bride and Mr. and Mrs. Brand received the wedding guests. Later in the evening the young couple left for New York where they will have several days with Baron von Boecklin's eastern relatives before sailing Saturday on the Bremen for Europe. Abroad Baron von Boecklin will take his bride to Baden to the ancestral estate of his father on which the new Baroness von Boecklin now becomes the chatelaine. After their wedding trip the von Boecklin's will make their home at least part of the year in New York City.

Warns Women of Serious Drouth Effects Upon Skin

BY ELEANOR NANGLE.

Dr. G. A. Ward of Chicago told the American cosmeticians assembled for their annual convention at the Hotel Sherman yesterday that ravaging effects of the drouth on skin would be hard to overestimate, and urged the generous use of oils to combat the skin dryness it causes. In the same address he championed facial manipulation for preservation of contour and a supple complexion.

Carl F. Deysenroth of the Chicago Milk Foundation addressed the cosmeticians in the morning on the importance of a balanced diet to beauty and pointed out that the beautician is, in a sense, guardian of health as well as beauty, since the external evidence of many physical disorders is frequently first revealed to them by their patrons.

In the election of officers Mrs. William Fayant of Philadelphia was chosen as president to succeed Mrs. M. B. McGavran of Kansas City, Mo., who becomes chairman of the board of cosmetics managers. Doris Lee Leeds of Chicago was appointed assistant to the president. Vice presidents are Mrs. Nelle Ramsay of New Orleans, Mrs. Mary Braden of Wichita, Kas.; Mrs. Anna B. Harris, New Orleans; Mrs. E. A. Voegele, Greensburg, Pa., and Mrs. Elizabeth Dorr of Lexington, Ky. Frances Martell of Chicago retains her post as secretary-treasurer.

Activities at the coördinated beauty culture convention at the Morrison were confined for the most part to business meetings of the National Association of Boards of Beauty Culture.

Full Swagger Back Stylish for Fall Wear.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Some versatile designer went in for tricks for fall. See the disappearing beltlines on some of the newest suit coats for proof. From the front you see the usual belt, either of kidskin, suede, velvet, or braid. From the back, the darn thing has vanished, hence the full, swagger, flaring backline in strong and smart contrast to the straight smooth streamline in front.

It's a good trick and gives a dashing air that has been missing from street suits of fashionable woolen fabrics for some time.

Such a complicated bit of belt trickery is illustrated in the fashion photograph. The coat is a diagonal wool in colors. The frock beneath this striped glory is severely simple and of a darker contrasting color [another fashion trick that will make you think you are seeing things!] The sleeves are loose, rather wide, and set into the shoulder sectors in a manner suggestive of the raglan.

The collar is also new and deep, with a big flashing bow of velvet. Gone are the Ascots. This year the neck scarfs are assembled in complicated formations, like the illustrated number with a fin on either end. And do notice the slanting pockets, so ingeniously hidden between the diagonal colored stripes of the hip sections of the coat. A knockout street outfit to climb into, any day now.

We said the Ascots had become the forgotten neckline. We apologize, for some of the last Ascot arrangements have been discovered lounging about the house in company with the best looking man tailored house pajamas you ever yearned to own.

These superelegant things are authoritatively man tailored, made of good masculine tie silk combined with flannel in some sets, and are, we hurry to broadcast, FINDS! None of your sloppy, tired Tilly sort of dreary affairs, but snappy, impeccably fashioned combines as smart as a Noel Coward comedy. The colors are maroon and dark blue crossed with subtle, silvery white small squares.

You can buy the entire suit in tie silk, or all in plain one color flannel, or trousers of flannel with coat of checked silk, or just the opposite, trousers of silk and coat of flannel, But all are topped with a grand, throat-swaddling Ascot of silk to be tied swankily, prince of Wales fashion, as an Ascot. You can't, it seems, keep a good tie down!

Her Husband's Fiancee

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.

Cecily Marshall returns after a year's absence to the home in Bellchester, England, where she had lived with her husband, David Marshall, the city's leading merchant prince. Cecily had been a shopgirl at Marshall's. Beautiful Audrey Lowe, who had wanted David herself, bribed an innkeeper to swear that Cecily had shared the same room with Audrey's cousin, Reggie Davies, a night they were marooned due to motor trouble. David won a divorce from Cecily and the custody of their small child, Rose Ann. The child grieves for her mother. Fearing for her health, Nanna, her nurse, secretly wires Cecily. When David, who is about to marry Audrey, discovers Cecily's presence he orders her and Nanna from the house. Rose Ann develops brain fever and David is forced to send for Cecily. Rose Ann recovers. Cecily takes rooms in Bellchester, with Nanna, and determines to prove her innocence. She sees Rose Ann daily. Audrey is blackmailed by Mrs. Partridge, the wife of the deceased innkeeper. To get her to leave Bellchester, Audrey gives her a valuable brooch, which was a present from David. Audrey tells David she has lost the brooch. He insists on advertising for it. Audrey hears from Mrs. Partridge that the jewels of the brooch are being disposed of separately. As her father's wedding draws near Rose Ann manifests her hatred of Audrey. Cecily calls on Mr. Dodds, the station master, who was her father's old friend. He tells her that Mrs. Partridge returned from London.

A THREATENED INVESTIGATION.

Audrey wanted to scream, but she stayed at the telephone and Mrs. Partridge continued her recital.

"Mr. Meakin was going to break up the—you know what—and sell the stones separate, but now he's coming down on me and wants to know all about it." He's found out that Mr.—you know who—put these ads in the paper and I had to tell him you give me the—er—thing to sell for you, and you were short of money and didn't want Mr. So-and-so to know, and Mr. Meakin says he'll believe it when you tell him and give him a written paper to that effect. Otherwise, he might find himself arrested and his business gone to pot. And where would I be, too, I'd like to know? So you see, Miss, you'll have to do as I ask. You really will. I don't wish to be nasty—far from it—but we don't want Mr. Meakin carrying his tale to Mr. So-and-so, do we?"

Decidedly Mr. So-and-so, alias David Marshall, was about the last person in the world Audrey wished the tale to be carried to, and she saw that she would have to do as the Partridge woman demanded.

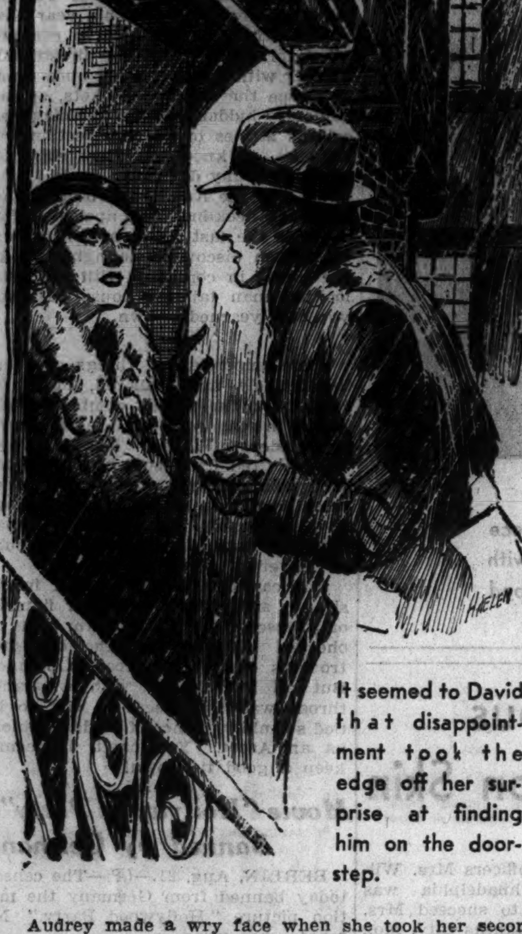
If it wasn't for David's officiousness all would have been well. He had run that beastly advertisment for a solid week, and then dropped it. But this past week it had been appearing again accompanied this time by a threat of police investigation. There was no diplomacy in the second version of that advertisement.



It seemed to David that disappointment took the edge off her surprise at finding him on the doorstep.

She went into her bedroom where her new wardrobe trunk was half packed. A pity her mother couldn't have finished that job for her instead of gadding out to play bridge with the Hollisters. However, it was just as well she wasn't home this evening.

Audrey glanced at the clock. It was a quarter to nine, now. If she hurried and made short work of Mr. Meakin she could be back in three-quarters of an hour.

The disturbing thought occurred to her that soon she might find herself with two blackmailers on her hands instead of one, but she set it aside. There was enough to worry about as it was, without looking too far into the future. Perhaps the man was honest. It might be that Mrs. Partridge herself was honest within her lights. It was just barely possible that her version of the perjury story was correct—that she had only sworn away Cecily Marshall's honor because her husband told her she must do so.

Audrey made a wry face when she took her second-best fur coat from the cupboard. That imp—that young limb of satan! Nothing short of a mink or sable garment could make up for what Rose Ann had done. David had been dreadfully upset, but it was partly his own fault. Audrey hoped he had given his spoiled darling the good spanking he said he was going to, and that Rose Ann would think twice in the future before she allowed her childish spite to run away with her.

Up at Maple Grange, David paced his lonely house with more misgiving and wretchedness than most bridegrooms-to-be can claim to suffer.

It seemed quite unnecessary that Mason had given him an apology for an evening meal on a small table in his study, and was even now getting the dining room in readiness for tomorrow's lunch. Mason's reason was that there was so much to do and only one pair of hands—his—to perform the most important part of it. But David had not wanted to have the caterers in.

As he moodily strayed about from one room to another, trying not to get into Mason's way, and abstracting what comfort he could from a pipe which simply refused to stay ignited, David knew that he was but delaying a perfectly ridiculous but nevertheless inevitable thing that he had to do tonight.

He simply must see Cecily.

The idea was really most distasteful to him as it would be to her, but it was better to get it over and be done with it, and then start with a clean slate.

Rose Ann had forced the issue. He must give Rose Ann up to Cecily, and he was going to suggest that Cecily should take her away from Bellchester to some quiet seaside place. Now and again he would see Rose Ann, of course, but not with Audrey.

The first flush of his anger had subsided and he caught a glimpse of Rose Ann's point of view. He was not altogether sorry now that Nanna had rushed the child away. He would certainly have carried out his threat, had she not done so, and her quick action had saved him an agony of remorse. He was lucky in that respect, at least.

Poor, bewildered baby. The best thing that could happen to her would be if she could forget that Audrey had stepped into Cecily's shoes.

Well, it simply could not be put off any longer. Audrey would be pleased if she knew he was sneaking out to call on Cecily the night before he was married to her.

As he started forth, his coat collar well pulled up and his fists clenched deep in his pockets, the first few flakes of the promised snow began to fall. The air was still, but not so cold now. Few people were about in this section of the town and the little houses in Standish-crescent had drawn their curtains. He could see firelight playing behind some of them.

So it had been that first night, now so long ago, when he had gone to Mrs. Leach's to ask Cecily what he could not very well ask her over the hosiery counter at Marshall's. That night he had gone so hopefully with a song in his heart, because he knew she loved him. Those gray eyes of hers had told him so, without a word on the subject having been spoken.

After tonight he probably would never see Cecily again. He would be Audrey's husband, not hers.

"O, Cecily, why did you do this terrible thing to me!" he muttered to himself.

But he was not nearly so fierce about it now as he had been. An uneasy consciousness stirred in him that he might possibly have been wrong. If only he knew.

He hardened his face and steeled his heart. The woman had ruined his life and probably Rose Ann's as well, and here he was almost on the verge of making excuses for her.

Cecily, herself, came to the door in answer to his ring. She had her hat and coat on and it seemed to him that disappointment took the edge off her surprise at finding him on the doorstep.

"O—it's you," she said.

"Were you expecting some one else?" David asked sharply.

"Yes, I was expecting Mr. Dodds. Perhaps you remember him—father's old friend."

David remembered Mr. Dodds. He had been to their wedding.

"Come in," Cecily said with a defiant ring in her voice. "But if you think I'm going to allow you to touch Rose Ann, you're very much mistaken."

So she was laying down the law to him! Yet David took it with unwonted meekness.

He followed her into the familiar little parlor.

"It was about Rose Ann I felt I had to see you," he said.

"What about her?"

"After . . . what happened this afternoon, I think it would be better for her to stay altogether with you."

"I've realized that for some time," Cecily said.

"Then, I'll try to get a private word with Branchard sometime tomorrow."

Parental Tact Is Good Short Cut to Child's Obedience

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A mother of three writes me:

"Do you think it is really wrong to 'gum shoe' around a child's disposition? To say, for instance: 'Which cover do you want to sleep under today?', or 'Shall we have the stockings off or leave them on?' instead of saying: 'Scoot along to bed now.' If you try to drive Betty you're lost. Yet she coöperates beautifully when handled with an easy rein."

Of course, I don't think it is wrong to work with a child instead of working at him, or to make many of the routine things which children have to do not a bore but an adventure.

The steam roller type of management which rides rough-shod over the delicate sensibilities of little children, over their likes or dislikes, over their "I don't want to" or "I won't" and so forth, is less fundamentally successful, even if surfacely so.

But it is important to make a distinction. If you "gum-shoe" because you can handle your children only by sugarcoating everything you are a slave. That we couldn't subscribe to. But if you "gum-shoe" because it oils the wheels and makes the little dynamo work with you, then you are a smart mother. Too literal or too practical a handling of little children can rob life of much of its color and can lessen our joy in our children. So go ahead, mother, and "gum-shoe."

To be sure, much depends upon the child. The easy going happy-go-lucky youngster can often be handled casually, as, for example, with the aforesaid "Scoot along to bed now." The other extreme, the child of marked personality traits, definite interests and intense desires, does not usually respond favorably to either this offhand authority or to the driving method. To a reasonable degree, one must take a child's temperament into consideration, just as one does a grownup's.

BY MARY MEADE.

When the Persians first plucked their "persicas" (peaches to you) ages ago in the country of Omar Khayyam they may have known what we've rediscovered today—that their fuzzy beauties were step-cousins of almonds—but they certainly had never heard of the happy notion of making jelly from them.

For not even our grandmothers knew this stunt. Ripe peaches are low in natural fruit pectin (the business that makes jelly jell). Therefore they need a booster from the sidelines to step in and help the work along. Modern jelly hounds are finding this booster in bottles or boxes of liquid or powdered fruit pectin available anywhere on the market. The manner of the making is this:

Ripe Peach Jelly.

3 cups peach juice
6½ cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare the juice, pit the peaches (about 3½ pounds of them) without peeling. Crush the peaches well, then add one-half cup of water and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer over low heat for five minutes. Then place the pulp in a jelly bag and squeeze out the juice.

Now measure the sugar and the juice into a large saucepan and mix thoroughly. Bring to a boil over a very hot burner and immediately add the fruit pectin, all at once, stirring vigorously. Bring the sirup back again to a boil and boil hard for one-half minute—no more and no less. Remove it from the burner, skim, and pour into clean hot glasses. Paraffin at once.

And peach jam is something else to park up on a high shelf if you wish to salvage any of it for winter. It's a hustle-up recipe, prepared likewise with commercial pectin. Jams cooked in this way do away with the wasteful, lengthy stewing and leave for the diner all of the tantalizing original flavor of the peach.

Ripe Peach Jam.

4 cups prepared peaches
7½ cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

Prepare the peaches by peeling about three pounds of them, pitting, then grinding or chopping them until fine. If the peaches lack good full flavor add the juice of one lemon to the mixture. Now measure the sugar and the prepared fruit and mix together in a large preserving kettle. Mix well and bring to a full hard boil over a very hot burner. Stir steadily during the cooking period. When it has reached the boiling point cook hard for one minute, then remove the kettle from the fire and stir in the fruit pectin all at once. Now, to prevent the possibility of floating fruit, stir and skim by turns for five minutes while the jam cools. Pour out quickly into clean hot glasses and paraffin immediately.

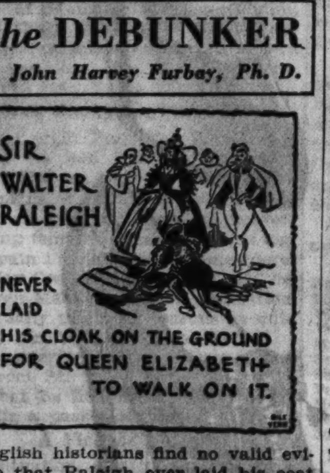
The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.



SIR WALTER RALEIGH
NEVER LAID
HIS CLOAK ON THE GROUND FOR QUEEN ELIZABETH TO WALK ON IT.

English historians find no valid evidence that Raleigh ever laid his coat in the mud for Queen Elizabeth to walk on. The story seems to have been coined to show the manner of fantastic devotion with which Queen Elizabeth loved to be wooed by the court gentlemen. It has been kept alive chiefly by Sir Walter Scott's "Kenilworth," which refers to the event as if it really happened.

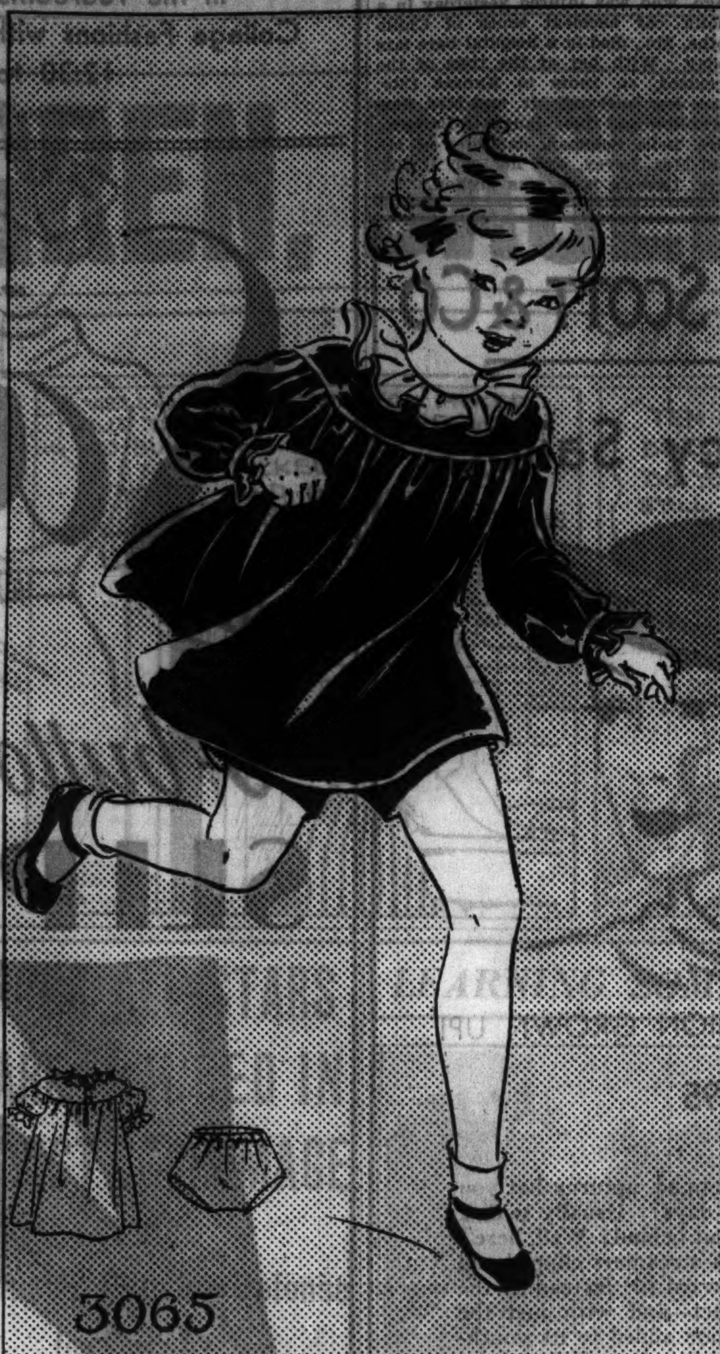
Fluffy Ruffles for the Young



CHILD'S DRESS.

Small girls are not troubled about skirt length, but fly about with their skirts well above their knees, with plenty of leg freedom. Here is a dear little dress with matching French panties, and it will be darling in any of the ginghams, percales, dimities, broadcloths, or challis. The sleeves may be long or short.

The pattern, No. 3065, comes in sizes 2, 4, and 6 years.

Sew a fine seam. Sew almost anything, in fact, with the aid of the booklet, "How to Make Better Dresses," now available at Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower, and Hall of Science, at A Century of Progress. It's only 10 cents.

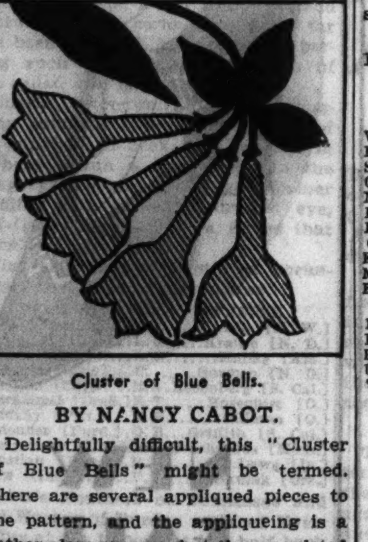
Floral Quilt Is Intricate, but Delight to Make

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower, and Hall of Science, A Century of Progress.



Cluster of Blue Bells.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Delightfully difficult, this "Cluster of Blue Bells" might be termed. There are several appliqued pieces to the pattern, and the appliqueing is a rather slow process; but the completed arrangement of 26 applique and 16 plain blocks is a floral bouquet of lasting charm. An ingenious needleworker made this quilt recently with a powder blue background, combined with the lavender blue of the flowers and soft leaf green.

50 Debs Bow This Fall; Set Social Record

Most Important Season Starts Sept. 8.

Miss Nancy Doering, daughter of the Edmund J. Doerings, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan S. Reid.

There are three more balls to enliven the Christmas holidays. The Herbert Bradleys plan to present their daughter, Alice, at a ball Christmas eve at the Casino and Miss Ethel Johnston, whose aunt and uncle are the Morris Leidy Johnstons, will have a presentation ball the evening of the 29th at the Blackstone. Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Babson will introduce their daughter Betty at still another ball at the Blackstone the evening of the 22d.

Teas, Dinner Dances and Balls Scheduled.

Although 15 of the season's buds have not made up their minds what type of party they will have, it is interesting to note that 14 have definitly planned teas, 13 dinner dances, four balls, three supper dances, and two tea dances. One of the tea dances will be the party Mrs. John J. Cummings will give for her daughter, Jane, Dec. 27, at the Woman's Athletic club. The other is the tea dance Tayloe Hannaford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Hannaford, is to have the afternoon of Dec. 26 at the Indian Hill club.

Besides the supper dance Miss Leonard is to have Sept. 8, Miss Chandler's party the 15th will be a supper dance, and Miss Gwendolyn Bowen, daughter of the Joseph T. Bowens, will be presented at a supper dance Sept. 12 at the family home in Lake Forest.

Instead of three parties, Miss Laura Bartlett, daughter of the Edmund B. Bartletts; Miss Henrietta Boal, daughter of the Ayres Boals, and Miss Leslie Wilson, daughter of the Morris K. Wilsons, will have one large debut dinner dance the evening of Sept. 14 at the Saddle and Cycle club. Another dinner dance at which two debutantes will be presented will be that at the Casino the night of Dec. 22 when Miss Martha Borland, daughter of the Chauncey B. Borlands, and Miss Bertha Erminger, daughter of the Howell B. Ermingers, will make their bows.

Other Debutantes of Record Season.

The other debutantes of the season, some of whom have already made known their plans and some of whom have not, are Miss Betty Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Mason Phelps; Miss Nancy Burley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burley; Miss Nancy Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward V. L. Brown; Miss Katherine Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Carr; Miss Harriet Daughaday, daughter of the Hamilton Daughadays; Miss Barbara Fortune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fortune; Miss Ann Jenkins, daughter of the Austin D. Jenkins; Miss Medora Pelouze, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Nelson Pelouze; Miss Harriett Street, daughter of Mrs. Harry Lockman Street; Miss Carolyn Crossett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Crossett; Miss Elise Clow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent S. Clow; Miss Jean Dunbar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David O. Dunbar; Miss Betty Forgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Forgan; Miss Geraldine Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Foster; Miss Ethel Husband, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Husband; Miss Mary Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Harrington; Miss Peggy Sargent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charester F. Sargent; and Miss Elizabeth Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Joseph Rich.

And still one more deduction. Of the fifty debutantes, fourteen have family names that begin with the letter "B." Next to this come six with family names beginning with "C."

Birthday Party to Honor W. S. Monroe.

Again this year as last, William S. Monroe will celebrate his birthday with a quiet party at the lovely Monroe home in Wayne. Mrs. Monroe has invited the members of his firm and their wives to dine tonight and wish him many happy returns of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe will not come in from the country to their town apartment until November.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Williams of Highland Park are making known the engagement of their daughter, Constance Louise, to Myron Thomas Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bennett of Des Plaines. Miss Williams was graduated from Northwestern university where she was a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Mr. Bennett finished at Knox college where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi. The wedding will be an event of the Christmas holidays.

Plans Entertainment for Harriet Fenner.

By special delivery mail, Mrs. George B. Williams of Evanston, who is vacationing in the Colorado Rockies, has arranged a party for the evening of Sept. 9, for Miss Harriet Fenner, daughter of the Robert Fenners, and David S. Sampsell, her fiancé.

At 8:30 the evening of Sept. 15 . . . that day that is full to overflowing with debutante teas and weddings. . . . Miss Fenner and Mr. Sampsell are to be married at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Evanston with a reception following at the Fenner home. Between now and then the young couple's calendar is dotted with engagements that reach their climax in the bridal dinner Mr. and Mrs. Fenner will give the evening of the 14th at their home.

Miss Margaret Fenner is to attend her sister as maid of honor and Marshall G. Sampsell who married Margaret Carr last January will serve his brother as best man. The bridesmaids will include Miss Annette Holman, Miss Elizabeth Patterson, and Miss Mary Cook, all of Evanston, and Mrs. Marshall G. Sampsell.

After a wedding trip Mr. Sampsell and his bride are coming back to Evanston to make their home at 909 Elmwood avenue.

Pen Women's League to Honor Mrs. Stevenson

The Chicago, northern Illinois, and Springfield branches of the National League of American Pen Women will have a luncheon Friday at the Palmer house for Mrs. Victoria Faber Stevenson of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone on Coast for Son's Nuptials

Los Angeles, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone, wife of the tire manufacturer, and a party of relatives arrived today from Chicago to attend the wedding Saturday of her son, Raymond Firestone, to Miss Laurie Ann Lisk, Beverly Hills society girl.

Firestone arrived here last week and has been staying at the palatial Firestone estate in Bel-Air.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

Mr. Sims is universally acclaimed the greatest living contract and auction player. He was captain of the renowned Four Horsemen team of four, now disbanded, and has won twenty-four national championships since 1924. These articles are based on the Sims system, which includes the one-over-one principle, which the Sims group of players was the first to employ and develop.

OTHER SLAM DEVELOPMENTS.

Continuing our discussion of slam developments after a no trump opening bid when the original bidder has a concealed suit, let us take the hand discussed yesterday—namely:

Sp. A J x	Di. K 10 x
Hts. K J x	Cl. A K Q x x

In the last article I explained why I would immediately rebid to six no trumps if, having opened with a no trump first or second hand holding the above cards, I received the slam inviting response of three no trumps on the first round of bidding. Let us now assume that my partner makes

A Deferred Instead of an Immediate Slam Try.

That is, the bidding is: One no trump; two no trumps; three no trumps, by me, and now my partner goes on to four no trumps—a gentle slam invitation conveying the information that his hand is only slightly below the primary standard which would justify an immediate slam try response of three no trumps on the first round.

Holding the hand given above, I would realize that a grand slam is out of the question, since my partner was not strong enough to give the immediate jump raise, but that prospects for a small slam were very promising. Since he has preferred the slam try by way of a rebid in no trumps instead of by bidding four in a suit over my three no trumps I may feel sure that he has values in at least three suits; consequently his two and one-half primary tricks are almost sure to include the king of spades and two red aces, or else king-queen in spades, ace-queen in one red suit and a queen in the other, plus, probably, J 10 of clubs. I cannot expect him to rebid. If really still able to do so, he must have underbid his hand when responding earlier with only two no trumps. I would, therefore, bid six clubs without further ado. Partner's decision now is only whether to pass or to bid six no trumps, inclining to the latter bid very positively in tournament play, but also with a strong preference for it in rubber play, since he now knows that I have the material for a squeeze if the hand does not play favorably, and that my hand is likely to gain an advantage from the opening lead if that lead is not clubs. Opponents are more likely to lead clubs against six clubs than against six no trumps. The kind of hand on which he should pass six clubs for distributional reasons would be

Sp. K 10 x x	Di. A J
Hts. A x x	Cl. 10 x x x

as plainly this hand will play better in the suit with dummy's ability to ruff the red suits.

If the Opening Hand Were Somewhat Weaker.

This is a situation which is unlikely to occur in connection with a concealed long suit, because if you reduce the hand below four primary tricks it will almost automatically become unsuitable for a no trump opening bid; thus the long suit will be declared originally and the bidding developed in the usual manner. For instance, with only one ace, which is necessarily in the long suit in a weak hand, the no trump bid can hardly be preferred.

Be Cautious in Bidding and Trump with Only One Ace.

If the outside suit protection is in ten-ace form the hand must be weak in primary tricks. If it is in king-queen form the hand does not require to be led up to, and it would be better, or certainly not worse, for the partner to be declarer if no triumps is the eventual destiny.

Sp. K J x	Di. K J
Hts. K x x	Cl. A K Q x x

has the time factor too much against it for a no trump opening bid to be preferred. A club would be the sounder bid. Strengthen the protection of the hand so as to diminish the danger of adverse aces, give it

Sp. K Q x	Di. K J or even K Q
Hts. K Q x	Cl. A K Q x x

and the club bid is still preferable, because you wish to make it easy for your partner to make a one-over-one in diamonds as a prelude to no trumps; and, anyhow, if your partner can respond at all and you end up in three no trumps, he is almost sure to hold some value in diamonds and the opening lead will probably benefit his hand as much as it would yours. Restore a second ace to the opener's hand, but keep it weak in primary tricks—as

Sp. A x x	Di. K 10
Hts. Q J x	Cl. A K Q x x

and the hands is by this same stipulation automatically reduced to a point of weakness, in respect of protection and time control, which makes the club bid right and the no trump bid dangerous.

Last Call for Treasure Isle Party Letters

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Last call for letters today! If yours isn't on my desk bright and early tomorrow you'll be sorry, because I won't be able to read it and, naturally, you won't be able to come to our grand party a week from tomorrow.

There'll be no visit to the Balaban & Katz Roosevelt theater for you and you won't see "Treasure Island" with me—and that's really tragic!

You'll miss the ferocious Wallace Beery playing Long John Silver and stumping around on the deck of the Hispaniola on his pegleg; Lionel Barrymore leering and snarling as Billy Bones, Jackie Cooper in a funny long haircut, with old-fashioned clothing, having a most exciting time fighting, sailing rough seas, and hunting for the treasure with a crew of bloodthirsty pirates. I'm sure there isn't a boy or girl in the world who hasn't read about pirates at one time or another, but if you actually want to see how they looked and acted you'd better mail your letter to me before you do another thing today.

Tell me why you want to be included in this swell party, and be sure to include your name, address, and age, and above all, don't forget to mail your letter once you've written it. Tomorrow I'll read every single one of them and select 100 of the best of them. The writers of winning letters will see their names and addresses in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. I'm going to select 50 boys and 50 girls to be my guests, so if you'd like to take advantage of this offer don't fiddle away your time today.

Address your letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Firm Muscles Necessary for Facial Beauty

Fat Padding Under Skin Preserves Contour.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Firm muscles are the foundation of a lovely face. It is upon the firmness of the tissue and muscle under the skin that women of 40 and over must rely for a prolonged youthfulness of face. The condition of the oil glands, upon which the skin's lubrication depends is equally important. But the latter is better provided for than the tissue and muscle firmness in the ordinary course of a day's cold creaming of the face.

In the normal, healthy, and youthful skin there is abundant provision for the formation of fat beneath it. This natural padding is what contributes to lovely cheeks and contour of youth. This fat is extracted from adult cheeks for various reasons—illness, advanced years, or too strenuous reducing.

With the cushion of fat absorbed for any reason, the skin surface becomes dry, cracks, and loses its resistant qualities. Almost every woman who has experienced a quick and heavy loss of fat understands exactly what happens to her face. It falls because there is no fat beneath to hold the structure up. There must be a good pad of fat there or else the youthful contour and firmness are gone. Bear this in mind when you are reducing and do not eliminate all fat making properties from the diet. Take a little longer for the accomplishment of the reformed silhouette. The slower form of reducing will take care of the face fat absorption.

The muscles of the face depend for their tone and firmness on massage after a certain period of years has been lived. Not spasmodic massage, massaging today and neglecting to do it tomorrow. It must be a daily habit to be effective. And here again we must refer you to the benefits of cold water to faces. The muscles under the skin are so affected by cold water that they contract sharply under its influence and the skin is firmer, smoother, and softer for its daily use. The skin itself is made more resistant against the ravages of years that can't be escaped entirely.

Other astringents may be used, but give the cold water a trial, and if the fat is missing from beneath the skin, pad the cheeks out again by eating fat making foods. It is better to have a young face though the figure be a bit heavy, than to have a girlish silhouette and an old face.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Benjamin B. Thayer returned to her home at 1010 Fifth avenue today after a two months' visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. Ivison, at Hewlett.

Mrs. J. Henry Lancashire, who was at the Savoy-Plaza has returned to her summer home at Manchester, Mass. Her daughter, Mrs. Richard Southgate, sailed on the Ile de France.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurance H. Armour will arrive on the Bremen and will be at the Ritz-Carlton before going to Chicago.

Col. and Mrs. Henry W. Rogers have returned from Maine and are at the Hotel Pierre.

1932 TAX SUITS NAME RESIDENTS OF GOLD COAST

Personal Delinquencies of $81,902 Charged.

Thirteen Chicagoans who live on the gold coast and at other fashionable ad[illegible] sued in Circuit court by the county yesterday for delinquent 1932 personal property taxes. The delinquent taxes of the thirteen total $81,902, according to the suits.

Mrs. M. Rothschild, 1301 North State street, is sued for $16,379. Taxes of $8,735 each are demanded from John Borden, who lives at the Chicago club, 404 South Michigan avenue; John J. Mitchell Jr., 1330 North State street; Earle H. Reynolds, 1444 Lake Shore drive, and John R. Thompson Jr., 1449 Lake Shore drive.

Former Mayor William Hale Thompson, who lives at 1420 Lake Shore drive, has failed to pay his personalty tax of $6,551 for 1932, according to one of the thirteen suits.

Other Prominent Names.

Others named in the bills and amounts the state's attorney's office, which filed the suits, alleges is due from each are: Francis C. Farwell, 1520 Astor street, $6,347; Peter F. Reynolds, 1500 Lake Shore drive, $4,367; Louis S. Florsheim, 1301 North State street, $4,367; Mrs. Charles Netcher, 40 East Barton street, $4,367; William H. Wildes, 1400 Lake Shore drive, $2,183; David Zork, 1540 Lake Shore drive, $1,310, and Chauncey Blair, 70 Cedar street, $1,091.

The Racquet club, 1361 Dearborn parkway, is one of the defendants. It is sued for $1,497.

The Chris Paschen company, 1450 Clybourn avenue, building cleaning concern founded by Christian P. Paschen, building commissioner under a former administration, who is now serving a two year term in Leavenworth penitentiary for income tax evasion, owes $4,367 in personal property taxes for 1932, according to one of the bills.

1,800 Tax Suits for '32 on File.

These and other bills filed yesterday brought the number of suits filed for collection of 1932 personalty bills to more than 1,800, according to Assistant State's Attorney J. F. Ashenden, in charge of the litigation. The amount represented in the suits is more than $3,000,000, he said.

The county assessor announced yesterday that through an office error the law firm of McInerney, Epstein and Arvey, 1 North La Salle street, had not been included in the 1933 personal property assessment list. A special field man was sent to the company's office and estimated the valuation of the office equipment for tax purposes, plus the 50 per cent penalty for failure to file a return, to be $1,665, the assessor said.

32,144 U. S. LICENSES TO RETAIL LIQUORS ARE HELD IN ILLINOIS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The internal revenue bureau announced tonight that 32,144 establishments in Illinois hold federal licenses to retail distilled and fermented malt liquors. Of this number, 21,622 could sell both, while 10,522 were licensed to sell only beer and light wines.

In making its announcement, the bureau emphasized that 5,617 Illinois citizens who started selling beer as soon as it was legalized later had their licenses altered in order to sell stronger post-repeal liquors.

Illinois also has 949 wholesale distilled liquor dealers and 1,160 wholesale fermented malt liquor dealers. Ten factories were licensed to manufacture stills, 30 paid $100 licenses and 29 paid $200 licenses to rectify liquor. The bureau reported there were 63 breweries in Illinois.

AUTO SPEEDS ON AFTER KILLING MAN AT CROSSING

Arthur Reichow, 31 years old, 2344 Cullom avenue, was killed last night by a hit and run driver while crossing the street at Foster and Francisco avenues. The car, which was eastbound, sped away in Foster avenue. Passersby took Reichow to the Swedish Covenant hospital, but he was pronounced dead.

Mrs. Lucy Mohan, 61 years old, 1130 East 81st place, mother of Elmer Mohan, La Salle county state's attorney, was injured fatally yesterday afternoon in an automobile collision on route 23, three miles north of Ottawa. Another son, Frank, assistant state's attorney, and three other persons were injured when the cars, driven by Mohan and Henry Pitstick, met head on. Both Mrs. Mohan and her son were thrown through the windshield. Members of the Mohan family were traveling in three cars from Lake Pistakee, near McHenry, to Elmer Mohan's home in Streator.

Reichow's death brought automobile fatalities in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 768.

Frank Johnson, 48 years old, 6424 South Kildare avenue, a mechanic, was placed on probation yesterday by Judge John J. Rooney in the Safety court after seven character witnesses testified that he had a good reputation. Last Thursday, the judge sentenced Johnson to serve ten days in the house of correction on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Fidgety Phil Collins, a nervous gentleman who hadn't won a ball game for five weeks, found the Cubs a delightfully soft touch yesterday afternoon as he and the Phillies whanged the home team in the series final, 6 to 1. Mr. Collins would have scored a shutout but for Augie Galan, who stepped up in a pinch rôle in the eighth and demonstrated to the regularly employed artists how a baseball should be socked when he knocked a homer.

Lon Warneke was the losing pitcher but couldn't be blamed much seeing as how he got some miserably soggy support from three of the Cub infielders. After Lon had held the Phillies to two singles, both by Lou Chiozza, in the first five innings, Stanley Hack, Don Hurst, and Billy Herman erred in rapid succession to fill the bases with none out. Lon bravely got two out, but that ever troublesome Cub cast-off, Johnny Moore, wouldn't let Lon escape the follies of his associates. Johnny smacked a single, scoring two runs, enough to win.

Warneke Is Withdrawn.

Another and more recent Cub cast-off, Dolph Camilli, delivered a single in the eighth which drove in the fourth Philly run, put the fifth run on third, and later scored the sixth marker himself. When Camilli came through with a single, after Bartell and Chiozza had doubled and Johnny Moore had walked, Warneke was sent to his tub.

Subsequent difficulties for the Cubs after Warneke's demise were helped along by an unusual relapse by Gabby Hartnett, who dropped a throw to the plate, then let a passed ball scoot past him.

The game was played under the direction of Manager Charley Grimm, despite the miscellaneous official announcements made earlier in regard to his activities, health, and whereabouts.

Some Conflicting Stories.

Sunday night President Walker announced he had granted Grimm a leave of absence that he might go to his farm in St. Louis to take simple home remedies for jumping nerves, throbbing temples, a misery in his leg, and a pain in his back or somewhere.

Monday Owner Phil Wrigley said he had given Manager Grimm a vacation for virtually the same reasons as outlined by Mr. Walker the day before.

And yesterday morning Grimm got back from St. Louis with the statement that he had merely gone down to peddle a passel of land.

A Fireside Boy.

The situation, most unusual though it was, probably contained no great significance anent the status of Grimm as the Cub boss. Grimm is a great fireside and pergola boy, according to the St. Louis temperature, and frequently is seized with fits of homesickness, the Cubs' recent flight out of Pittsburgh for St. Louis on 40 min-

FOUR ALL-STARS ARE INJURED IN FIRST SCRIMMAGE

Hanley Outlines Defense for Bear Attack.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The conversation at Dyche stadium practice field yesterday morning was full of such items of interest as "cross blocking," "quick opening plays," and "short laterals" as Dick Hanley lectured the All-American football players on the probable and possible tactics of the Chicago Bears in the game at Soldier's field Aug. 31. The defensive drills were welcome relief to the boys, who had battled through their first scrimmage the night before.

That scrimmage was something to write home about. Cool weather was the invitation and the All-Americans seized upon it like the wife of a quick-rich millionaire embracing society. It was an All-American scrimmage and indicated the intense desire of the college stars to prove their right to share in the battle against the professional champions.

Four Men Injured.

Out of the wild scramble, in which a couple of the speedy backs actually broke loose for long runs and in which Big Dave Cook, Bob Jones, and Iron Mike Mikulak hammered through lines that averaged 200 pounds, four of the boys reported today with injuries which kept them from appearing in uniforms.

Edgar [Eggs] Manske, Northwestern's brilliant end, whose blond thatch was in the thickest fighting last fall in the Big Ten campaign, and Sid Gillman, equally dependable flankman from Ohio State, drew injured shoulders. Ted Rosequist, giant Ohio State tackle, and Frank Walton, Pittsburgh's chunky tackle who has been shifted to guard by the All Star coaches, pulled up lame with charley horses, that muscle ailment which is almost akin to hamstringing.

Bernard Nearly Recovered.

Trainer Carl Erickson swung into high gear to take care of these semi-invalids and the minor abrasions and contusions. No serious injury so far has been reported, however, and, barring such accident, the strength of the squad still is intact.

Charles [Stonewall] Bernard, struggling painfully to wait out the fire of his sun burned neck, will be back in harness within a few days. In the category of bruises were listed Homer Griffith, with a neatly bruised eye, and Carl Cramer, with a finger that doesn't wiggle properly.

The elevens which started scrimmage were lined up as follows:

DEFENSE.		OFFENSE.
Smith [Wash.]	L. E.	Manske [N. W.]
Mehringer [Kas.]	L. T.	Krause [N. D.]
Walton [Pitt.]	L. G.	Hupke [Ala.]
Vuchnich [Ohio]	C.	Gorman [N. D.]
Maneikis [Chi.]	R. G.	Rosenberg [S. Cal.]
Schwammel [OreS.]	R. T.	Rosequist [O.]
Skladany [Pitt.]	R. E.	Gillman [O.]
Pardonner [Purd.]	Q. B.	Griffith [S. Cal.]
Montgomery [Col.]	L. H.	Everhardus [Mich.]
Sebastian [Pitt.]	R. H.	Laws [Ia.]
Jones [Ind.]	F. B.	Mikulak [Ore.]

Beattie Feathers of Tennessee and Fred Hecker of Purdue replaced Everhardus at the important left half back position. Cook was substituted for Joe Laws and Nick Lukats went in at full back for Mikulak. Lukats once had a whirl at full backing during his career at Notre Dame so the position, particularly since the All-Stars are using the Notre Dame offense, is not entirely foreign.

Hanley Outlines Defense.

The lecture on defense yesterday morning by Coach Hanley gave the boys an idea of the Bears' offense. Hanley has seen the Bears play practically all of their home games and he knows their offense, how they work their plays and the special aptitudes of individual men. In addition Hanley has arranged several special plays designed to take advantage of the Bears' defensive weaknesses, if any.

The squad practiced again last night under the lights and Coach Kizer announced the morning and evening workouts would be continued. Both are held behind locked doors. Next week the practice field will be shared with the Bears so that the professionals will have an opportunity to become accustomed to the lights.

Santasire, Kupchik, and Steiner Win Chess Matches

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A. E. Santasire and A. Kupchik, New York, and H. Steiner, Los Angeles, were the winners in today's ninth round matches in the international tournament sponsored by the New York State Chess association.

LEARNING SOME DO'S AND DONT'S TO REMEMBER AGAINST BEARS

Bears Speed Practice for All-Star Game

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Business was looking up for the Bears yesterday when they did another turn in the exercises preparatory to their battle with the college All-Stars the night of Aug. 31 at Soldiers' field.

The increase of pep among the professional champions was so marked that even Head Coach George Halas shed his lugubrious look and declared with enthusiasm that it appeared as if the fellows were just about ripe for their first real scrimmage effort.

Collins Shows Speed.

They were so keen for action yesterday in their drill at Lane Tech field that they were actually tackling against orders in dummy scrimmage and it was when he observed this that Halas set tomorrow as the time for taking up the bone crushing portion of the training program. It will be administered daily thereafter.

The scrimmage will be conducted with the regulars on one side, while the opposition will be made up for the most part of the new men. Besides polishing off the regulars, this form of work is expected to bring out the better football qualities of the recent arrivals. Thus far the only newcomer who has caught the eyes of the coaching staf is Conrad Collins, the Creighton college half back who graduated even though eligible for one more year of competition. He's a lad with a lot of speed which he knows how to use.

Weight Goes Slowly.

Five of the Bears were out of uniform yesterday or were in uniform and did no work beyond standing around and watching the others run through plays. End Bill Karr and the enormous Dick Davis, a tackle, had to loaf because of their attacks of charley horse. Half Back Duke Millhean, after a couple of days of idleness, announced his bothersome boil had vanished but had a new ailment in the form of an infected toe. Art Justus, also a back, is still absent because of a spine injury suffered while diving, and Dick Stahlman, the Chicago copper, is missing because of inability to get a furlough from the police department.

Despite the strenuous way in which

Wirtz Heads Syndicate to Buy Stadium

A plan to take the Chicago Stadium corporation out of receivership and place in the control of private interests was revealed last night by Arthur M. Wirtz, real estate operator. Wirtz said he is ready on behalf of his associates to submit a bid to the United States district court under section 77-B of the amended bankruptcy act which, if approved, would serve to dismiss the receivership and give his group control.

Sufficient capital has been subscribed, he said, to pay off the back taxes and if the proposal he will make meets the approval of the Stadium bondholders' committee, a formal bid will be submitted to the federal court within the next 30 days. The bondholders committee, headed by Charles Driver, will pass upon the reorganization plan within the next few days, Wirtz said.

Negotiations to bring about the end of the receivership have been under way for some time, he said, but have not yet reached a point where details may be announced.

The Stadium, which was opened in 1929, went into receivership in January, 1933, after the corporation had defaulted on its bond issue in January, 1932. At that time there was $1,679,000 in first mortgage notes and $1,183,000 in second mortgages outstanding.

PASS! PASS!

Good advice for the Bears. Excellent counsel for the All-Americans. But don't you pass on this greatest of all football occasions! Hit that line at the ticket window. Hit it hard and early, or there will be a substitute in your seat on the night of the big game at Soldiers' field Aug. 31.

Fifty thousand $1.10 seats remain in choice sections now, but there is no assurance that there will be a ticket available at the box office the night the All-American college stars of 1933 meet the Chicago Bears world's professional champions.

Tickets are available at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower, until 11 o'clock each night. Seats also may be obtained at the Hall of Science at A Century of Progress.

DON'T PASS ON THIS ONE, FANS!

Rodak to Box Rightmire on Tribune Card

A 10 round bout between Leo Rodak, Chicago, and Everett [Young] Rightmire, Sioux City, Ia., featherweight, has been added to the charity athletic show to be presented by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at Wrigley field on Sept. 20. The Illinois boxing commission yesterday sanctioned the fight, the second arranged for the program, which will be headed by the heavyweight wrestling championship encounter between Jim Londos and Ed [Strangler] Lewis. Solly Dukelsky and Hayden [Young] Stuhley, middleweight rivals, who like Rodak and Rightmire are leading contenders in their division, were signed for an eight round bout a week ago.

Several Chicago promoters have been attempting to match Rodak and Rightmire and when none was able to arrange the contest, THE TRIBUNE stepped in with an offer.

Rodak Moves Up.

There is little that fans do not know of Rodak. His performances as an amateur boxer, at which time he won Golden Gloves and Catholic Youth organization championships, will stand out for a long time. Even so, few thought when Leo stopped Pete Magee in his first professional battle July 20 of last year that he would in so short a time obtain recognition as one of the world's best boxers. He has accomplished this by rolling up a string of victories which culminated in a conquest of Petey Hayes at Wrigley field July 18.

He Started with Circus.

Rightmire was born at Yakima, Wash., 19 years ago of French, German and Scotch-Irish parents. The family moved to Omaha, Neb., in 1924 and three years later Everett appeared in his first bout, an exhibition with his elder brother, Ernest. After finishing a two year high school course, Rightmire went on tour with a vaudeville troupe as a tight rope walker in 1928. Three years ago the youngster started his professional career, but he didn't receive any notice until he returned to his home in Sioux City in 1932.

Tickets for the show are priced at $1.10, $2.40, $3.60, and $6, including tax. All but the $1.10 tickets can be reserved now by sending your order to Wrestling Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

DAY AND WEHRLE LEAD DISTRICT AMATEUR TRIALS

Westland, Williams, and Dawson Tie for 3d.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Winfield Day of Elmhurst, and Wilford Wehrle of Kenosha, Wis., two young men who tagged after their elders last year, barely squeezing into National competition by way of the playoff route, yesterday decided to do something about the matter at the Oak Park Country club in the Chicago district trials for the National Amateur golf tournament.

They were so earnest about reversing their 1933 performances that they wound up leading the local sectional qualifiers for the tourney to be held at Brookline, Mass., Sept. 10-15 with mutual cards of 150. This experience of being out in front must be a novel one, for both were involved in playoff battles for last place last year, Wehrle in the open test at Medinah and Day in the amateur trials at Bob O'Link.

Day Does Better.

Day, after a 77 in the morning, rallied with a 73 in his second round for his 150, while Wehrle contributed a pair of 75s for his card. They were a stroke better than George Dawson, Chicago district titleholder from Glen Oak; Jack Westland, Sunset Ridge's Walker cup star, and Steve Williams of Evanston, each of whom had 151.

Bracketed at 152 were John Lehman of Olympia Fields; Richard Ashley of Kenosha, Wis., Pick Wagner of Kildeer, Russell Martin of Flossmoor, and Chuck Becka of Calumet. Williams and Ashley, the latter Wisconsin state champion, made the best comebacks of the day, Steve shooting a 72 in the afternoon after a morning 79, while Dick did even better, tacking a 71, the best card of the day, on to a first round of 81. Wagner led the field with a par 72 in the morning, only to slip to an 80 in the afternoon.

Qualifying Limit 156.

The qualifying limit for the 16 places allotted to Chicago proved to be 156, with no playoff necessary. Jimmy Miller of Bob O'Link, after a fine 73 in the morning, took an 83 in the afternoon and barely gained a berth at Brookline. Among those who failed was Larry Moller of Quincy, Illinois state champion, whose 157 just shut him out.

The co-medalists, despite their youth, are no strangers to championship competition, each having distinguished himself in his own bailiwick. Day is a regular member of the Notre Dame team and is present district junior champion, while Wehrle took the Wisconsin state title in 1933 and was runner up in 1934.

Two Outsiders Make Good.

Two of the outside entries won their way to Brookline, Hal Chase II., of Des Moines, Ia., with a 155 and Charles Moore of New Orleans with a 156.

In the morning, Day, after two poor shots, dropped a 20 footer for a birdie at the first hole. He was in the woods at the fourth, trapped on the next hole and in the rough at the seventh. He birdied the eighth with a 12 footer, but found the rough again at the ninth and tenth. Traps sent him over par at the 12th and 15th, but he sank a chip shot at the 15th and a 20 footer for a birdie at the 16th. He was trapped at the 18th.

Winds Up in Trap.

In the afternoon he took three from the edge of the third, but his third shot of the rough to the fourth green was stone dead for a birdie. He ran down from 20 feet on the 11th and was stiff at the 15th pin. At the 17th he bent his drive to the 16th fairway and was trapped on the home hole.

Wehrle, in a tight finish, missed the fifth green and three-putted the eighth, but sank a 15 footer at Heart Attack Fatal at Marengo, Ill.

[PICTURE ON NEXT PAGE.]

Carl Lundgren, baseball coach and assistant athletic director at the University of Illinois and one time pitcher for the Chicago Cubs in the days of Frank Chance, died last night at the home of relatives in Marengo, McHenry county. He was 54 years old.

Lundgren had been in apparently good health up until yesterday evening, when he attended a Kiwanis club picnic dinner near Marengo. He complained of being ill shortly after returning home and died two hours later of a heart attack.

Lundgren was famous, not only as a big league baseball player, but as one of the greatest college baseball coaches in the country. Born at Marengo, Ill., he started his athletic career at Illinois in 1898, where he played football and baseball for four years. As a football player he was a teammate of Justa Lindgren, now line coach of the Illini, and as a pitcher was a battery mate of the late Jake Stahl, former big league catcher and one time manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Attracts Cubs' Attention.

The Illinois team during Lundgren's student days was one of the strongest college teams of all time, and it was while the Cubs were training at Urbana that he attracted the attention of the management as a prospective major league hurler. Two years after his graduation he joined the Cubs. His best years as a big league pitcher were 1905, 1906, and 1907.

In 1905 he won 18 games while losing only 5, for a percentage of .722, and in 1906 won 17 and lost 6 for a percentage of .739. During that season he struck out 103 batters. His 1907 record was 18 victories and 7 defeats, a percentage of .720. While with the Cubs he was a teammate of Mordecai Brown, Johnny Kling, Pfiester, Overall, and other famous stars, who won three pennants in a row under Frank Chance's leadership.

He finished fourth among the national league pitchers in 1905 and 1906 and was fifth in 1907.

Chance Kept Him Out.

Despite his good record as a regular pitcher, he was not used in the world series games, and Chance's judgment in handling of his pitchers in the 1906 series, when the Cubs lost to the Sox was widely criticized.

He left the Cubs in 1909, going to Toronto in the International league, and later to the Mobile club in the Southern association. He retired from professional baseball in 1913 and went to Princeton university as coach of pitchers. He remained there two years and then became head baseball coach at the University of Michigan. His work there in winning Big Ten baseball championships in 1918, 1919, and 1920 led George Huff, athletic director at Illinois, to persuade him to return to his alma mater as head coach when Huff retired from active coaching. His team then won conference titles in 1921 and 1922, giving him a record of five consecutive Big Ten championships.

As coach at Illinois, he won six championships, and developed several big league stars and college coaches, among them Wally Roettger of the Pirates, Harry McCurdy, Otto Vogel, coach at Northwestern. George Sisler, former St. Louis Browns star, was a protégé of Lundgren at Michigan.

He is survived by his widow and two sisters. He will be buried at Marengo, his old home.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paul Waner stretched his batting streak through its second straight day and regained a lot of previously lost ground in the big six batting race yesterday. Paul had a perfect day at the plate with three hits in as many official times at bat, shooting the average up three points to .358. That gave him a tie with Charley Gehringer for third place as Gehringer hit safely only once in four tries. [illegible] Bill Terry and Mel Ott, [illegible] in four attempts, losing a point apiece. VIRGINIA VAN WIE TAKES 7 STROKE LEAD IN DERBY

Makes Par for 36 Holes; Mrs. Hill Second.

Virginia Van Wie, national champion, equaled par over 36 holes yesterday to take a seven stroke lead in the women's Western Derby at the Beverly Country club.

Miss Van Wie trailed the first round leader, Lucile Robinson of Des Moines, Ia., Monday by five shots with an 83, but today she came back with rounds of 76—82 to post a 54 hole total of 241 as Miss Robinson fell to a pair of 87s and landed in third place at the three-quarter mark.

Mrs. Hill Second.

Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, former western champion, was in second position with successive rounds of 86—82—80—248, but her chances of catching Miss Van Wie over the final 18 holes tomorrow seemed remote.

As Miss Robinson and most of the other contenders fell victims of the yawning traps and numerous saplings lining the fairways, the national champion broke par by three strokes in the morning with scores of 38 each way. She started her attack on par by holing out 25 foot putts for birdies on the first two holes and then missing one for an eagle from 15 feet. She played the next two holes in par, three putted the sixth to go one over par, got her par on the eighth, but she got tangled with a bad trap on the ninth that forced her to a six and her advantage to par on the nine holes to one shot.

Miss Robinson Falters.

Coming back, she scored seven pars and two birdies. In the afternoon, her putter failed her and she fell three strokes over par. Miss Van Wie was four over par for the 54 holes.

Miss Robinson, who defeated Miss Van Wie in the western finals last year, encountered difficulty at the sixth hole of the morning round. She was even par to that point, but her shots landed in one trap after another from there on.

the ninth. He was in the rough at the 14th, birdied the next green with a six foot putt, then found a trap at the 16th. He missed the last green with his second.

In the afternoon he three-putted the third and was among the trees at the fifth and seventh. His second to the 11th was over the green, but he nearly scored an ace at the 12th, the ball kicking a foot to the left of the pin. He sank 10 footers at the 17th and 18th, the latter a valuable putt, for he had taken four to reach the green.

HOMANS, VOIGT FAIL

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

One hundred and seventy-one golfers qualified for the National Amateur Golf tournament in 28 district rounds yesterday.

The 36 holes of medal play, scattered over courses throughout the country, was notable principally by the manner in which favorites marched safely into the field which will begin match play for the championship at Brookline, Mass., on Sept. 10.

More than 700 participated in the sectional tests and the only notable stars who failed to qualify were Gene Homans of Englewood, N. J., runner-up to Bobby Jones for the title in 1930; George Voight, former Walker cup player from New York, and Walter Emery of Oklahoma, former collegiate champion.

Gotch Meets Burns on Mat and Earns $10

[This is the fifth of a series on the history and development of wrestling. Jim Londos and Ed Strangler Lewis, greatest of present day wrestlers, will meet at Wrigley field Sept. 20.]

Farmer Burns kept busy chasing about the country meeting local favorites, occasionally seasoning his dish of victories with real contests in larger cities. Among the victims of his savage mat trickery in the months succeeding his triumph over Jenkins was another victory over Jenkins. He also beat Dan McLeod and Emil Klank, who at that time had risen to front rank classification among the heavies.

In Burns' itinerary was the hamlet of Humboldt, Ia., and the occasion was a farmers' picnic in a grove near the village. The farmer was offering $10 to all who could stay 15 minutes with him, and a young farmer of the vicinity took down the first $10 Burns ever had to lay out.

Gotch Impresses Burns.

That young farmer was Frank Gotch and so impressed was Burns that he returned to Humboldt later to see Tom Jenkins wrestle Gotch in a handicap match in which he agreed to beat the Iowan twice in an hour. That was one of the most brutal matches in the modern history of wrestling. The men struggled on a bed of cinders, and before it was over both had been grated until they were masses of cuts and bruises. But Gotch's shoulders did not touch the ground.

Burns would not meet Gotch again, and, to make it certain, he and Emil Klank took him under their managerial wing and exploited him as the American champion. It is interesting to note at this time that no claim was made formally for Gotch as world champion. Sports writers, who then were the law in both boxing and wrestling, agreed that the Iowan was the greatest of all.

Burns and Klank then toured with Gotch. The first trip ended in Alaska, where Gotch determined to forego wrestling and become a fighter.

One Punch Cures Frank.

This decision ended disastrously for the Humboldt farmer who was hit hard on the jaw in the first few seconds of the fight. He then gave it up in the second round. It was Frank Slavin, a tough, rugged heavyweight, who put an effectual stop to any further ambition on the part of Gotch to become a fighter.

Shortly after this experience, Gotch returned to the United States and resumed his triumphant tour, beginning in the Pacific northwest down to the California coast and thence across the country and back to the middle west.

While Gotch was tossing opponents right and left throughout the United States and becoming the first wrestler in history who specialized in one particular hold, Europe was wringing with the sensational performances of George Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion.

Gotch had developed the toe hold, a variation of the age-old leg lock, but the manner in which he applied it could result only in a broken ankle if seriously resisted. Hackenschmidt was the greatest of a great group of European grapplers who still retained the pressure, or power, system of wrestling.

Suddenly a storm of demands arose in all sections of America for a meeting between Gotch and Hackenschmidt. For the first time since the triumph of Yussiff over Evan Lewis, American sports fans believed they had an opportunity to see an American win the undisputed world title.

Sponsored by a group of Russian noblemen, backed by their money and right in the middle of a triumphant tour of European capitals, it was no easy task to get permission for Hackenschmidt to come to America. Finally, however, after much correspondence and negotiation by mail and cable, Frank Wittig, Milwaukee, went to Europe and returned with Hackenschmidt, signed for a meeting with Gotch in Dexter Park pavilion, Chicago. The world heavyweight championship was at stake.

Bears Speed Up Practice for All-Stars

the Bears have been going about their chores in weather better suited to sitting on the front porch, the excess poundage is melting off at a slow rate. Some of the fellows are growing heavier.

Luke Johnsos, former Northwestern end, has moved from 192 to 195 pounds. Charles [Ookie] Miller, the Purdue alumnus, has discovered that, by playing center in the daily drills and doing all the other routine stunts, he has gone from 198 to 199. Paul Franklin, a half back from Franklin college, has jumped from 200 to 202.

Tackle George Musso, Millikin's college contribution to the pro champions, has melted from 274 to a mere 268. Roy Lyman, the other regular tackle, who showed an increase for a couple of days after starting, has dropped to 240, a loss of four pounds. Bronko Nagurski, the rip snorting full back, is down to 230, a contraction of five pounds. Red Grange has moved from the 194 class to 192.

ROUGHHOUSE MAT TITLE AT STAKE IN ZAHARIAS BOUT

Promoter Doc Krone decided yesterday to bill tomorrow night's wrestling match between George Zaharias and George Mack as a battle for the roughhouse championship of the world. The match is a one and one-half hour time limit affair and will headline an all-heavyweight card at the Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues.

Krone has lined up a semi-windup in which Abie Coleman and Gentleman Jack Smith will participate. They wrestle to a one-half hour time limit. Other matches on the card find Buckets Goldenberg, pro football player, tackling Jack Zaravich; Gus Klem against George Shwab, German lumberjack, and Rudy Hoffman meeting Hans Bauer, the German strong man.

SALVATORE AND HIGGINS DRAW IN EIGHT ROUNDS

Geno Salvatore, La Salle, Ill., lightweight, and Gene Higgins, Chicago, fought a draw in the eight round windup at Western stadium last night. Higgins weighed 140¼; Salvatore, 135. Art Sykes, Elmira, N. Y., heavyweight, stopped Frank Ketter, Chicago, in the third round of the scheduled five round semi-windup.

Sykes floored Ketter four times in the first round and twice in the second. The last knockdown occurred in the final seconds of the second round and Ketter was unable to return for the third. Other results:

Patrick Henry beat Spud Kelly [4].
George Haberski beat Fred Cheynoweth [4].
Kid Bruno beat Ace Dundee [4].

Cup Defenders Start Final Trials Today

Newport, R. I., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Out on the open Atlantic, over the international race courses, the three America's cup defense candidates, Yankee, Rainbow, and Weetamoe, are scheduled to start their final trials tomorrow. They will be sent over the match distance of 30 miles, to windward and leeward one day and around a triangle the next.

There is no stipulation as to the number of races, it merely being stated that they will last until the defender has been decided upon by the America's cup committee, which will watch the trials. The members of the committee are Commodore Junius S. Morgan of the New York Yacht club, Vice Commodore W. A. W. Stewart, Rear Commodore E. Townend Irvin, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Van S. Merle-Smith, and George A. Cormack.

Boats to Race in Pairs.

Only two boats will be raced each day. Being paired, it would take six races all told for one yacht to meet the other twice, and it is unlikely the members of the committee would render judgment against a yacht on the result of one contest.

A windward and leeward and a triangular one for each pair would seem the minimum arrangement. So allowing for calms, bad weather, or other interferences, the trials are likely to cover ten days.

Rainbow and Weetamoe will be matched in the opening contest tomorrow, giving Yankee a day off.

Yankee Record Best.

The record of the races of the Rainbow and Yankee so far is as follows:

June 24—Rainbow won over 28½ miles in fair breeze. Yankee led by 58 seconds at finish but was disqualified for fouling.

July 10—Yankee won by 5 minutes and 27 seconds over 28½ miles, after Rainbow secured better of start, in fair breeze.

July 11—Rainbow won by 11 seconds over 30¼ miles by outdrifting Yankee at finish after trailing for two legs of a triangle in faint breeze that died out. It was no race, as the time limit expired.

July 13—Yankee won by 12 seconds over 30 miles to windward and leeward in fair breeze.

July 14—Yankee won by four minutes over 22½ mile triangle in light air.

July 17—Yankee won by 24 seconds over 22¾ mile triangle after Rainbow secured better of start in fair breeze.

Aug. 10—Yankee won by 9 seconds over 37½ miles without windward work and in increasing breeze.

Aug. 11—Yankee defeated Rainbow 3 minutes and 32 seconds over 32 miles. It was three cornered race, which Weetamoe won in light air.

Aug. 13—Yankee won over Rainbow by 2 minutes and 31 seconds over 31.6 miles in fair breeze.

Aug. 14—Yankee won by 15 minutes and 20 seconds over 40½ miles in light air after Rainbow went breeze hunting.

Aug. 15—Yankee beat Rainbow in light air over 37 miles after Rainbow dropped out after getting into calm spot.

Aug. 16—Rainbow beat Yankee 6 minutes and 39 seconds over 28½ mile triangle in fair breeze.

Aug. 17—Rainbow beat Yankee 3 minutes and 22 seconds over 30 miles without windward work in light air.

Total results—Yankee won 9, Rainbow won 3.

COUNTY AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY OPENS TODAY

The 24th annual Cook county amateur golf tournament will open this morning at the Harlem Golf club, 7400 West Roosevelt road. An 18 hole qualifying round will be played this morning with the 32 low scorers competing in the championship bracket. Match play will open tomorrow and continue through Saturday.

This is the first year that the tournament is being held away from Garfield park. A record entry is expected to compete. President Dick Courtney of the Garfield Park Golf club, sponsors of the tournament, announced yesterday that the defending champion, Keith Morrison of Big Run will be on hand to defend his title.

The entry fee this year has been reduced to $1.75 and will include greens fees for the three days of match play. Entries will be accepted at the tee until 5 o'clock.

Australia Leads England in Title Cricket Match

LONDON, England, Aug. 21.—England's cricket team, seeking The Ashes, emblematic of the world's cricket supremacy, today was dismissed for 321 runs in the fifth and last match with Australia. Australia scored 701 runs in its first innings and had 158 for one in the second when stumps were drawn.

Phagan and Hood Sign for Bout in White City Ring

Johnny Phagan, west side middleweight, and Billy Hood of Orlando, Fla., have been signed to clash for eight rounds at White City Monday. Two other encounters at eight rounds are being arranged by Promoter Johnny Coulon.

Johnny Gaudes, Milwaukee, Wis., bantamweight, is being sought to oppose Lenny Cohen in the six round semi-final to the windup match between Joe Louis, Detroit, Mich., heavyweight, and Buck Everett, Gary, Ind., at Marigold Gardens Monday. Louis will seek his fifth victory in as many pro encounters against Everett, who will be his best opponent. Everett handed a lacing to Donald [Red] Barry of Washington, D. C., at Shewbridge field recently. In a previous local appearance Buck won a 15 round decision from Tony Cancela at Arcadia Gardens.

John Krone, wrestling promoter, and Maurice Rivkin, boxing impresario, yesterday obtained license renewals. . . . A show will be held at Quincy, Ill., Sept. 6. . . . A series of wrestling bouts are to be presented at Round Lake, Ill., Friday. . . . Jacquotte Elverrillo, junior welterweight, who has beaten Sherald Kennard and Tommy Corbett in recent weeks, is the latest to join the troupe of boxers at the Garden of Champions at A Century of Progress.

Harold Brown and Bill Katzmarek, amateur lightweights, will head William [Pep] Kerwin's show tonight at Ashland arena, Addison street and Ashland avenue, in a five round bout. Seven supporting matches have been arranged. F. M.

CLUB RELATIONS EVENT TO HEAD BUSY GOLF DAY

The twenty-first annual Club Relations day of the Chicago District Golf association, which brings together all of the officers of the organization, will be held today at the Glen View club. The event heads one of the busiest days of the season, for, in addition to the final round of the western women's Derby at Beverly, invitational tournaments are scheduled for Illinois, Mohawk, Bunker Hill, and Ridge.

The Club Relations day will be a 36 hole event, with prizes for low gross and low net at 18 and 36 holes. The 36 hole low gross scorer will be designated as club relations champion, while the best four scores from any club in the afternoon round will win the C. D. G. A. trophy, presented by the Chicago Golf club.

Illinois will revive its annual Stampede, a 36 hole tournament, and Mohawk will hold its Wa-Hoo day. Ridge will conduct its Pow-wow and Bunker Hill its Frolic.

The first annual open tournament of the Surprise Park Golf and Boat club, a 36 hole event, will be held today at Cedar Lake, Ind. A number of Chicago district and Indiana state stars will compete, including Abe Espinosa, Ralph Stonehouse, Bill Heinlein, John Watson, Don Gardiner, John Lehman, Tom Cooley, Guy Paulsen, Joe Noonan, Jim Noonan, Tony Scavone, Bob Baldwin, and Eldredge Robinson.

American Yacht Defeats Canadian in Cup Event

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 21.—[Special.] — Conewago, representing the Rochester Yacht club and seeking its second straight victory in the Canada's cup races, defeated the Invader II. of the Royal Canadian Yacht club today. It was Conewago's second triumph over the Canadian boat and a victory tomorrow will give America the cup. Conewago's margin of victory was almost a mile in distance and an unofficial time of 6 minutes and 44 seconds.

MUSKIE FISHERS LAND BIG BOYS IN WISCONSIN LAKES

Mercer, Winegar Region Offers Sport.

BY BOB BECKER.

Muskie fishermen should not overlook the muskie waters between Mercer and Winegar, Wis., judging by reports of catches in that region in recent days. One lake which has yielded an imposing string of muskies this season (not a large lake, either) is South Turtle. South Turtle is south of the town of Winchester. North of it is another Turtle lake.

Here are weights of some muskies taken from South Turtle: 10, 23, 14½, 16, 12, 18, 17¼, 11 and 14 pounds. Milwaukee and Chicago anglers landed most of these fish. Although not one of the muskies would be called a whopper or a record breaker, they are large enough to give anybody plenty of thrills.

Good Casting and Trolling.

The Turtle waters long have been known as good lakes for casting or trolling. South Turtle is a long, rather narrow body of water with much cover for big fish. North Turtle lake is a wider body of water with several large arms. To the east of the Turtle lake is Birch lake, which is worth a stop.

One of the best evenings for wall-eyed pike that we have enjoyed in northern Wisconsin was had on Birch lake. Farther east, toward Winegar, is Presque Isle lake, without doubt one of the most beautiful lakes in northern Wisconsin. Muskies have been planted in Presque Isle. Originally there was none in this water because the lake is above the muskie divide.

Besides muskies, the lake also has wall-eyes and bass. One can get a delightful day with canoe and fishing rod if he portages from the southern end of Presque Isle over the divide into Katinka and then south to Papoose lake.

Papoose is a muskie, bass and pike water. This is the lake which has recorded a 43 pound muskie this season, just about the largest 'lunge to come to our notice since the opening of the season.

Muskies Hit Spoon Lures.

In checking over the muskie records in Wisconsin during the past few weeks it has been interesting to make comparisons between the lures used to fool the fish. Taking 23 'lunge caught in various parts of Wisconsin we find that a spoon lure of some type or size caught 17 of the fish. One was caught on a live sucker, and five muskies fell for large plugs.

It is evident that the flashing spoon still is a favorite of muskie fishermen. However, fishermen going after the big ones always should have a variety of plugs in their tackle boxes because there are times when muskies strike plug lures with a vengeance.

Wisconsin lakes have produced some large northern pike this summer. From Nokomis, northerns weighing 18¾, 17¾, 14½, 16, 24, and 11½ pounds have been caught thus far this season.

Motorcycle Riders Race Tonight at Logan Sq. Oval

The fourteenth meet of the American Motorcycle association will be held tonight at the Logan Square oval when Jimmy Gibb, Tom Cox, Don Smith, Clifford Hills, Dick Springston, and a dozen more flat track motorcycle riders will attempt to take first place from Mark Kelly, the northwest champion, in the A. M. A. standings. Kelly has been out in front for the last three meets, but Gibb, 21 year old rider from the west coast, is close behind. Cox, Smith, and Hills are also strong contenders. As the track is now in good condition, the records held by Kelly may be broken.

Kelly will get an even break only in the scratch contest. In this event he must beat some of the best riders in the country in a preliminary heat and then defeat the three best racers in a final contest.

ROWE WINS 15TH STRAIGHT; STOPS RED SOX, 8 TO 4

Victory Gives Detroit 3d in Row Over Boston.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Lynwood [Schoolboy] Rowe, Detroit's 22 year old hurler, today recorded his 15th straight victory by pitching the Tigers to an 8 to 4 triumph over the Red Sox.

The victory, his 19th of the season, brings him within one game of equaling the all time American league record of consecutive triumphs now held jointly by Walter Johnson, Smoky Joe Wood, and Lefty Grove.

The Tigers finished their series with the Red Sox with a 3 to 1 advantage having won three in a row after dropping the opener. Today's victory stretched their lead to 5½ games over the second place Yankees, who lost to the Browns.

BROWNS, 8; YANKEES, 6.

New York, Aug. 21. — (AP) — The Browns salvaged the final game of the series of four today with the Yankees as they pounded Russell Van Atta and Danny MacFayden for enough runs to overcome the effects of Lou Gehrig's 38th and 39th homers of the season. The score was 8 to 6. The defeat, coupled with Detroit's victory over Boston, put the Yankees 5½ games behind the Tigers.

BROWN DEFEATS WORONICK IN 3 FALL MAT BOUT

Jack [Bad Boy] Brown defeated Julius [Mephisto] Woronick in the main event of the wrestling show presented at White City last night. Brown took two falls in the three fall match which was witnessed by a crowd of 2,000. Brown won the first fall in 16:20 while Woronick took the second in 11:18. In the third fall both wrestlers went out of the ring, Brown returning on 19 seconds, one second under the time allowance to win the match. Woronick was unable to return. In the semi-windup Bill Brooks defeated Buck O'Neil in 18:30. The show opened in the outdoor arena but was moved indoors because of rain.

Other results:

Lou Talaber beat Zack Malkov, 30 minutes [decision].

Mike London beat Tommy Carter, 7:50.

REDS TURN BACK GIANTS, 4-3; GET FOUR IN FIFTH

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Fred Fitzsimmons found the Reds a different proposition today as he attempted to repeat Saturday's two-hit victory and Cincinnati drove him out in five innings to defeat the Giants, 4 to 3, in the final game of the series.

As the second place Cubs also lost today, the Giants finished their final visit to Cincinnati 5½ games in front.

The Reds got only five hits off Fitzsimmons and one off his successor, Al Smith, but they bunched them with telling force in the fifth after an error by Travis Jackson let the world champions in for trouble. Score:

Red Faber, released last February by the White Sox, could have signed with either the Cubs or Athletics, but he spurned the bids because he figured it would require too much work for him to get into condition. . . . Johnny Risko, heavyweight fighter, has more than $40,000 in a savings bank and has a monthly income of $700 from investments. . . . The University of Wisconsin crew, which practiced all year and didn't engage in a race, is traveling around the state this summer with a shell and paying its own expenses to exhibition meets. . . .

This probably will hurt the feelings of Guy Bush, but members of the Sox say his screw ball doesn't compare with Sam Jones'. . . . Gabby Hartnett was fined $100 for coming to a clubhouse meeting one minute late when Bill Killefer was manager of the Cubs. . . . Julia Vison, 75 years old, of Portland, Ore., took to golf when the first drive she ever made hit her son-in-law. . . . She plays left handed and vows she will break 100 before the end of the year. . . . Baseball managers say a slow ball pitcher is more effective at night than he is in the daylight. . . . The Dallas Steers apparently think little of the talent sent them by the White Sox. . . . Early this season they took one look at Milton Bocek and dispatched him to Longview of the West Dixie league. . . . The Steers, after a peek at Joe Chamberlin, sent him to the same club. . . . Andy Pilney, one of the heavy hitters on the Notre Dame baseball team, is batting in seventh position with the club he plays for in the Midwest league. . . .

Southern California and U. C. L. A. will begin football relations in 1935, according to reports from the coast. . . . There has been strong agitation for a game between the teams for the last five years. . . . Frank Swalley, Lykens, O., semi-pro pitcher, recently hurled a perfect game against Republic, winning 11 to 0. . . . Joe Kirkwood, trick shot golfer, imbibes a glass of hot-lemon juice unsweetened before retiring every night and another every morning before breakfast. . . . Ted Lyons is considered chump No. 1 by his White Sox mates at any form of gambling. . . . Several movie stars have notified officials of the Hollywood American Legion to cancel their weekly boxing show reservations. . . . Autograph seekers have been making life miserable for them at the arena entrances. . . . One night Eddie Cantor was almost completely wrecked before he got in, losing even his ticket. . . .

Mike Cantwell was paid $1,100 to put Max Baer in condition for his fight with Carnera. . . . Students at St. John's college at Annapolis, Md., won't have to hunt for work this fall. . . . The college is building a boathouse and student labor will be paid by the Alumni association. . . . Newspaper representatives from every part of the United States will attend the charity football game between the College All-Stars and Chicago Bears, Aug. 31. . . . Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Tigers, is earning heavy dough for his Wednesday night baseball reviews over the Columbia network. . . . If Detroit wins the American league pennant, Cochrane will be the ninth manager of that organization to take the flag in his first season as head man. . . . Cub Errors Help Phillies Win, 6 to 1 utes' notice being an evidence of same. And you can't blame a man for wanting to be in the arms of his family when he is sore of heart and body.

The Cubs' helpless performance deprived them of a chance to gain on the Giants, who finally lost a game to Cincinnati. So the second placers still are 5½ games behind the first placers, with the Giants moving to tough St. Louis and the Dodgers coming into Chicago.

Cubs' Infield Collapses.

The Cubs' infield, excepting only Jurges, who never had a chance, collapsed in the sixth in the following manner: Walters was safe at first on Hack's low throw. Collins bunted and Walters was safe at second and Collins at first when Hurst made a low throw to second. Bartell sacrificed and the bases were full with none out when Billy Herman took his foot off the bag as he took Hack's throw to first. Warneke seemed about to emerge from the woods when Chiozza fanned and Allen lined to Hack, but Johnny Moore lined a single to right center, Walters and Collins scoring and Bartell reaching third. Billy Herman fumbled Camilli's grounder, but recovered in time throw him out.

Hack tripled with one down in the Cub half of the sixth for the third hit off Collins, but Billy Herman and Stainback popped up flies which were caught between the plate and the pitcher's box.

Jimmy Wilson led off the seventh with a double but couldn't get around, but in the eighth Bartell enjoyed better success when he too led off with a double, for Chiozza followed up with another double to score him. It was Chiozza's third hit of the game. Lou went to third on Allen's sacrifice, then Johnny Moore walked. Camilli singled over second, Chiozza scoring and Johnny Moore reaching third. Warneke was yanked and Tinning went in.

Galan Hits Homer.

Jimmy Wilson bunted in an attempted squeeze play and Johnny Moore was called out at the plate on Hurst's throw but the decision was reversed when Hartnett dropped the ball. This put Camilli on second and Wilson on first, whence they advanced on a passed ball. Camilli scored and Jimmy Wilson reached third while Jurges was throwing out George Davis. The inning ended when Hurst grabbed Hack's bouncing throw on Walters.

The Cubs got out of the goose eggs with one out in the eighth. At that point Galan, batting for Tinning, slammed a homer into the right field bleachers.

Root pitched the ninth with little molestation. He fanned Collins and Bartell and made Chiozza pop to Hartnett.

National League Idle Today; Cubs Face Dodgers Next

Today is an open date in the National league schedule. The Phillies move on to Pittsburgh and the Cubs expect to spend the day scheming how to take three straight from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies yesterday failed to look like the poorest fielding team in the National league as indicated by the official league statistics. Four putouts in a row in the fourth and fifth innings were great. Walters reached into the boxes for a one-handed catch of Babe Herman's foul, to end the fourth, and after Cuyler had led off the fifth with a single, Bartell made a swell catch on Hartnett in left field and Johnny Moore and George Davis plucked drives by Hurst and Jurges right off the outfield screens.

The Cub management made the following announcement: "There has been considerable discussion regarding the starting time of games at Wrigley field on Saturdays, because of 12 o'clock closing of business. To please the fans we are putting it up to a vote.

"Address your vote to Miss Donahue, Wrigley field, Chicago. State whether you prefer the games to start at 1:45, 2:00, 2:15 or 2:30, instead of three o'clock on Saturdays."

DEMETRAL GOES AFTER FISCHER'S TITLES TONIGHT

Charles [Midget] Fischer of Butternut, Wis., world's middleweight and light heavyweight champion wrestler, will defend his titles against Jimmy Demetral of Madison, Wis., tonight at the Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. The pair will wrestle in a best two out of three fall match with a ninety minute time limit. Fischer won the middleweight crown from Johnny Meyers in Chicago and the light heavyweight championship from Billy Edwards at Kansas City, Mo., in 1929.

Alex Kasaboski and Jack Kennedy, of Phoenix, Ariz., will be the principals in the 30 minute semi-windup. George Dusette and Al Williams are paired in a thirty minute match. Frankie Hart will meet Bull Curry in the opener.

CHAPIN DEFEATED BY PARE IN PRO TENNIS TOURNEY

J. Emmett Pare, Memphis, Tenn., seeded fourth in the draw, won his way into the quarter-finals of the national professional tennis tournament at South Shore Country club yesterday. Pare defeated A. H. Chapin Jr., Springfield, Mass., in four sets, 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

The Chicago combination, George O'Connell and George Jennings, won a three hour first round doubles encounter from Jack Castle, Buffalo, and George Hudson, Berkeley, Cal., coming from behind with the score 4-2 in the fifth set to win at 6-3, 6-8, 6-3, 7-9, 8-6. Edwin Faulkner, Philadelphia, and Ernest Kuhn, New York, experienced little difficulty in eliminating James Mitchell, Richmond, Va., and William Triest, Philadelphia, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Pare Plays Accurately.

The Pare-Chapin match brought out the best tennis that has been displayed in the tournament. Pare, former national clay court champion and one of the finest stylists in the game, had his ground strokes under perfect control, especially in the first two sets. Chapin, formerly in the first ten ranking amateurs in this country, kept the gallery on the edge of its chairs with his slashing forehand drives and sorties to the net, where he angled off sharp volleys for point after point.

Castle Confuses Chicagoans.

O'Connell and Jennings were almost beaten by the ninety-eight pound Castle's unerring lobs and stop volleys. The Buffalo veteran rarely erred, returning soft shots at the feet of the Chicagoans that had them in constant difficulties.

O'Connell and Jennings will meet the winners of the Vines-Heston, Noble-Wylie match in one quarter-final, while Kuhn and Faulkner take on the defending champions, Vincent Richards, New York, and Charles Wood, Bernardsville, N. J.

Today's matches:

2:30 p. m.—Charles Wood vs. Allan Wylie, Chicago.
3:30 p. m.—Paul Heston, Washington, D. C., vs. Jack Castle, Buffalo.
4:30 p. m.—Bruce Barnes, Memphis, vs. Ernest Kuhn, New York.
5:30 p. m.—Kozeluh and Nusslein vs. Chapin and Bernstein.

SOFTBALL TEAMS CONTINUE TITLE PLAY TONIGHT

Three Chicago district softball champions will be decided tonight along with two commercial division semi-finals at Mills stadium, Kilpatrick and Lake streets.

The Gill Boosters were champions in the 16 inch fast pitching division of last year's tourney, a division which was dropped this season. The Hillman's Pure Foods team are defending champions in the commercial division and will meet Andy Frain's Ushers in the first game tonight, a semi-final.

The girls' game brings together two teams which finished close to the top in last year's tournament. One, the Hart Motor Commercial Tire and Supply girls, were runners up, losing in the championship game to St. Romans, while the Andy Frain's Usherettes, playing as the Bauler and Weber Coeds, were eliminated in the quarter-finals.

PRO-WOMAN GOLF TOURNEY SUNDAY AT RIDGEMOOR

One of the most interesting golf events Chicago has seen in years, a pro woman tournament, will be presented Sunday afternoon at the Ridgemoor Country club by the Chicago Women's District Golf association and the Illinois Professional Golfers association. The tourney will be in two ball foursomes, with selective drives and alternate shots. It will start at 2 p. m.

Horton Smith of Oak Park, an enthusiatic supporter of this type of event, is in charge of entries, and all who wish to enter the tournament are asked to communicate with him at Forest 2122. The entry fee for women is $1. Each P. G. A. member will pair with a woman golfer from his own club, to be selected by the chairman of the ladies' golf committee at each club.

Mako and Budge Eliminate Perry, Wilde in U. S. Doubles

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Gene Mako and his red haired partner, Don Budge, a pair of California youngsters, turned back the ranking foreign threat in the national doubles tennis tournament today.

Making up in will what they lacked in experience, the Pacific coast lads came from behind to crush the English stars, Fred Perry and Frank Wilde, and enter the quarter-final round at the Germantown Cricket club.

After dropping the first set, they rallied to conquer the foreigners, 3-6, 6-0, 7-5, 6-3.

Lott, Stoefen Set Record.

Their totally unexpected conquest stole the spotlight from an earlier performance by the defending champions—the Davis cup combination of Lester Stoefen and George Lott.

In quest of their second national crown, the California giant and his Chicago partner eliminated Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., and Burtz Boulware of Atlanta, to gain a straight love set victory in what is believed to be record time in national competition. The match was finished in half an hour.

Sweeping into the quarter-finals with the coast contenders and the present champions were four other American seeded pairs, a ranking foreign team, and two Philadelphian district players.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, former champions and one-time Davis cup team mates, felt the pressure of play along with others. Opposed to Jack Tidball, former intercollegiate champion from California, and Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., they were carried to four sets before they won 6-1, 6-2, 8-10, 8-6 in two hours.

Shields, Wood Win.

The third-seeded pair, Frank Shields and Sidney Wood, America's Davis cup singles players, nosed out the New York-Georgia team, Amand Bruneau and William Reese, 6-0, 6-2, 6-8, 6-3.

The surviving foreign pair, Vernon Kirby, of South Africa, and Roderick Menzel, Czechslovakian, triumphed in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4, over John McDiarmid, Fort Worth, Tex., and Robert Bryan, Chattanooga.

As for Mako and Budge, there was nothing Perry and Wilde could do after the first set that the Californians couldn't undo. From the start of the second set, they took nine straight games. Mako, bearing the brunt of the play, was all over the court. His powerful forehand drilled the ball through the Britons' defense time after time. Combining his all-court coverage with Budge's battering service, he had the foreigners on the run until midway in the third set.

Break Perry's Service.

At that point, chiefly by Perry's brilliant rallies, the British pair picked up five straight games, but their rise was stopped short as the Californians hammered through four more game victories for the set.

The story was more impressive in the concluding set as Mako and Budge took a 4-1 edge, dropped the next two games, and then rushed on to victory. Three times they broke through Perry's service, on each occasion allowing him just one point.

The men's doubles provided only half the day's competition as the national veterans' play got under way. All the seeded stars, headed by Fred Baggs and William Rosenbaum of New York, advanced.

PLAY DONKEY BASEBALL.

The Southtown Athletic club has scheduled four nights of donkey baseball at St. Rita field. The Starlights will meet the Baum Wilsons and the Ald. Doyle Boosters will face the Sherman Restaurants tomorrow.

VACATION OVER, SOX GO BACK TO BASEBALL TODAY

Tietje To Pitch Opener Against Boston.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The second half of the White Sox last eastern trip starts tomorrow and if it's as successful as the first part, Manager Jimmie Dykes will have no reason to complain. They meet the expensive Red Sox tomorrow in the first of a four game series, after which they conclude the jaunt with four games at New York against the Yankees.

The Sox have won three of their last four games, after dropping three in a row to the Athletics in Philadelphia, their first stop. They won the fourth game there, then whipped the Senators in two out of three games.

Tietje Brings Hope.

Les Tietje, who appears more like a prize pitching find each start, was named to oppose Boston. The Sox expected to face Henry Johnson, who specializes in beating weak clubs. Dykes hinted he will try to arrange his staf so that his strongest pitchers will be available for the New York series. He would like nothing better than to embarrass the Yankees and help clear the titular path for Mickey Cochrane and his Detroit Tigers.

The development of young Tietje, those $500 guests of George Earnshaw, and the current batting rampage of Al Simmons, are the only absorbing topics on this team that most assuredly will finish in the cellar. This will be the south siders' third eighth place experience, they having been laggards in 1931 and 1924.

Simmons Goes on Riot.

Simmons, during a 16 game batting rampage, has hit at an amazing clip of .515, and, spurred on with the knowledge he has a chance to finish on top, he is expected to continue his one-man riot at the plate.

Dykes, not a bit intrigued by today's game between the Tigers and Red Sox, played 36 holes of golf with Merv Shea. Many others visited Narragansett race track. It seems that some of the Sox care not for baseball one way or another.

Chicagoan Wins in Rifle Match at Camp Perry

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—E. Z. Lord of Chicago won the small bore Wimbledon rifle match today with a score of 196 out of a possible 200 in the national championship tournament at the Camp Perry ranges. Lord defeated 200 competitors. The match was fired on a 200 yard range with 20 shots for record.

IRISH CHAMPION IS NEXT TO LAST IN CHEAP RACE

Immortal II. Is Far Behind Cabezo and Croon.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The Immortal II., champion of Ireland as a 2 year old last year, and sold to Mrs. John Hay Whitney at a fancy figure, is either homesick for the old sod or he can't make himself acquainted with our racing conditions in America.

For the first time since he crossed the Atlantic and began to strive for turf honors in America the big, well put up son of Stratford-Princess Mildred was dropped into a rather ordinary claiming race at Hawthorne yesterday to run for an $800 prize over the six furlong course.

He scarcely improved on the form he had displayed when running against the best of our 3 year olds and handicap stars. He finished next to last and that isn't a very good performance, according to the way American handicappers figure horses which should win.

His Record Is Bad.

It was The Immortal II.'s eighth start in America. Once he was as good as third. On the other occasions he didn't seem to know which way to run.

Cabezo and Croon, two of the most consistent horses in America this season, even though they are not topnotchers in the stake or handicap ranks, finished first and second in the Ogden Avenue purse which brought the Irish champion's eighth straight defeat. Mr. Joe, a $3,000 plater, finished third.

Cabezo beat Croon for the big end of the purse by three lengths and it was the 18th time this year he has been in the money. Croon's record for consistency is even better. This was her 32d start of the year and on 22 occasions she has shared in the purse.

Cabezo Moves Up.

Weak hearted Impunity had made the early pace and had rushed into the stretch with a good margin. At this stage Cabezo, which had been running second, moved up with a fine burst of speed. He whipped Impunity easily and then drove on toward the line of finish with little to worry about. He was not seriously challenged throughout the stretch dash. Impunity quit badly and finished last, being the only horse The Immortal II. was able to beat.

Cabezo stepped the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5 and paid $5.44 in the mutuels.

There wasn't much joy for the players of favorites all afternoon except when Cabezo won.

Slim Rosie Does Her Part.

Other true friends of the favorite backers were that little lady of the turf, Slim Rosie, and her owner, Isaac Weil, the balif turfman from Chicago. Slim Rosie did her afternoon's task in quite convincing fashion and after whirling into the lead of the lower bend galloped on to triumph by a margin of four lengths over Tearout and White Ginger. Slim Rosie, a daughter of Tryster-Rockland, paid $5.50 in the mutuels.

The biggest upset of the day came when Pat C., from the Harned Brothers' stable of Kentucky, rolled home as an easy winner of the 6½ furlong fifth race. Old Pat has been performing in distance races around Chicago most of the summer and his faithful backers didn't believe he had the speed to win a sprint affair. He had it all right and plenty of it, and beat Secret Tryst by two lengths, while Martie Flynn, one of the favorites, landed the slim end of the purse.

The few who backed old Pat collected $46.78 for each two dollars they had invested.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 4-5, 1:00 3-5, 1:07 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Fair Perdita, $13.84 straight, $8.08 place, $4.00 show; Brilliant Duke, $13.48 place, $5.40 show; Lady Louella, $2.86 show. Winner trained by A. C. Detwiler. Went to post at 2:18½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won handily; place driving.

FAIR PERDITA took command under enrgetic riding, was steadied around the turn, where she raced wide and, continuing well while remaining out from rail in stretch, won handily. BRILLIANT DUKE, well up from the start, held on gamely. LADY LOUELLA, given a hustling ride and forced to lose much ground in early stages, weakened in last eighth.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

*Field. Time, :23 2-5, :46 4-5, 1:12 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Uncle Less, $21.20 straight, $11.02 place, $6.72 show; Gooseflesh, $14.80 place, $10.38 show; Well Heeled, $4.48 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 2:47½. At post one-half minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same.

UNCLE LESS, sent to front under mild pressure, came away gradually on stretch turn and weakened badly after five-eighths, but outstayed GOOSEFLESH. Latter, in close quarters soon after the start, saved some ground on the turn but came out entering stretch and, closing boldly, was wearing down the winner. WELL HEELED, a strong factor from the start and forced wide rounding the turn, finished well.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

JACOB'S LADDER [J.Kacala]	111	4	6	7^{4}	7^{2}	8^{2}	9	H.Hutchinson	65.13-1

Time, :23 1-5, :46 3-5, 1:12 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Black Miss, $39.98 straight, $11.24 place, $4.22 show; Renaissance, $3.56 place, $2.64 show; Annan, $3.06 show. Winner trained by Hal Kiser. Went to post at 3:14. At post 4½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

BLACK MISS, kept close up and under vigorous riding after three-eighths, quickly wore down RENAISSANCE after reaching final eighth, then weakened, but lasted. RENAISSANCE, under steady restraint the first half mile and raced wide throughout, went to front with a rush and, though failing to withstand winner, held on fairly well. ANNAN saved much ground and finished strongest of all.

FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Weather cloudy.

Time, :23 3-5, :47, 1:00 4-5, 1:07 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Slim Rosie, $5.50 straight, $3.76 place, $2.92 show; Tearout, $5.20 place, $3.42 show; White Ginger, $3.24 show. Winner trained by I. Weil. Went to post at 3:45½. At post one-half minute. Start fair from gate. Won handily; place driving.

SLIM ROSIE, having speed from the start, came around RICKEY ROO entering stretch, opened up a wide lead quickly, and tired, but was not endangered. TEAROUT, badly outrun to stretch, closed with a rush on outside. WHITE GINGER, fractious at post, where he eventually was placed on outside, began slowly, saved ground after a quarter, and held on well.

FIFTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs, out of chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 2-5, :46 3-5, 1:12 3-5, 1:19 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Pat C., $46.78 straight, $14.00 place, $7.40 show; Secret Tryst, $9.88 place, $5.50 show; Martie Flynn, $2.98 show. Winner trained by A. Harned. Went to post at 4:16. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

PAT C., suddenly improved and away fast, forced the pace under strong restraint, forced wide while coming around SECRET TRYST, and drew out to win with something left. SECRET TRYST had his speed, swerved out in stretch, and weakened in final eighth, but held MARTIE FLYNN safe. Latter saved much ground but was under strong urging from the start and lacked usual late rally.

SIXTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

IMPUNITY [J.King]	97	1	1	1^{h}	$3^{1½}$	6	6	J.J.O'Bryne	17.58-1

Time, :23 2-5, :46 3-5, 1:12 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Cabezo, $5.44 straight, $3.10 place, $2.46 show; Croon, $3.40 place, $2.76 show; Mr. Joe, $3.52 show. Winner trained by C. E. Davison. Went to post at 4:42½. At post two minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

CABEZO, going in his best form and close up from the start, took command with a rush after reaching the turn and, continuing well, held his advantage safe thereafter. CROON, under mild restraint early and unable to withstand winner's rush, held on courageously in a good effort. MR. JOE, under strong riding after a quarter and forced to lose ground, closed stoutly.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 4-5, :49 1-5, 1:15, 1:42 1-5, 1:49 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Dusty Lane, $13.68 straight, $4.32 place, $3.00 show; Quasimodo, $3.02 place, $2.36 show; True Today, $2.58 show. Winner trained by R. McGarvey. Went to post at 5:12½. At post four minutes. Start good. Won driving; place same.

DUSTY LANE, never a great distance back, began to move up after reaching final three-eighths, came through on inside of QUASIMODO under severe pressure, and was ridden out. Latter close to the early pace went to front with rush, but weakened and swerved badly in final eighth. TRUE TODAY had no mishap and also faltered in late stages.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :25 2-5, :50, 1:15, 1:41 2-5, 1:48. Two dollar mutuels paid: Blast, $3.74 straight, $2.72 place, $2.52 show; Sporting Pearl, $4.50 place, $4.32 show; Fair Boy, $22.64 show. Winner trained by C. Porter. Went to post at 5:45½. At post 5½ minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

BLAST, placed on outside at start and away well, was under steady restraint until reaching final three-eighths, responded stoutly to mild pressure, and, wearing down SPORTING PEARL, drew out to win in hand. Latter rushed to front on inside, was well rated, and weakened badly in last sixteenth, but outstayed FAIR BOY. Latter, forced to race very wide the last three-eighths, closed resolutely.

M'LARNIN GOES TO NEW YORK TO ENCOUNTER ROSS

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Jimmy McLarnin, who will meet Barney Ross of Chicago in a return match for the world's welterweight championship Sept. 6, arrived today from Los Angeles by airplane to begin training for the bout, which will be held at Madison Square Garden's bowl in Long Island.

McLarnin, who appeared in fine condition, will leave New York tomorrow for his training camp at Orangeburg, N. J. McLarnin said he has kept in condition by playing golf and tennis. Ross, who won the title by winning the decision over McLarnin last May in a fifteen round bout, has been training at Ferndale, N. Y., for several days.

CAPITOL THEATER BUILDING LEASED FOR TEN YEARS

$15,000 Modernization Program Planned.

After serving for a number of years as a billiard room the old Capitol theater at 4826 North Kedzie avenue will be returned to its original use as the result of a lease made yesterday between the Albany Park Theater corporation and Nelson Thomassen.

The lessee corporation, headed by Robert Templar, will spend $15,000 in remodeling and modernizing the premises and expects to open it as a moving picture theater about Oct. 10. The theater will be redecorated in modernistic style. The lease, negotiated through Albert Goldman, is for ten years on a percentage basis. Mr. Templar is at present manager of the Princess theater and formerly was manager of the Admiral theater.

Housing Group Seeks Bank Aid.

Officers of the Federal Housing administration in the Chicago district spent yesterday in obtaining the participation of Chicago banks in the program of modernizing and improving homes and businesses. Both officials of the regional division and of the Chicago district opened their offices yesterday in the Metropolitan block, 134 North La Salle street.

Among the Chicago district banks and institutions which were announced yesterday as having agreed to participate in the program were the Algonquin State bank, Banco di Napoli Trust company, Howard Avenue Trust and Savings bank, Northwestern Savings, Building and Loan association, Silver Leaf Building and Loan association, Elmhurst State bank, First National Bank of Joliet, and the State Bank of Winnetka.

While the large loop banks have not yet signed agreements to participate, it is reported they expect to do so after studies of the legal aspects of the situation are completed.

Named to State Post.

Percy Wilson, regional director, announced yesterday that Henry R. Kent, formerly vice president of the Fort Dearborn National bank, later with the Continental Illinois and organizer and president of the Guardian National bank of Chicago, has been appointed liaison officer for the southern part of the state under C. E. Hamilton, with headquarters at Springfield. H. E. Otte has the position for the northern part of Illinois, including Cook county.

The H. O. Stone & Co. bondholders' protective committee announced yesterday it proposes to make a payment of $2 on each $100 of deposited Castle Court apartment bonds, although the distribution is not fully justified by the earning statement. The payment will be available Aug. 27 to holders of record Aug. 17. The issue, which totaled $350,000 and had been reduced to $311,150 at the time of default, was secured by the three story 66 apartment building at the northwest corner of 70th street and Jeffery avenue.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21.—There have been several informal discussions among local savings bankers recently on the question of what rate of interest will be paid their depositors in the third quarter, and the whole question is likely to be taken up in earnest after Labor day, when many prominent savings bank men will be back from vacation, according to inquiry in savings bank circles.

Generally speaking, the outlook, in view of the continued shaving of interest rates on thrift deposits in commercial banks and in view of the continued concessions which savings banks have had to make on mortgages in the form of reduced interest, is for further lowering of rates.

Such lowering of rates possibly may take the form of an extension of the split rate principle which was adopted earlier this year by four savings banks of this state, three of which are large New York City institutions. There does not seem to be unanimity of opinion anywhere favoring a horizontal lowering of the rate from 3 to 2½ per cent.

Nickel Plate July Deficit $103,477; Profit Last Year

Cleveland, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The Nickel Plate Road reported a July deficit of $103,477 compared with a surplus of $237,085 in July, 1933. For the seven months period, net income was $309,866 compared with a deficit of $939,964 for the corresponding period of 1933.

REORGANIZATION ASKED FOR TWO LOOP STRUCTURES

208 South La Salle and Bankers Bldg. Named

Reorganization under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy law was sought in federal court here yesterday for two large loop properties—the 208 South La Salle Street Building corporation and the Adams-Clark Building corporation, owner of the Bankers' building, 105 West Adams street.

The La Salle street company owes $14,288,000 with assets being the 21 story building and the land on which it is located, according to the petition. The bill relates losses of $357,000 in 1933 and $150,000 the first six months of this year.

Liabilities Nine Millions.

Liabilities are placed at $9,000,000 on the Bankers' building, more than two-thirds of it in funded debt and interest on defaulted bond issues, according to the action. Debts include a first mortgage of $4,764,000, second mortgage of $1,000,000, $750,000 in gold debentures, and $500,000 in unsecured notes. The building at one time was valued at $10,000,000.

Similar petitions were filed here on behalf of the 5528 Hyde Park Boulevard Building corporation and by creditors against Vista Del Lago, Inc., owner of a clubhouse in No Man's Land near Wilmette, and Hotel Del Monte, Inc., 454 Melrose street.

Debts $662,000.

Debts of the former are put at $662,000. The Del Monte obligations are put at $71,000 and assets at $91,150. No schedule was filed for the Vista Del Lago.

Three Chicago corporations filed similar petitions in the United States District court in Danville. They are the South Center Building corporation, $3,000,000 bonded debt; 7000 South Shore Drive Building corporation, $1,500,000 bonded debt; and Mutual Building corporation, 1213 Van Buren street, $200,000 bonded indebtedness.

CAR LOADINGS SHOW DECLINE FOR LAST WEEK

Early carloadings reports for last week show a recession from the preceding week and a year ago although the total on some western roads was bolstered by heavy grain and live stock movements.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway hauled 21,769 cars in the period, a gain of 2,468 or 12.8 per cent over the corresponding week of last year when 19,301 cars were reported. During the preceding week the total for the line was 22,373.

Nickel Plate loadings for the week aggregated 11,364, an increase of 165 cars over the preceding week, but a drop of 1,588 cars from a year ago. Missouri-Kansas-Texas loadings at 6,682 cars, were 524 and 19 cars respectively below those of the preceding week and a year ago.

Wabash loadings totaled 11,569 cars, against 12,058 and 11,749. The Burlington moved 22,654, a decline of 461 from the preceding week but a gain of 2,021 over a year ago. Illinois Central loadings at 26,943 cars were 295 below the preceding week but 1,256 above a year ago. Missouri Pacific handled 21,647 cars, against 22,555 and 20,442.

ILLINOIS RETAIL EMPLOYMENT HIGHER IN 1933

Retail employment in Illinois gained modestly during 1933, according to a report of the bureau of census. The survey disclosed that retail employment in Illinois climbed from the low point of March, 1933, when 180,414 persons were given full-time work and 47,465 part-time employment, to 221,090 full time and 66,313 part time in December last year. Since the increase was steady, it indicated more than a seasonal trend.

Although 2 per cent more stores were in operation during the year than in 1929, the dollar volume of sales was 53 per cent below that year. Total sales last year were $1,727,407,000, compared with $3,711,303,000 in 1929. In making the comparison, it was pointed out that prices of many articles had dropped in the intervening years.

The full-time pay roll last year was 52 per cent below that of 1929, while the number of such employés was only 33 per cent lower. The average full-time wage last year was $1,043, while in 1929 it was $1,438.

SET MINIMUM RATE OF $1.07 FOR PICK COAL MINING

A minimum rate of $1.07 a ton for pick coal mining was established yesterday by the Chicago Regional Labor board, division 2, in response to an inquiry from the Illinois Zinc company at Peru.

The miners are now being paid at the rate of $1.04 a ton, but under a March amendment to the coal code the company was required to increase the rate 10 cents a ton, which would bring the rate to $1.14.

The company held that it had previously raised the rate 7 cents a ton over the contract price and that the 10 cent increase should be added to the old rate of 97 cents. The labor board ruled that the company had the option to drop the voluntary 7 cent increase and that if it did so the minimum rate would be $1.07.

AMERICAN WOOLEN, BIGGEST IN WORLD, TO CLOSE SEPT. 17

Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The American Woolen company, largest manufacturer of woolen goods in the world, whose net income for 1933 was more than 7 million dollars, announced today that its plant would shut down from Sept. 7 to Sept. 24 "because of textile conditions."

Textile workers have scheduled a general strike in the industry after Sept. 1. They demand union recognition, adjustment of wages and working hours, and the right of collective bargaining as guaranteed by section 7A of the recovery act.

The announcement of the impending shutdown by Walter M. Lamont, resident manager of the Lawrence plant, made no reference to this circumstance. He attributed the company's action to "extreme dullness in the woolen and worsted divisions of the textile industry."

Business was so good during 1933 and up to July 16, 1934, for the American Woolen company that no dividend payment was passed, and an extra dividend of $1.25 a share on preferred stock, payable July 16, was declared on the basis of current business.

U. S. TO DEMAND GOOD BUILDINGS UNDER NEW PLAN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The government is going to have a lot to say about the homes built under the mortgage insurance program which the housing administration hopes to get under way within the next few months.

"The houses financed under our mortgage insurance program have got to be built right," James A. Moffett, housing administrator, said today. "They must be in suitable neighborhoods, in communities where they are needed."

Under the housing act, Moffett is empowered to insure mortgages covering 80 per cent of the appraised value of newly built homes, existing dwellings and low cost housing projects. By refusing to insure mortgages for projects he deems "economically unsound," he hopes to prevent the rush of shoddy building which usually follows a depression, improve building standards generally and curb real estate speculation.

Miles L. Colean, Chicago architect, has been placed in charge of the technical division of the mortgage department. He favors improved building methods and standardization of materials but not of design.

ZANDER REPORTS 1,517 HOLC LOANS MADE IN WEEK

Henry G. Zander Jr., state manager for the Home Owners' Loan corporation, announced yesterday that the corporation made 1,517 loans in Illinois last week. In the first six months of HOLC operations prior to the time Mr. Zander took office last February it was stated that only 706 loans were paid out by the Illinois agency.

In April the organization succeeded in closing 1,035 loans more than the entire previous total. In May the total was 1,754, June 3,316, and July 3,399. Production in August continued to increase with the result that the HOLC paid out more than $5,500,000 in Illinois in the last week alone.

The Chicago office paid out 1,123 loans, representing more than $4,000,000, in the one week, Mr. Zander said. So far in August 2,499 loans, or an average of 156 a day, have been paid out in the Chicago district. This averages more than $600,000 daily. For the whole state the corporation has paid out an average of 216 loans, or about $840,000 per day in August. The peak was reached last Friday when 317 loans, representing $1,100,000, were paid out.

HIGHER SILVER PRICE TRADE AID, DETERDING SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21—Higher silver prices will improve world trade, Sir Henri Deterding, chairman of the board of the Royal Dutch Shell company, said here today after lunching with President Roosevelt. The Dutch financier, long an advocate of restoration of silver to the major monetary systems of the world, said he congratulated the president on the administration's recent silver policy.

Sir Henri, who is credited with having predicted the present depression years ago, said leadership in world economic recovery should come from the United States. It was understood he is not optimistic of it coming from Europe where conditions are not regarded by him too hopefully.

He was accompanied to the White House by James A. Moffett, federal housing administrator and former vice president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey who was also a guest at lunch.

Halsted Exchange Bank Doubles Customer Loans

C. F. Kuehnle, president of the Halsted Exchange National bank, announced yesterday that results of a survey of the bank's loan account indicated that new direct customers' loans made since January totaled $500,000, or an expansion of 112 per cent. These figures do not include notes executed through the partial reduction or renewal of old loans.

RAP SALE OF NEW COMMON STOCK BY MIDDLE WEST

Preferred Holders Want Changes in Plan.

Preferred stockholders of the Middle West Utilities company are unalterably opposed to reorganization of the old Insull holding company through sale of common stock to raise the $12,000,000 necessary to buy out secured creditors.

Donald F. McPherson, attorney for the preferred group, indicated that negotiations might be reopened on the plan to issue preferred stock with a common share bonus in return for new money.

"Our views are very definite," said Mr. McPherson. "We have worked hard and considered the old plan excellent. To strike a sudden snag over a little matter of the amount of common stock bonus is very disappointing. Our only difference is in the number of shares to be given as an inducement for new money.

Hold Bonus Stock Meager.

"On the advice of bankers and investment men on our committee, we decided that eight shares was not enough to give as a bonus for each $100 of new money. Mr. Golding and Mr. Dewey seem to think it is. [The reference is to Robert N. Golding, attorney, and Charles S. Dewey, chairman of the noteholders' committee.] This attitude is disappointing.

"We recognize the propriety of the noteholders having control of the new company. But they could afford to give away 10 shares for each $100 and still have 51 per cent of the common stock."

The proposed counter plan of the noteholders' group is to confine stock issuance to common shares, which would be available to them at $6 and to stockholders at a higher figure, probably $8, until the necessary new money is raised. Mr. McPherson "can't see it, and won't go into it."

Makes Other Objections.

"I don't like to sponsor a plan whereby clients of mine would put out more money and receive nothing more than common stock in a holding company," he explained. "There ought to be protection in the form of a preference stock and 'candy' in common shares as a bonus."

Mr. McPherson also said that new money must have the same value if a refinancing is to be successful. Setting up a price differential on stock injects a controversial issue at once, he explained, despite the prior position of the noteholders' equity in the company.

If the noteholders and stockholders do not exercise their option to buy out secured creditors, the latter would take control of the company under a plan by which they are to obtain 1,710,000 of the 3,000,000 shares issued. The purchase option has been extended to Dec. 1. In this plan, stockholders would be frozen out and noteholders subordinated. Secured claims of $22,068,615 have been compromised for $11,340,000 under the option.

DOLLAR DECLINES AGAINST POUND, FRENCH FRANC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21. — The dollar cheapened slightly in foreign exchange today. A rise of ¾ points in the franc to 6.67¾ cents reduced the dollar to 99.34 per cent of parity, down .11 cent from the previous day. Sterling rose ¼ cent net to $5.09⅛.

Other gold standard and sterling bloc currencies were strong, but the mark lost 5 points of its previous day's sharp gain, closing at 40.15 cents and the lira gained 1 point to 8.69½ cents. The gain in the guilder amounted to 8 points, carrying the exchange to 68.63 cents, belgas were up 1 point to 23.80 cents and Swiss francs gained 5 points to 33.06 cents. Scandinavian exchanges were 2 to 3 points higher. Canadian dollars rose 5-32 cent to 2 23-32 cents premium.

The federal reserve bank again reported no gold transactions. The price of gold in London declined a halfpenny to $35.15. Bars valued at $2,061,196 were sold.

The St. Joseph Lead company declared a dividend of 10 cents a share on the capital stock, payable Sept. 20 to stock of record Sept. 7. A similar payment was made in the previous quarter.

Chesapeake Corp. Declares Dividend of 62 Cents

Cleveland, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The Chesapeake corporation today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 62 cents per share, payable Oct. 1 to stockholders of record Sept. 7.

INVESTOR PROTECTIVE BUREAU REORGANIZES TO EFFECT ECONOMIES

The Investors Protective bureau, established 15 years ago by investment bankers, brokers and other interests affiliated with the investment business, is being reorganized to accommodate itself to the lessened interest in the securities field.

The shift is merely in the interests of economy and, according to George Spaulding, vice president of the Northern Trust Co., who is president of the bureau, will not involve a curtailment of activities. The rearrangement calls for the release of the assistant manager, S. M. Robinson, and one of the three secretaries.

"After a thorough investigation of the bureau's activities," said Mr. Spaulding, "it was unanimously agreed by the board that it must be maintained as a going institution. There has been, as everybody knows, much less activity in the securities business and it was therefore thought advisable to reduce the staf proportionately. There was no criticism as to the actual results of the bureau."

The Investors Protective bureau has been an active element in Chicago in exposing fake stock deals and other "blue sky" law violations.

MOUNTING U. S. TAXES LIKELY TO TOP ESTIMATES

Collections in July Above Year Ago.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Federal tax collections, other than the income tax, will exceed President Roosevelt's estimates if they continue at the pace they set last month, the treasury revealed today.

During July, the first month of the new 1934-'35 fiscal year, the government collected 174 million dollars from the processing tax and all other miscellaneous levies, such as those on liquor, gasoline, and cigarets, the treasury revealed.

If revenues continue to roll in at this rate, these taxes will produce approximately 2 billion 88 million dollars before the fiscal year closes next June 30. This will be just 100 million dollars more than President Roosevelt estimated as their probable yield.

Income Tax Hinges on Rates.

The income tax, most important levy in the federal tax system, is as yet an unpredictable factor. In July, one of the minor income tax months, it brought in 22 millions, a gain of 10 millions over July, 1933. Its eventual results, however, will depend on the new rates which go into effect Jan. 1.

Total federal internal revenue collections in July, including all income, processing, and miscellaneous receipts, aggregated 196 million dollars, the treasury reported. This was a gain of 64 million dollars over the collections in the same month a year ago.

Almost all this net gain was attributable to the piling up of processing taxes, the special levies laid on the public to finance the New Deal's farm program. The total processing tax bill in July was 44 million dollars, an increase of 43 millions over the processing levies of last July. This gain counts for two-thirds of the revenue increase.

Liquor Taxes Show Big Gain.

Liquor taxes, yielding a new high monthly total of 39 million dollars in July, showed an increase over the same month a year ago of 20 million dollars, the treasury reported. Thus, liquor and porcessing taxes accounted for practically all of the revenue gains. Some old line taxes increased their yield, while others slumped, having little net effect.

The new high total in liquor taxes was due almost entirely to the beer tax. Twenty-five million of the 39 million dollars in liquor taxes last month came from beer, a favorite midsummer drink. Since the federal tax is $5 a barrel, the total yield indicates that five million barrels of beer were drunk last month.

Federal income from beer recorded a gain over June of $2,444,428 and was almost double the $12,867,068 of the first repeal month, Dec. 1933.

Hard Liquor Taxes Lag.

Hard liquor taxes continue to lag. Only 7½ million dollars in excise taxes was collected last month on the production of distilled spirits. This figure was slightly more than in June but below the tax collected last December. The rectification tax added another 2½ millions, but these totals are far below the expectations of the treasury.

The outstanding feature of liquor tax collections has been the almost steady rise in beer taxes accompanied by a slight drop in those on distilled spirits.

Beginning in December at $12,867,068, beer taxes dropped to $10,226,510 in January and $9,316,457 in February before beginning the climb which carried them to $13,175,304 in March, $14,366,364 in April, $19,860,164 in May, $22,871,590 in June, and $25,316,018 in July.

Meanwhile, taxes on distilled spirits totaled $8,651,257 in December, $9,651,304 in January, $7,708,354 in February, $8,742,610 in March, $6,843,649 in April, $7,278,324 in May, $7,118,326 in June and $7,416,475 in July.

SOUTHERN MINES BID FOR CHICAGO COAL BUSINESS

Whitesburg, Ky., Aug. 21—[Special.] Appalachian Coal Sales, Inc., the big marketing agency recently organized by 250 coal mines in the southern Apalachian states, will move its offices from Cincinnati to Chicago, it was reported here today. The agency plans an extensive sales campaign to compete with mines which are located nearer big industrial centers.

The mines which are members of the sales agency assert they operate at a disadvantage because of their distance from industrial cities and have declared their intention to stoutly resist recent proposals of the railroads to increase rates. Member mines are located in West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. Present differentials favor the northern producers and the sales campaign is intended to offset this.

The plan to move the agency's office to Chicago is regarded as significant. The Chicago industrial district has always been a highly competitive coal market and the move is seen as a bid by the southern mines for that market.

U. S. to Have Big Inflation, Briton's View

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Maj. L. L. B. Angas, London stock broker and a writer on economics for British journals, answers the question that has been plaguing American business men for many months: "When does real inflation begin to be felt?"

In "The Coming American Boom," published yesterday in New York, the major says, in effect, that you haven't seen anything yet.

"Many claim that in America 'inflation' has already failed," he says. "The truth is that it has only just begun. It has, in fact, taken a year to prepare the groundwork for the great and necessary expansion of credit which is now being maneuvered.

"Though a rise of, say, ten per cent in the money balances held by the public may not immediately prove effective, a rise of 25 per cent may, and of 50 per cent most certainly will, have the desired effect of forcing the possessors of idle balances to spend them and thus start the virtuous circle of rising prices, rising wages, and rising profit margins which constitute recovery.

"The experiment may be compared to the boiling of a liquid. For some time the observer can detect no change as he gazes upon the surface of the water. Just as he is beginning to discredit the efficacy of the fire, the pot begins to bubble and boil.

"That is what I venture to forecast is about to happen with credit expansion in America."

But lest the public become too jubilant over the boiling of the watched pot the author warns:

"Whether or not there will be another huge slump after the forthcoming boom will depend largely upon the skill with which the money and bank credit of the country are 'managed,' not only during the upswing so as to check excesses, but also during the initial stages of the downswing so as to counteract, by governmental open market operations, the cumulative contraction of industrial bank credit."

What the major refers to as the "virtuous circle of rising prices" the Germans, the Austrians, and the French have another word for.

Dr. Philip G. Wright in a pamphlet called "Inflation and After," written for the Duke Endowment, says:

"At the beginning of the war the German people had about 19 billion marks on deposit in German savings banks. On Nov. 27, 1923 [when inflation reached its height], that sum of money—the total amount of savings bank deposits as of 1914—had the purchasing power of ¼ of one cent [American money.]

"Thus, if a person had left his money on deposit in a savings bank from 1913 to December, 1923, inflation would have robbed him of all that he had saved."

It took a long time for the German people to realize that the steadily rising prices were leading them to poverty rather than riches. Prices went up some 1,500 per cent and the value of the mark in foreign exchange went down 97 per cent before the Germans really discovered that they had been robbed. Then they started buying—not with the idea of profiting on the rise in prices, but with the desperate hope of exchanging their shrinking money for something of value before it was too late.

A gleam of hope for inflation fearing Americans is given by Eleanor L. Dulles in her book, "The Dollar, the Franc, and Inflation," published by Macmillan. Maybe the United States isn't headed for bankruptcy; maybe it's only going through receivership, as did France after the war. The French inflation stopped after the French people had been robbed of only four-fifths of their savings.

She finds many points of similarity between the French inflation after the war and events in the United States during the last few years. Both nations were overburdened with debt and both sought relief by manipulating their money. Just as France eased into currency debasement by borrowing from the Bank of France, so the United States has borrowed heavily from the federal reserve banks.

"Once the tide has turned in the direction of soft money," says this writer, "the earlier causes sink into insignificance. . . . In no year of French inflation was there a rise as rapid as that experienced in the United States in 1933. . . . At no time [in France] did the rise in prices and the increase in currency come mainly through a crude printing press inflation."

The ironic thing about inflation is that it hurts the fellow it is supposed to help most—the debtor. Soaring living costs more than absorb any increase in income so that there is no surplus left to pay off mortgages or other debts, despite the fact that theoretically the burden of the debt is less than it was before inflation. That was the experience in France and it affords an interesting study for those who glibly opine that the way to lick inflation is to "buy a piece of property with a stiff mortgage on it."

Eccles Slated as New Head of Reserve Board

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Marriner S. Eccles, youthful special assistant to the secretary of the treasury, will be the next governor of the federal reserve board.

This was indicated with almost complete certainty today as President Roosevelt jockeyed the appointments on the board to make way for Eccles. The only possible obstacle is Eccles' own attitude. He has very definite ideas on financial policy and is understood to have declared that he will not accept the post unless he is free to follow his own lead.

MARRINER S. ECCLES.

[Acme Photo.]

The way was cleared for Eccles when President Roosevelt today reappointed Adolph C. Miller, veteran member of the board, to a new term. The President, however, announced that Miller will hereafter represent the fifth federal reserve district, which centers in Richmond, instead of the twelfth district, which centers in San Francisco.

Eccles from Miller's District.

Miller heretofore has represented the San Francisco district, the region which includes Eccles' home town of Ogden, Utah. Since the board cannot include two members from the same district, the switch in Miller's district from the twelfth to the fifth indicated that Eccles will be appointed from the twelfth district.

Final action on Eccles probably will await President Roosevelt's return here on Saturday. Meanwhile, J. J. Thomas, member of the reserve board whom President Roosevelt today designated vice governor, will head the board.

Eccles has been a special assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. since last January. His elevation to the reserve board is looked on as a victory for Morgenthau and as a development which brings the reserve system still more closely under domination of the treasury.

New Deal Economist.

A New Dealer of pre-Rooseveltian vintage, Eccles advocated the present farm, public works, and mortgage refinancing program before a senate committee while Herbert Hoover still was President.

He is an advocate of easy money and low interest rates, personifying the New Deal attitude on these matters. He helped plan the revolutionary credit machinery embodied in the new housing bill.

Before coming to the treasury Eccles was president of the First Security corporation, which owns 28 banks in Utah, Wyoming, and Idaho. He is also interested in the sugar, lumber, and milk industries. He is 43 years old, dark complexioned, slight, and youthful in appearance.

REPUBLIC STEEL, TRUSCON MERGER DEAL REPORTED

Cleveland, O., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports that a merger of the Truscon Steel company and the Republic Steel corporation is being negotiated were circulated in financial circles here today. Julius Kahn, president of Truscon, refused to deny or confirm the reports. "There is nothing I can say," he said. Kahn was then in conference with officials of Republic Steel.

Although Republic has been engaged in preliminary work on a proposed merger with the Corrigan-McKinney Steel company of Cleveland for several weeks, today's was the first intimation that any deal with Truscon was being considered.

Truscon, a $14,000,000 concern, is a maker of light finished steel products. It has plants in Cleveland, Youngstown, and Detroit, and owns large interests in the Truscon Steel company of Canada and the Japan Steel Products company of Japan.

TWO WISCONSIN FIRMS PLAN MOVE BECAUSE OF LABOR TROUBLES

Racine, Wis., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Uncertainties of labor conditions in Wisconsin, together with demands of expanding business, have prompted two large Racine manufacturing companies to make plans for new plants outside the state, it was revealed today.

The number of strikes in Wisconsin and especially here where there have been strikes by county workers' committees outside the jurisdiction of the American Federation of Labor are said to have disturbed patrons of local manufacturers with the fear that the regularity of deliveries may be interfered with.

Though company officials had no statement to make, it was learned that the Modine Manufacturing company is considering building a new factory in Indiana, while the Western Printing company, large manufacturers of playing cards, announced it will establish a warehouse and branch manufacturing plant at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The Modine company also wishes to have a plant nearer the automotive industry center. It manufactures automobile radiators, air conditioning equipment, and similar articles. The Western Printing company, it was explained, desires a more direct outlet for its eastern market.

BANKERS PLEDGE CO-OPERATION ON HOUSING LOANS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—A pledge of coöperation from the banks in the government's housing modernization program, and in its plans to extend loans to industry through the RFC and the Federal Reserve banks, was given President Roosevelt today by Francis M. Law, president of the American Bankers association. Upon leaving the White House, Mr. Law said he believed there will be a considerable amount of the industrial loans. He obtained from the President a promise to address the American Bankers' association in Constitution hall here on Oct. 244.

The housing administration today asked every community in the country to organize a better housing program and issued a booklet telling them how to do it. The booklet put it up to community leaders to interest property owners in repairs and improvements to be financed with "character loans," partially insured by the government.

WATERWORKS LOANS OF PWA TOTAL 97 MILLION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The public works administration said today $96,870,818 of its billions had been allotted to 947 municipal water works projects.

The total cost of the projects was estimated at $111,886,346. Municipalities benefiting will supply part of the funds. Officials said the work would supply jobs directly for 522,586 men for one month and approximately double that amount in industries supplying and transporting the materials to be used.

France Still Has Wheat Surplus; Crop Down 15%

PARIS, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The French wheat crop for 1934 was estimated at 304,333,000 bushels by Minister of Agriculture Henri Queuille today. This represents a 15 per cent decrease over the 1933 crop. The north African crop was placed at 11,000,000 bushels which, with a surplus of 77,000,000 bushels carried over from 1933, gives France a total of 392,333,000 bushels. These figures represent 33,000,000 bushels less than the 1933 supply, but provide a 33,000,000 bushel surplus over the estimated consumption.

Auto Merger Plan Admitted by Reo Head

Officials of the Auburn Automobile company here refused either to confirm or deny rumors of an impending merger with the Reo and Pierce-Arrow Motor Car companies.

La Salle and Wall street opinions that the smoke of rumor is backed by factual fire gained support, however, in the admission of Ransom E. Olds, founder and chairman of the board of Reo. He said that his company has been approached with a consolidation proposition, but denied that progress had been made or any promise given. At the same time Donald E. Bates, president of the company, denied that Reo is involved in any deal. Mr. Olds was reported from Lansing, Mich., as attempting to minimize prospects "that anything will come of it."

Report of Conference.

A representative of Errett L. Cord, head of Auburn and Cord, is understood to have taken a plane to Lansing a short time ago to confer with Reo officials.

The merger reports which arose from the application on Monday of the Pierce-Arrow company for reorganization also served to revive the recent rumor that Cord has his eye on the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing company, one of the oldest automobile makers, now in the hands of a trustee in bankruptcy.

Still another element was injected into the situation by a report that negotiations have been initiated for Hudson Motor Car company as a member of proposed consolidation. A La Salle street observer declared he had information from an authoritative source that Hudson was definitly in the picture a week ago.

Seek Dealer Consolidation.

A merger is considered logical as a means of eliminating dealer problems and duplicating models. At the same time it would make for economies and serve all price classes in competition with the "Big Three" of General Motors, Chrysler, and Ford.

"I have nothing to say one way or the other," was the only answer that Raymond S. Pruitt, secretary of Auburn, would make to any question put to him.

Narrowing of the market for fine cars has made necessary reorganization of both its manufacturing and merchandising program, the Pierce-Arrow concern said in a statement yesterday.

WHEAT PARLEY MAY CUT U. S. EXPORT QUOTA

Report Reduction Is Nearly Two-Thirds.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 21.—World wheat experts, after five days of palaver in London, were said tonight to be nearing a decision on reassigning export quotas to wheat exporting countries. American experts apparently are going to consent to seeing the United States quota whittled down to 10,000,000 bushels for the coming year. This compares with 27,000 bushels exported last year.

AMBASSADOR BINGHAM.

This will mean a permanent disadvantage for American farmers for the reason that, while the United States may not have much wheat to export next year due to the drouth, it will be hard to overcome the low quota assigned to the United States when farmers have bigger crops later on. Wheat growing countries whose crops have been good this year are out to get the jump on the others through boosting their quotas to the limit now.

Wrangle Over Wheat Quotas.

From the brevity of today's communique to the press it appeared that considerable wrangling is going on over the reallocation of wheat quotas. Nothing indicates that America's delegates, who include Ambassador Robert Bingham, who presides at the sittings, and Loyd V. Steere, agricultural attaché who watches over American agricultural interests in Europe, from Berlin, have been able to modify the figure of 10,000,000 bushels tentatively set as America's export quota of the 600,000,000 bushels provisionally fixed as the world export demand on the 1934-'35 crop year.

Vague Announcement Made.

"The wheat advisory committee met again this afternoon at the board of trade offices to receive the report of the subcommittee appointed yesterday to coördinate proposals which have been under discussion and which are generally acceptable to the delegates," said the announcement. "The consideration of this report will be continued when the committee resumes tomorrow morning."

If this is any satisfaction to American farmers, and if it adds anything to their knowledge of how the wheat advisory committee is going to aid them in exporting wheat—there it is.

Argentina refused to budge from a demand for an export quota of 150,000,000 bushels. Although Canada has made no request for a quota as yet, her delegates here informed the conference that the dominion government would be unlikely to accept less than 260,000,000 bushels. Australia should be able to get around 110,000,000 bushels.

"Surplus Still Problem"—Murphy.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Wheat surplus problems will continue as there is still plenty of wheat in the world, unless wheat growing countries continue their acreage reduction campaigns, F. E. Murphy, Minneapolis publisher and American delegate to the Rome and first London wheat conferences, warned here today.

"There is no basis for the alarmist stories of a world wheat shortage because of drouth conditions," he said.

Grains Climb for Third Day; Trading Light

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Prices of grain futures in Chicago moved up moderately yesterday, influenced largely by sharp advances in the leading foreign markets and the continued insistent demand here for cash grain. Trading was light.

The advance marked the third successive day of rising prices, but there was nothing to suggest any material increase in speculative operations, which have been sharply curtailed since the government gave public notice that the course of prices in the grain market is being closely watched.

The advance in wheat amounted to ½ to 1⅛ cents, with the September contract closing at $1.04⅞ cents. Prices of corn futures were 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents higher.

Corn in Strong Position.

The strength in corn reflects the widespread feeling that this grain is in even stronger position than wheat. The government's intention to lift import duties on foodstuffs has not depressed corn prices and yesterday's news suggested that Canada may place an embargo on such grain exports in order to safeguard her own supply. Meanwhile the actual suspension of the import duties by this country is being held in abeyance, Washington dispatches said.

Oats were also moderately higher yesterday with futures gaining ¼ to ⅝ cents. Present indications are that before the next crop is harvested the United States will have to buy supplies from other countries to make up the domestic shortage. Rye prices also moved up, closing 1⅜ to 1¾ cents higher.

Foreign Markets Advance.

All principal overseas markets registered material advances yesterday. In Liverpool wheat closed about 2 cents higher, while in Buenos Aires the market advanced more than 2 cents. The Rotterdam market scored a similar advance, but in Winnipeg, where the harvest and attendant hedging is under way, prices were inclined to be heavy.

The further advance in the Liverpool market is looked upon as particularly significant, as it is regarded the best reflector of world conditions. The English market has gained about 5 cents on the Winnipeg price this month.

Rumors were heard yesterday that investment buyers are shipping corn to Georgian bay ports, where it may be stored at comparatively cheap rates outside the jurisdiction of the United States government.

NEW YORK PLANS TAX ON BUSINESS FOR RELIEF FUNDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21.—Taxing the gross annual receipts of business conducted here at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent on all income over $5,000 a year was agreed upon today by members of the board of estimate and the board of aldermen to raise $50,000,000 for relief needs next year.

In addition, the members backed a city lottery plan submitted by Borough President James J. Lyons of the Bronx as a means of raising $12,000,000 additional for relief. Subscribers to the lottery would purchase shares in a corporation. Lotteries would be held every three months to determine the winning shareholders, who would then receive the high salaried posts in the corporation.

Through these two steps the city administration plans to raise a total of $62,000,000 for relief. Power to levy the tax was conferred upon the city by the Ross bill, signed Monday by Gov. Lehman. Local legislation embodying the tax and possibly the lottery as well will be put through the municipal assembly as rapidly as possible.

NEW U. S. LOANS ORDERED TO PEG COTTON, CORN

Roosevelt Acts for Price Control.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—In an effort to maintain present favorable commodity price levels, President Roosevelt today slipped an indirect peg under the cotton market and acted to reassure the corn market against the price-depressing threat of extensive liquidation of government corn holdings.

CHESTER C. DAVIS.

The Commodity Credit corporation, the President announced, is prepared to make new loans of 12 cents a pound on this year's cotton crop, thereby in effect establishing a minimum price for cotton.

At the same time the farm adjustment administration announced a five month extension of the maturity date of loans made by the CCC on last year's corn crop.

Will Aid Corn Growers.

The latter step will not only give corn farmers further opportunity to meet their obligation to the government and recover their pledged corn for feed purposes, but will enable the government to regulate the marketing of pledged grain in a manner least affecting corn prices.

Although officials of the farm adjustment administration insisted that the 12 cent cotton loan program does not establish a pegged price for cotton, the primary purpose of the new government offer, it was said, is to provide farmers a means of holding this year's crop from the market at a time when heavy seasonal shipments tend to drive the price downward.

Instead of moving the cotton to market with the bulk of the crop, officials explained, those southern producers who so desire may accept 12 cents from the government in the form of a loan and retain, in addition, the privilege of selling the cotton pledged as collateral for the government loan at any time.

Price to Producers Insured.

Although cotton is now selling on the market at about 13.5 cents per pound, the 12 cent loan value fixed by the government will insure producers against having to sell below that figure.

In extending the maturity date of the corn loans which it made last year, the CCC announced that those farmers who accepted the federal advances of 45 cents a bushel and held their corn as collateral under government seal, may release the stored grain at any time by paying 47 cents per bushel.

Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator and a director of the Commodity Credit corporation, in announcing the corn loan extension, said:

"Farmers who took the 45 cent loans on sealed corn in many instances require the corn for their own feeding purposes, and have the opportunity, under the partial release plan heretofore approved, to obtain such corn as they need for this purpose by paying to Commodity Credit corporation 47 cents per bushel for the amount sought to be released.

"The plan announced today makes possible the orderly liquidation of the

Due September 1, 1954

Principal and semi-annual interest (March 1 and September 1) payable at the office of the City Treasurer, ex-officio School Treasurer, Chicago, Illinois, or at the fiscal agency thereof, in New York City. First coupon payable September 1, 1935. Coupon bonds in denomination of $1,000 registerable as to principal only.

Interest exempt from all present Federal Income Taxes

In our opinion these bonds meet the requirements as legal investments for Savings Banks and Trust Funds in New York, Illinois and in certain other states.

These bonds, (part of a total authorized issue of $5,500,000), will refund a like amount of maturing bonds and will be, in the opinion of counsel, direct and general obligations of the Board of Education of the City of Chicago, payable both as to principal and interest from ad valorem taxes levied on all of the taxable real property within the Chicago School District, without limitation as to rate or amount. The Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that the Board of Education of the City of Chicago is a School District, the boundaries of which are coterminous with the boundaries of the City and constitutes a separate corporate entity with power to issue bonds and to provide for the levy of taxes upon all taxable property within the District.

Price 105¼ to yield about 4.35%

NEW 'PRIMING' RUMOR BOOSTS STOCKS' PRICES

Gains Widespread; Trading Volume Doubles.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21.—Vague rumors that another market stimulant is being brewed in Washington turned traders once more to the buying side on the New York Stock exchange today. Gains of 1 to 2 points were run up over a fairly wide area, and the pace of business speeded up to more than twice that of yesterday, sales mounting to around 579,000 shares. Metal, railroad, and farm shares made the best group showings.

The new "Washington pump priming" was the subject of no little guesswork. One published account which came in for widespread perusal apprised the uninformed that some "conservative news" was expected to come out of the national capital, possibly during the afternoon or overnight.

Rumor Rail Rate Boost.

Another report said the interstate commerce commission had decided to approve an increase in railroad freight rates and that the announcement would be made a matter of record before September. One news source diagnosed the display of optimism as being due to nothing more substantial than "the current of inflation talk which intermittently courses through the financial district."

Some of the more favored issues of the rail group sold up as much as 3 points before running into offerings of a formidable nature. Atchison and Union Pacific were the group leaders. Northern Pacific and Great Northern also were strong. Western lines were helped by reports of increased car loadings.

Smelting and silver shares were active and the improvement here amounted to as much as 4¾ points in U. S. Smelting. Alaska Juneau, Howe Sound, American Smelting, Dome, and McIntyre moved ahead 1 to 2 points.

American Telephone Rises.

Farm implements felt the influence of short covering on new buying based on higher commodity prices, less pessimism over drouth results and the presence of inflation psychology. Deere and International Harvester advanced a point each and J. I. Case more than 2 points. The mail order shares, Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward, were moderately active at substantially higher ratings.

In the utilities sector American Telephone, which had been lagging for some time, snapped out of the doldrums and advanced more than a point to a new high for the movement.

The building construction and allied groups were firm and the motors chimed in with the advance. Tobaccos made a fresh show of buoyance on moderate turnover.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today and as no sales were reported spot prices were unchanged at 3.28c. The Washington news that the reciprocal trade agreement with Cuba would be signed on Friday, seemed to check offerings, although it was believed that several cargoes of Cubas could be bought at the quoted price. Refiners, however, showed no interest, except at slightly below this level.

Futures were more active and prices were firmer on the Washington News and reports of prospects of further reductions in the tariff with the market closing 3 to 4 points net higher. Sales were 38,800 tons. Prices:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
September	1.70	1.73	1.70	1.73	1.69
December	1.78	1.81	1.78	1.79	1.76

July	1.96	1.96	1.95	1.95	1.92

In refined a fair withdrawal demand was reported, but new business was only moderate. Prices were unchanged at 4.75c for fine granulated with resale offerings at 4.70c.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Cotton goods were quiet today, with prices holding steady. Wool goods sold in small lots. Silks in the griege were quiet, with buyers hesitant in consequence of threats of a strike. Rayon yarns were in light demand; fabrics sold moderately. Burlaps were quiet.

COTTON PRICES HIGHER IN SYMPATHY WITH LIVERPOOL

Trade in cotton yesterday was slow, but the market was firm in sympathy with Liverpool and on the continued drouth in the western belt. There was also some buying on the report government loans on the basis of 12 to 13 cents per pound would be made on the new crop.

Offerings were light on the way up and hedging sales less in evidence. The finish was at net gains of 7 to 11 points in Chicago and 9 to 13 points in other markets. Renewed talk of a general textile strike tended to restrict operations on the bull side. Spot cotton closed 10 to 15 points higher with New Orleans, 13.35 cents; Galveston and Houston, 13.45 cents, and New York, 13.55 cents per pound. Prices follow:

LARD DELIVERIES RISE TO HIGHEST LEVEL SINCE 1931

New high levels for the season and since 1931 were attained by all deliveries of lard and dry salted bellies yesterday with persistent commission house buying pushing lard up 7½ to 17½ cents and bellies 50 cents for the day. The latter advanced the full limit permitted under the exchange regulations.

Advance in hogs to a new high for the season with the top of $9.20, including processing tax, has increased demand for cured product. Cash lard was quoted at $8.72; loose and leaf at $8.50, and bellies at $12.70. Prices follow:

OCTOBER EGGS DECLINE; BUTTER CLOSES UNCHANGED

October eggs advanced ¼ cent early yesterday to a top of 22 cents on the Chicago Mercantile exchange and a new high for the season. Heavy profit taking developed later, however, and the market reacted to close ⅛ cent lower. Butter closed unchanged.

Bullish statistics again had some effect on the markets with the weekly report on 35 cities showing there was 5,000,000 pounds less butter placed in storage last week than during the same period last year, while withdrawals of eggs were 100,000 cases larger than in 1933.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21.—Weakness again made United States government securities conspicuous in an otherwise strong bond market on the stock exchange today. High grade issues ranged fractionally higher and speculative grades advanced rather sharply as the trading pace was stepped up for a volume approximating $13,672,000.

Allowed to drift along without investment or treasury support treasury issues developed weakness. Federal Farm Mortgage 3s were not heavily offered but there was not enough buying power behind them to sustain the price. Accordingly, they slumped to the lowest level since they were listed. The 3¼s also broke sharply, while Home Owners Loan 4s and 3s eased off. Most of the activity in treasury direct obligations was in the 4¼s.

Ignore Sale by RFC.

The market drew no inference from the successful sale by the RFC of some of the better of its municipal bond holdings. The disposition was to consider the sale as a compliment to the few communities whose securities were reoffered and not as an indication of how the RFC might expect to turn over its portfolio.

Practically all the gains in high grade domestic bonds were made on a few transactions, while a few issues of this type reacted when offerings came in volume. Higher prices were paid for such issues of lower grade as Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s, Chicago North Western 4¾s, Milwaukee 5s of 1975, International Great Northern 6s, Great Northern general 4½s and 5s, New Haven convertible 5s, Nickel Plate refunding 4½s, "Katy" 5s, Postal Telegraph 5s, Philadelphia company 5s, Studebaker 6s, Crown Paper 6s, and Chicago and Alton, Chicago Great Western, Illinois Central, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Southern Railway, and Texas and Pacific issues.

Movie Issues in Demand.

The outstanding development in this type of bond was the insistent demand for motion picture issues, notably Paramount Publix 5½s, Paramount Famous Players 6s, and Warner 6s.

South American bonds were again strong, featuring the foreign list. Firmness was most pronounced in Argentine, Brazilian, Chilean, and Colombian issues. Rumanian 7s advanced sharply on moderate dealings.

Penn-Dixie Cement.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on Penn-Dixie Cement.—K. T.

Answer: Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement corporation is an important manufacturer of portland cement. Its plants are mainly along the Atlantic seaboard, where competition from foreign producers is keen. Annual capacity is more than 12,000,000 barrels.

Both sales and earnings have shown a general downward trend since 1927, reflecting not only reduced consumption of the product, but at times chaotic conditions in the industry. Cement consumption in 1933 was at the lowest point in 25 years, and sales were less than 25 per cent of 1927 peak sales. Improved trade conditions, with slightly higher prices, however, enabled the company to limit its losses.

The company lost $1,370,000 in the 12 months to June 30, 1934, against loss of $1,588,000 for the preceding 12 months. The four year record of earnings follows:

	Net sales.	Net loss.	Loss per com. shr.
1933	$2,736,000	$1,675,000	$6.31
1932	3,477,000	1,866,000	6.85
1931	6,118,000	1,359,000	5.69
1930	8,625,000	*587,000	.91

*Net income.

Although working capital has, naturally, decreased, current position remains strong. Cash of $2,107,000 compared with total current liabilities of $443,000 on June 30, 1934. Capitalization consists of 121,200 shares of 7 per cent $100 par cumulative preferred and 400,000 shares of no par common. Nothing has been paid on the preferred since Sept. 15, 1929.

Missouri Public Service.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly inform me on Missouri Public Service?—A. T. J.

Answer: This subsidiary of Inland Power and Light corporation, part of the Middle West Utilities system, sells electricity to 20,484 customers in Missouri. It also supplies some gas, ice, and water. Operating results have shown more stability than most utility companies, but fixed charges during recent years have been covered by only a narrow margin. Two of the cities served, Trenton and Concordia, have made arrangements to construct municipal plants. In November, 1933, the company filed a revised schedule of rates, which would cut $50,000 a year from gross revenues, with the Missouri public service commission.

The bonds are accordingly regarded as more a speculation than an investment.

Only 95 per cent of charges was earned in the first quarter of 1934. In 1933 charges were covered 1.05 times, against 1.10 times in 1932 and 1.51 times in 1931.

U. S. WILL PEG COTTON, CORN BY NEW LOAN PLAN

Roosevelt Orders Action to Control Prices.

stocks now held under the government loans and, as the needs became manifest, provides that the government retain such corn as the borrower does not need for his own use and make it available where the need for it is the greatest."

The government, however, will retain the right to regulate disposition of any corn released to the farmer in return for the 47 cent a bushel payment.

Will Control Corn Sales.

The producer must agree, it was explained, that he will offer the grain for sale first to any federal agency which may be designated by the Commodity Credit corporation. Should no such agency be named, or should the sale offer be not accepted immediately, the farmer would be free to dispose of the grain in commercial channels, subject, however, to the consent of the Commodity Credit corporation.

At their peak, federal corn loans totaled approximately 121 million dollars, with 270 million bushels pledged as collateral and held on the farms. Liquidations have brought the total held at the present time to about 186 million bushels, with a loan value outstanding of some $85,700,000.

The twelve cent cotton loan program will be carried out as a continuation of the ten cent loan plan and the cotton option pool plan inaugurated by the AAA last year. The Commodity Credit corporation, it was explained, still holds one million bales of cotton under last year's loan program and 2 million bales in the cotton option pool.

Will Increase Old Loans.

Ten cents per pound has already been advanced farmers on these holdings, it was said, and two cents additional will now be advanced in order to bring the government loan up to the new twelve cent level. Approximately 30 million dollars will be required at once to finance the additional two cent payment.

In addition to these holdings the entire current crop of slightly more than 9 million bales and 500,000 bales estimated to be still in the hands of farmers from last year's crop, will be eligible for the twelve cent loans. Should loans be sought on this 9½ million bales, the RFC would have to advance some 581 million dollars, but on the basis of the producers' acceptance of the loan offer last year, officials estimate that total loans under the new program will not aggregate more than 250 million dollars.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

A syndicate comprising Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc.; Blyth & Co., Inc., and Kelley, Richardson & Co., Inc., will offer today a new issue of $1,220,000 City of Chicago, Board of Education, 4¾ per cent refunding bonds, due Sept. 1, 1954. This issue is part of an authorized amount of $5,500,000 issued to refund a like amount of maturing bonds. On Monday a group of Chicago banks offered a block of $4,000,000.

E. H. Rollins & Sons, Inc., yesterday purchased $45,000 of Littleton, N. H., general obligation 4 per cent bonds, due Feb. 1, 1939 to 1947, which are being reoffered at prices to yield from 3 to 3.20 per cent.

The city of Nashville, Tenn., has announced that sale of $543,000 of 4 per cent general obligation bonds has been postponed from Aug. 24 to Sept. 11.

The date for the opening of sealed bids on a new issue of $6,225,000 city of Newark, N. J., has been tentatively set for Sept. 6. Formal advertising of the bonds is to be made soon, pursuant to the refunding plan worked out by Norman Tabor & Co., which also includes the exchange of $6,000,000 of bonds, due from 1 to 12 years, for outstanding temporary tax anticipation and tax revenue notes. Most of these short-term obligations are held by Newark institutions.

The state of Missouri board of fund commissioners are expected to meet this week to set a date for the sale of $10,000,000 of general improvement bonds authorized at the May 15 election. Coupon rate and maturities are also to be determined at the meeting. The last sale by the state was in June, an issue of $5,000,000 road 3s which brought a price of 101.169.

The city of Durham, N. C., will be in the market on Sept. 4 with a new issue of $150,000 of sewer construction bonds. The issue will be dated July 1, 1934, and will mature serially from 1937 to 1973, with bidders asked to name the rate of interest in multiples of ¼ of 1 per cent.

TO HOLDERS OF A CENTURY OF PROGRESS GUARANTEED GOLD NOTES:

You are hereby notified that a distribution of ten per centum (10%) of the original principal amount of said Notes (the guarantees whereof have been released) will be paid to the holders thereof on and after Sept. 1, 1934, by Central Republic Trust Company, Trustee under the Indenture securing said notes.

Such distribution will be made upon presentation of Notes for appropriate endorsement.

Interest on the amount of such 10% payment will cease to accrue on and after Sept. 1, 1934.

Holders of Guaranteed Gold Notes, the guarantees whereof have been released and which Notes have been subordinated, are hereby notified that the interest on said Notes originally payable April 15, 1934 (the time for payment whereof was extended to Oct. 15, 1934), will be paid (without interest thereon) on and after Sept. 1, 1934. Such payment will be made upon presentation of Notes for appropriate endorsement.

Payments will be made at Central Republic Trust Company, Trust Department, Second Floor, 208 South La Salle street, Chicago, Illinois, Windows 51 and 52.

Dated Aug. 21, 1934.

A CENTURY OF PROGRESS,
By M. M. TVETER,
Comptroller.

FEAR U. S. AGAIN WILL TRY CONTROL OF FARM PRICES

The ill fated plan of the Hoover administration to control farm prices through government ownership of surpluses is likely to be tried again if the present attitude of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and other officials is correctly interpreted.

The previous attempt was made when excessive surpluses were depressing prices. Surpluses are now being reduced because of two successive short grain crops, and the government is not interested in raising prices, but in protecting consumers from skyrocketing prices. All of which brings up the question of how the farmer will react to such a program.

The most successful attempt to control prices was made during the war under abnormal conditions. The attempt made during the last administration was a dismal failure and was blamed for preventing a natural correction of fundamental conditions. Farmers always believed that the wartime control of prices robbed them of their just returns, a Chicago grain man said yesterday. He attributed a large share of the agricultural dissatisfaction of the last decade to the war time measures and predicted that another such attempt is certain to stir bitter resentment.

Wheat cutting is now general in nearly all districts in Saskatchewan, the provincial department of agriculture reported yesterday. Threshing, however, is not far enough advanced to estimate the probable yield. In the southeastern portion of the province cutting is nearly completed, while in the southern districts from 75 to 80 per cent of the crop has been cut. Fifty per cent of the crop is harvested in the northern and central districts.

Expectations of yields have varied little from previous reports, and range from poor to a failure in the south, poor to fair in the central and western portions, and fairly good in the east central and northern districts.

Hailstorms during the last week caused damage to crops in the central districts. Some sawfly injury is also reported. Rust is apparent in the north, but no material damage is expected. Lack of rain has retarded pastures.

If Canada carries through her plan forbidding the export of feedstuffs it will cancel the effect, for the most part, of the President's proclamation suspending duties on feeds. Canada has not much feed to spare because of the shortages in her own forage crops. Meanwhile, it is reported from Washington that the removal of the import duty on hay and forage is being held in abeyance until domestic requirements are more clearly defined.

The best reflectors of the feed shortage in some sections in this country are the prices being paid. In Omaha dealers are bidding for corn at the equivalent of 83 cents in Chicago. Nebraska corn is not available and Iowa corn is being shipped into the southwest.

In the vicinity of Springfield, Ill., corn on the farm is bringing a price several cents above the Chicago quotation. The grain is hauled back to Missouri and other states in the drouth area for immediate use as feed.

PRICES OF HOGS AGAIN ADVANCE TO NEW HIGHS

Scarcity of Choice Grades Continues.

New high prices were paid for hogs here yesterday but the advance was not so pronounced as it has been in the last two weeks, and some packing grades weakened on final rounds. Choice kinds were scarce and retained their earlier gains throughout the session, closing $1.30 to $1.50 above Monday of last week.

Better grades of hogs advanced 5 to 15 cents for the day, while packing sows increased in value from 10 to 25 cents on rather limited early buying in "lard" type hogs. These kinds later lost practically all of the first gains, the bulk closing steady with the average of Monday.

Buying lately has switched into better grade hogs because of recent sharp gains scored in packing sows, which, buyers complain, are selling too near the top grades of butchers. Consequently, most traders regarded yesterday's late setback in the market for "packers" as an effort to adjust the spread between classes rather than weakness in the general price structure.

Pork Loins Hold Gains.

The fact that additional gains were not scored in fresh pork yesterday made some buyers dealing chiefly in fresh cuts of pork rather cautious on the new bulge in hogs. Fresh pork continued to move readily at recent sensational gains.

Packers live costs were elevated again, with top grades reaching $9.20, tax included, of which $6.95 was the price farmers obtained for their top hogs on the market, compared with live costs of $6.95 four weeks ago, when the price to farmers was only $4.70.

Yesterday's average including the tax went up to $8.75, also a new high, but of this figure farmers were paid $6.50. The bulk of total arrivals cost packers $8.35 to $9.10, of which $2.25 is turned over to the federal government for processing tax.

Receipts of hogs continued light at most places again yesterday. The run at Chicago of 14,000 compared with 14,393 the previous Tuesday, also a light supply, and with 21,238 a year ago. Only 44,000 head arrived at the eleven leading markets, a decrease of 11,000 from a week ago and 29,000 under a year ago.

Cattle Highest in Month.

Cattle prices yesterday advanced to the highest levels in more than a month. Five carloads of prime 1,190 to 1,276 pound steers topped the list at $10, showing a 75 cent advance over the highest mark last week.

Eastern demand was good and beef stock going on this account was strong to 25 cents higher. Big local houses bought slowly on the rise. Most cattle are selling 50 cents higher than at the close of last week, although some buyers claim they have paid as much as 75 cents more during the first two days of this week.

Yearlings of good quality shared in the rise, with 1,050 pound averages reaching $9. Top hefers advanced to $7.50. Further gains of 25 to 50 cents were scored in calves, carrying selected vealers up to $7.50, the highest since May.

Lambs, too, ruled strong to higher, some best grades indicating a 25 cent advance. Handpicked natives to city butchers soared to $7.40, while packers bought the bulk of best westerns at $7.25. Yearling wethers sold upward to $5.75.

CORN LOANS BEING REPAID AT RATE OF MILLION DAILY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The farm administration reported today farmers who received Commodity Credit corporation loans on corn stored under government seal last fall had repaid to date loans on 84,550,000 bushels. Loans are being repaid at the rate of more than $1,000,000 per day, officials said.

The Commodity Credit corporation also disclosed that farmers have repaid a total of $52,231,309 on stored cotton. Cotton loans by the corporation totaled $141,121,039 Aug. 18, of which $36,995,740 went to the government cotton pool and has all been repaid. Loans now outstanding to individual cotton farmers total $51,893,990.

Bond Traders Hold Caucus; Plan National Association

Delegates from local bond traders' clubs throughout the country yesterday held a preliminary caucus at the Palmer house on a plan to form a national bond traders' organization. Open meetings of the convention will begin Friday afternoon.

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK WILL PUSH BARTER ABROAD

Hopes to Aid U.S. Foreign Trade by Deals.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 21.—The foreign commerce of the United States is to be expanded in the near future, largely on a basis of barter transactions—exchange of goods for goods—Charles E. Stuart, executive vice president of the Second Export-Import bank of Washington, revealed today in an address before the Export Managers' club of New York.

Close coöperation with commercial banks wishing to participate in this business, and also in export trade requiring long-term credits, was promised by Mr. Stuart, who declared that the government was now coördinating much valuable information in this field.

"The bank will grant credit on the merits of cases brought before it, but it will not ignore the factor presented by the desirability of doing business with those countries where definite assurance for the sound increase of American business exists," Mr. Stuart said.

Will Analyze Foreign Accounts.

"In other words, the bank may be a valuable agency in utilizing the knowledge of the status of our accounts with other countries which is now being coördinated by our government. The ability, therefore, to extend credit where it is advisable to do so, and to withhold it for like reasons, rests on an agency thoroughly informed of, and closely participating in, the foreign trade policy of our government.

"As to the attitude of the bank toward exports to countries with exchange restrictions, only by experience can adequate rules of practice be built up to deal with this situation, by all means the most difficult confronting the American exporter today. Quite evidently, of course, satisfactory assurances must be obtained before any such accommodation is considered, attesting that not only the necessary governmental permits for importation into the country have been obtained, but also that exchange permits will be available on or before the maturity of the obligation.

Banks May Join in Loans.

"Commercial banks and financial houses should not lose sight of the promise of the Export-Import bank that opportunity will be given them to participate in these loans or accommodations.

"It is evident that a field of considerable promise opens up before the bank in the effecting of barter transactions, or trading goods for goods, a considerable number of which are now in process of consideration. Some of them involve foreign governments. Most of them involve arrangements between private interests in this country and corresponding interests abroad. The resources of the banks are available whenever financial accommodations are necessary to carry through such transactions.

"The increasing trend toward deals involving barter transactions indicates the need for increasing coöperation between export and import groups. This is recognized to some extent in the code of the National Council of Importers and Traders and other groups of special importers."

MEN—SINCERE

WHO DO NOT ANSWER ADS, BUT WHO DESIRE A CLEAN, HONEST POSITION THAT WILL INSURE THEM A FAIR RETURN FOR THEIR EFFORT, SHOULD INVESTIGATE OUR BUSINESS WEDNESDAY MORNING AT 11 A. M.

You will investigate new ideas, new products—patented—as important as pastuerizing of milk, cellophane, filtering water—offering a permanent and profitable connection for years to come.

Electrical units, air-conditioning units, concealed heating are some of our new products.

We will establish the men selected in a BUSINESS OF THEIR OWN, finance their accounts, consign merchandise, pay the rent, light, heat, stenographer, etc., place them where the business is—pay them weekly—without one cent investment on their part.

This large corporation operates all over the world, and is preparing to expand. WE NEED GOOD MEN, but they must be hard workers—sincere—and have good references. The appeal of one of our products is powerful—beyond your belief—sells itself.

Our books are open for good men to convince themselves beyond any question that many men are earning a dealer comm. of above $100 a week NOW, HERE IN CHICAGO.

Men who can furnish good character references, between the ages of 25 and 45, apply 75 E. Wacker Drive, Room 1007, Wednesday at 11 A. M. ONLY. Ask for Mr. Welsh, Chicago distributor.

HOUSEHOLD
Lowers Loan Cost
Our new rate schedule reduces the cost of all loans above $100 and less than $300 below the rates we have been charging since July, 1933. Our previous low rate on $300 loans continues.
We have 17 branch offices in the Chicago district and do the largest business because:

1. We make loans of $30 to $300 at reasonable cost.
2. We do not question your employer, your neighbors, your relatives or your tradespeople.
3. All of our offices are equipped to handle your business in a private room.
4. We give free, authentic information on managing family incomes.
